HISTORICALBACKGROUND

Introduction to the text

Dating

The copy is dated Thursday, 29 Āb in the year 592 AH, or 1196. The date when the work was composed remains unknown.

Origin and preservation

Saint Catherine's Monastery on Mount Sinai, Arabic manuscript 441. This Christian narrative forms part of a collection of 323 folios. An inscription calls it the 'Book of Mysteries'. The Library of Congress microfilm allows the surviving narrative, its conclusion and the annotations in the book to be followed.

Summary

John recounts the life of Jesus, has him converse with the patriarchs and gives animals a voice. Lazarus comes out of the tomb before a crowd. Jesus then describes the end times to the disciples. At several points, the narrative moves abruptly from one episode to another. Finally, prayers and a lending note shed light on the manuscript's history.

In the name of the Father, the Son and [the Holy Spirit, the one God]. This is the book [of mysteries?] that Christ made known [...] of Zebedee, the beloved. He is John, the brother of James, the eighth [...]. May she be with us all. Amen, amen, to the Lord of the worlds.

In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, the one God, triune in his unity, one in his Trinity, without dissolution or separation. He is first with nothing before him and last with nothing after him, first without beginning and last without interruption, eternal from all eternity, threefold in his properties. John said, as the Holy Spirit had taught him at the beginning of his Gospel concerning the Godhead: ‘In the beginning, the Word was from all eternity. The Word is God, and God is the Word. All things came to be through him, and without him nothing came to be [...]. Life is [that] of men. The light was in the darkness, and the darkness did not grasp it. God, the Most High, did not create what he created by his power because he needed his creatures. He lacked nothing that might have made him wish to create the world in order to derive his perfection from it. God forbid! Rather, God created beings out of love for man, so that all creatures might know his power through the visible things he created. To him be glory and greatness for ever and ever. Amen.

To make his lordship and power known among them, he created, blessed and exalted be he, splendid and luminous heavens, ordered and lofty. At the very summit he placed the throne of his glory. He created the hosts of angels so that they might sanctify his name and praise his power. He divided them into categories. Around his chariot, in the light, [...] four angels. One had something like a lion's face, [...] a human face. Another had something like a bull's face, and the fourth resembled an eagle-angel. The lion and the man bear the throne on the right, the bull and the eagle on the left.

Among the angels are the cherubim, who have four wings. Others are the seraphim and have six wings. With two they cover their faces, for fear of being consumed by the light of God's holiness. With two they cover their feet. With the others they fly and stand beside one another, saying: 'Holy, holy, holy is the Lord Sabaoth, of whom the heavens and the earth are full.' He divided the angels—sanctified be his names—into ten orders.

[...] obedience to his obedience, like [...] the earth. In the first rank are the four great cherubic angels. They do not show themselves to men and cover the throne with their wings. Among them, some listen, others honour, others are sent, and others look, bless and sanctify the Lord's name. All surround the Lord, raising luminous voices. The tenth order surrounded the throne of glory where the light, which is the Holy Spirit, moves, in a light that men do not see and whose radiance offers no passage. At the head of this order was Saṭanā'īl. He gathered in abundance the angels' praises and glorifications and made them ascend to the Lord.

When his understanding opened and he knew himself to be created of fire and eternal light, he was troubled within himself and said: 'Why carry to another the honours that belong to me? Why praise without being praised in return?' He addressed the angels: '[...] a creator, as you claim, let him then create something other than this creation that we have created from his substance.' He meant the rest of the angels. The angels were troubled by these words, which expressed the rebellion of his thought and his unbelief. He continued: 'If, as you say, we have a creator, let him abase me and cast me down from this rank.' His words troubled the angels once more. Only a group that had emerged from the ocean of his light followed him. His insubordination grew still greater, and he said to them: ‘It is not for you to praise anyone but me. Praise and glory belong to me. How great I am, I who am the creator of all things!’

At these last words, he lost his glory, fell from his rank and was driven from his place. The multitude of angels vanished from his sight, and in his fall he could no longer see their ranks. Gabriel then cried out with all his strength: ‘Let us stand in our places in love

View 8 · facsimile

[...] and in joy, with the fear of God and in purity.’ Gabriel, the angel of peace, calmed [...] the angels’ turmoil and strengthened in obedience to him all those who followed him and remained in it. As for those who did not follow [...] Gabriel’s voice, a group of angels from the various orders was cast down with [Saṭanā’īl]. That is why evil spirits take so many different forms. Among these angels, one group fell into the air, another onto the earth, and another descended to the lowest depths. Each of the angels who fell at that moment will remain where he fell for as long as the world endures. The fall took place at the third hour of that day, a Friday.

God created Adam from the four elements of the earth, in his image—sanctified be his names—and in his likeness. He breathed into him the breath of life. Then God planted paradise for Adam in Eden, a place of delights, in the east. He settled Adam there and brought him all the beasts he had created. Adam gave them the names they still bear today. God sent upon [Adam a deep sleep?]. He took one of his ribs and fashioned from it [...] to whom he gave the breath of life. Adam saw God in his substance, [uncertain vision] of the three persons, and rejoiced and exulted in paradise. God wished [...] when he was about to settle him there, concerning the commandment, for he knew beforehand the jealousy of the devil who had fallen from his rank.

God said to Adam: ‘Eat from all these pleasant trees in this paradise. But do not taste of the tree planted in the midst of paradise, nor approach it. On the day you eat of it, you shall die, yes, you shall die. Do not act against my good pleasure. Know that, if you wish to be like these trees of equal stature, you must not break my commandment, for you are in my image and likeness.’ [The reading of what follows is uncertain.] ‘I, [...] the Godhead [...] the tree in the midst of paradise, the cultivator [...]’

‘[...] be like me. On the day you aspire to that, you shall perish in death. Do not therefore seek to equal me, Adam. Do not seek my dignity and [my order?], for you are incapable of it, Adam. Do not ask for what no being can obtain: to dwell in my glory. Beware, Adam, of overstepping my commandment. I would drive you out of paradise to the accursed earth.’

When Satan saw him and considered the kingship and grace that God had granted Adam, he felt a fierce jealousy towards him. The serpent was the most agile of the animals and the highest in rank. Satan came to him and begged him to let him enter him in order to lay a trap for Adam. The serpent consented and served as his temple. Satan took shape within him, and the serpent carried him to paradise. They called Eve, and he said to her: ‘What has the Lord commanded you and Adam?’ She told him the commandment and repeated these words of God to Adam: ‘On the day you eat of the tree in the midst of paradise, you shall die, yes, you shall die.’

Satan said to her: ‘When you both eat of it, you will not die. You will be like God and know good [and evil]. If he eats of it [...] did he not create me after Adam, Eve, making him my head and giving him a rank above mine? Listen to me, then. Reach the forbidden [tree] before him and eat of it. Your dignity will grow, and you will be a god to Adam.’

When Eve heard the words Satan addressed to her, they entered her mind and heart. She looked at the forbidden tree and found it beautiful. She picked a fruit from it and tasted it. She found it delicious. She ran to Adam and gave him some of the fruit to eat. Both took it for themselves. Once they had transgressed the commandment, they found themselves stripped of the garment of light they had worn and hid among the trees of paradise. They then heard the Lord's voice in paradise as he walked there in person. Adam hid so as not to appear before him. The Lord said: 'Adam, Adam, where are you?' The wretched man, overwhelmed, answered the Lord: 'I heard

[...] I am naked.' The Lord said to him: 'Have you [broken] my commandment and eaten the fruit I forbade you? [Has God envied you?] as Satan told you, or have you obtained death, as I told you?' Adam answered: 'Lord, it was the woman you gave me who called me and made me eat the fruit you forbade me.' He said to Eve: 'Why have you transgressed the commandment?' She said: 'Lord, the serpent made me eat it.'

God then cursed the serpent and said to him: 'You shall be accursed among all the animals of the earth. From now on, you shall move upon your belly, and dust shall be your food all the days of your life. Enmity shall remain between your offspring and the woman's. Her children shall crush your head, and you shall bite their heels.'

God then said to Eve: 'Because you resolved in your heart to be above Adam and superior to him, it shall be in pain that you [...] shall be. Then you shall return, and he shall have authority over you.' Then he looked at Adam and his image. [The following wording, concerning stripping and justice, is uncertain.] He declared to him: 'Accursed shall be the earth because of you, Adam. It shall bring forth thorns and thistles for you. By the sweat of your brow you shall eat your bread, until you return to the earth from which you were created. For from dust you were created, and to dust you shall return.'

He drove Adam and Eve out of paradise and made them leave it. He shut its gate in their faces. At the gate of paradise he placed a cherub holding in his hand a spear of blazing fire. He placed him there lest Adam enter, eat from the tree of life planted there and live for ever. If the Lord stationed him at the gate, it was not for fear that Adam might live again. He set him as a veil before the hypostasis of the Word, lest Adam see his image in the hypostasis of Sonship, and lest there cease

[...] of the Son, and the way of salvation and the humanisation of the Word thus be made vain. We read in the holy righteous men and teachers that, during his stay in paradise, Adam contemplated the three holy hypostases and the heavenly glories, in a place where there is neither pain, nor illness, nor dispersion, nor weakness, nor care, nor death.

Upon their fall from the paradise of Eden, the abode of delights, Adam and Eve found themselves on the holy mountain of Rāhibā and the Mountain of Treasures. They breathed the fragrance of paradise without being able to enter it. The Lord had entrusted its keeping to an angel of fire and surrounded it with an enclosure of blazing fire. After their fall, Adam and Eve wept bitterly and lamented for a hundred years. Then they came together. Eve conceived and bore Cain and his sister. A hundred years later, they came together again. Eve conceived and bore Abel and his sister.
When the boys had grown, Adam ordered his sons to present an offering to God. [One offered] some of the fattest lambs of his flock. [The other] offered the poorest ears of grain from his field. Cain was at odds with his brother Abel. He wanted to marry his own twin sister because she was beautiful. But Adam had given her in marriage to Abel and had married Cain to Abel's twin sister. Adam considered that his law did not permit him to marry a brother to his [twin] sister. That was why Cain hated his brother Abel.

So they presented their offerings. God accepted Abel's and disdained Cain's. For this Cain envied his brother Abel, trapped him and killed him. When Cain had killed his brother, God appeared to him from a cloud and said: 'Cain,

Cain, where is your brother Abel?' Cain, his heart hardened, answered: 'Was I Abel's keeper, that I should know about

[...]?' [...] the earth [...] of his murderer. God cursed Cain and said to him: 'You shall live in terror and trembling all your life.' Adam was seized with deep sorrow and affliction and wept for a hundred years over the murder of innocent Abel. When a hundred years had passed since that murder, they came together to have offspring. They continued to beget children until they gave birth to the holy patriarchs. From their line was born righteous Noah, whom God delivered with his children and his family by saving them from the Flood. The greatest of the righteous patriarchs after the Flood was Abraham, whom God called his intimate friend; then came Isaac and Jacob. The descendants of these last two multiplied and endured for many days, until the completion of the five and a half days. For when Adam left paradise, God, glorified be his name, had told him that he would remain for that length of time, first alive and then dead, on the accursed earth. The five and a half days mean five thousand five hundred years.

And Ascalon, ʿĀn, the city of Nain and other such cities. Our Lord Christ then gave an order to a great multitude of Jews. [The transition mentioning a first time and the apostles is obscure.] After the resurrection of our Lord Christ from the dead, Simon the Rock, James and John, witnesses to Christ's mysteries, [...] in an upper room that belonged to James and John. Simon said to James and John: 'Let us go fishing in the lake tonight.' James and John answered him [a reply of uncertain reading, referring to their being with him]. They took their places in a boat of their own. They spent the night toiling, until three quarters of it had passed, without catching any fish.

During the last quarter of the night, our Lord Christ came to them walking on the waters. Seeing him, they said to one another: ‘That figure we see on the water—is it the Lord?’ One of them said: ‘It does seem to me to be he.’ Simon, who was naked, [...] took his loincloth, tied it about his waist and said: ‘Lord, may I come near you?’ God said to him: ‘Come, then.’ He got out of the boat and began to walk on the water. But some hesitation entered his heart, and he almost drowned. He cried for help: ‘My Lord, save me!’ Our Lord held out his hand to him: ‘Simon, doubt entered you, and you were perishing?’ He answered: ‘Yes, Lord.’ James and John turned to make for the shore of the lake. It was at the Lake of Tiberias that our Lord thus appeared to his disciples. They had spent the night there trying to catch fish and had caught nothing.

At daybreak they saw our Lord standing on the water. He called to them: ‘Young men, have you a little food that we might take, something to share now?’ He also said to them: ‘How is it that you have nothing?’ They answered: ‘Since the beginning of the night we have been trying to catch something.’ He said to them: ‘Come with me.’ Our Lord spoke only a few words, such as no one had ever spoken. Only with great effort could they haul in [the net]. When they had drawn it out of the water, they found that it contained—they who did not know what Christ was about to do—a hundred and fifty-three large fish. They marvelled greatly, especially that the net held all these fish without having torn.

They looked to see the distance between the one who had sent them towards the water and the place where they had cast the net. They found it to be two hundred royal cubits. Our Lord Jesus Christ came up from the water onto the lakeshore, gathered the disciples there and said to them: ‘Draw the net onto the land with the fish you have caught.’ They told him that the weight of the net prevented them from doing so. While they were speaking to him about the net and the harbour of Gennesaret, there appeared glowing coals with fish upon them, and [food of uncertain reading] beside the fire.

[...] and much bread with several honeycombs. Our Lord blessed them and divided them among them. This was the third of Christ's appearances to his eleven disciples after his resurrection from the dead. They did not, however, count the times when he appeared to just one of them, to two, to three, or to a larger or smaller number, when they were apart. He appeared to Simon and John and said to Simon: 'Simon, son of Jonah, do you love me?' He answered: 'Yes, Lord, I love you.' He said to him: 'Feed my lambs.' Then he said to him: 'Simon, son of Jonah, do you love me?' He answered: 'Yes, Lord, I love you.' He said to him: 'Feed my rams for me.' He said to him a third time: 'Simon, son of Jonah, do you love me?' Simon was hurt and saddened that our Lord returned to the question of his love. He said to him: 'Your knowledge, Lord, embraces all things. You know my love for you.' Our Lord said to him: 'Feed my ewes for me.'

Our Lord said to Simon: 'Know, Simon, that when you were young, you girded yourself and went where you wished. Henceforth, in your old age, another will gird you and lead you where you do not wish to go.' Then he said to him: 'Follow me.' Simon went with him. Turning round, he saw the disciple whom Jesus Christ loved and to whom he revealed his mysteries. This disciple was following them. Simon said to our Lord: 'See, your brother is following us.' Christ said to him: 'Let him follow us. If I wished him to remain until my second coming, it would be so. Do not object to it. Follow me.' When the Lord spoke thus to Simon, it was not out of aversion to John's presence, but out of love for him, so that he might follow our Lord wherever he went. What our Lord had said about John the Beloved spread among the disciples.

Later, they were hiding in a house for fear of the Jews, who, according to the narrative, were diligently seeking them in order to kill them. While the disciples were sitting there with the doors shut, they saw the figure of a man who had come in among them. They were greatly astonished and said to one another: ‘How did this man come in, when the doors are shut

?’ It was the eighth day after our Lord’s resurrection from the dead. They were seized with great terror. He said to them: ‘Peace be upon you.’ They said to one another: ‘Who is this man who greets us?’ They all rose, went to the doors and found them closed. He said to them a second time: ‘Peace be upon you. I am Christ; do not fear, it is I. Do not be sorrowful or afraid. Come and see, and touch my body. Do not take me for one of the spirits you think you perceive, for a spiritual being has neither flesh nor bones.’ Then he took Thomas’s hand and said to him: ‘Put your finger into my side and touch the place where, on the cross, the Jews struck me with the spear. Feel also the marks of the nails in my hands and feet.’ Thomas changed colour and, at what the Lord showed him, fell face down, his hands trembling. He said to him: ‘You are my Lord and my God.’ Jesus said to him: ‘You have touched the marks on my body. Blessed are those who believe in me without having seen me.’

If our Lord did and said this and allowed Thomas to feel his body, it was because Thomas doubted his resurrection from the dead, even though they had trusted his body. [The following passage, difficult to read, mentions Joachim and then a group of ‘zindīqs’, who refuse to believe in the resurrection.] Our Lord Christ said to Thomas as he touched his body: ‘Thomas, [give up?] this unbelief. I am the resurrection and the life. It is I who cause to die and who give life. [...] I save those who live in me. Woe to whoever calls me a liar, Thomas! Believe now in the resurrection. Know that the dead fall asleep and will rise from the dead at the resurrection. As for Lazarus, Jairus’s daughter and the widow’s son, Thomas, you should have been certain in your faith in the resurrection since you saw me raise these people from the dead before you.

Know that I am sending you to the land of India, to a people [...] whose helpers are many, whose stratagems are strong, whose understandings are clear, whose minds [...]. You will perform signs and wonders in greater number than all the disciples.' All this took place on the eighth day after the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ from the dead. Our Lord reminded Mary, Mother of the Light, Simon the Rock and John the Beloved of it. At the end of the thirty days following his resurrection from the dead, our Lord Christ appeared to Mary, Mother of the Light, Simon the Rock and John the Beloved. He led them to the Mount of Olives, unveiled the mysteries to them and explained things to them from the beginning until the resurrection. He told them what would happen to the believers and to those who would deny his divinity after his ascent into heaven following the resurrection. He made known to them the condition of the new world and what would happen there, the condition of the Jerusalem above and, in the world to come, the ranks of the righteous, the unbelievers and the sinners.

At the end of the forty days following Christ's resurrection from the dead, our Lord appeared to his disciples and said to them: 'Gather on the Mount of Olives.' They assembled there. He appeared to them as one of them and said: 'I am ascending to my height and my glory, to my Father and your Father, to the place from which I have never departed, for I have never ceased to be there. May the Holy Spirit be poured out upon you. When I have ascended into heaven, I shall send him to you to instruct you in the mysteries. He acts through me and gives you [...] for he is of me. He is also with me and with the Father. He is the Holy Spirit. He will rest upon you as the sun rests upon the face of the earth. When he dwells in you, he will teach you all that you need and, because he will dwell in you, you will speak of the great joys without his being separated from the Father.'

Then God looked at them, breathed upon their faces and said to them: ‘Receive the Holy Spirit.’ It was in the likeness of this breathing that the breath of life came into Adam. ‘When the Paraclete comes to you, who is the Holy Spirit whom I shall send you after my ascension into heaven, disperse throughout all the regions of the earth, proclaim the good news on my behalf and baptise people in the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Whoever believes in me and receives baptism shall live and whoever does not believe in me and does not receive baptism will have brought about his own ruin. As for you, in my name you shall cast out demons, speak the languages of the nations, and seize vipers, serpents and lions with your bare hands. [...] You shall drink deadly poison without suffering any harm. You shall lay hands upon the sick and they shall recover, and upon the infirm and they shall regain their health.'

When our Lord had spoken these words in the presence of the assembled disciples, a great radiant cloud enveloped us over the whole mountain. We saw a ladder of fire set up from heaven to earth, and around it twelve companies of angels, the cherubim and the seraphim. Some held in their hands [liturgical objects of uncertain reading] and cups of light with which they offered incense to [...]. At that moment a fragrance rose from the mountain unlike any on earth. It was like the scent of musk, ambergris and the most precious aloeswood. There was fire, a chariot of fire, and around it faces of fire. All ascended towards heaven and descended again towards the earth. We saw luminous angels holding in their hands [objects with an uncertain name] in which incense sweeter than any aromatic substance was burning. The angels' wings beat against one another.

Then we saw the Lord's face grow still more luminous. Compared with the resplendent sun, its radiance was a thousand times brighter. When they saw him, the disciples fell face down in worship. Great fright and terrible fear seized them, and they wept all the more. Our Lord Christ said to them: 'Rise and do not fear. I shall not leave you orphans. Remain in Jerusalem until you receive power from on high.' He came forward, took Simon, James and John by the hand and raised them to their feet. He gave Simon the key of heaven and earth and said to him: 'You are the rock on which I build my Church. The gates of the abode of the dead shall not prevail against it, and it shall not fall until the time of my second coming for judgement.' He also said in that place: 'Some of you shall not taste death before we return to the world a second time. Know that whatever you bind on earth, I shall bind in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth, I shall loose in heaven.' Then he stretched out his pure hand over Peter and all the disciples, touched them and said to them: 'I have given you authority over the whole world. If you forgive a man his sins on earth, they shall be forgiven him. If you do not forgive them, we shall not forgive them. I have conferred upon you authority and the priesthood of Aaron and the illustrious Melchizedek [the construction is uncertain]. I have given you power over the souls of all creatures [...] in the kingdom of heaven. [...] Tell those who believe in me that, for every baptised person who brings one of my priests into his house every forty days and welcomes him with faith, I shall enter that house with him, forgive its inhabitants all their sins and bless them.

As for the man who, after the fortieth day has passed, has not brought a priest into his house, so that no priest has blessed it during that time, I shall not accept his prayer for forty days. [What follows, mentioning contempt and hypocrites, is uncertain.] In forty days no priest will have stayed in his house. That is why I have set my ascent into heaven forty days after my resurrection from the dead. Whoever lays a hand upon one of my priests, I shall burn his hand in blazing fire. Do not disobey my commandments in any way. Love one another and always be devout.

Know that the Holy Spirit whom I promised you will descend upon you ten days after my ascent into heaven.' Then he stretched out his right hand a second time over the Eleven and the seventy disciples. He blessed them, gave them authority like the priesthood of Aaron and conferred great strength upon them. After doing this for the disciples, he flew towards heaven on a chariot of light. At this return, the earth immediately trembled. The mountains shook, the winds began to move, the clouds thundered, the clouds flashed with lightning and the chariot rose, borne by the angels. The cherubim flew with him. The thrones of the seraphim sang the 'Holy', the Powers cried out alleluias, and all the Dominions glorified the Sovereign. Gabriel raised his voice, Michael blew the trumpet and all the angels began to sing praises. The earth trembled as we beheld the face of our Lord Christ flying towards heaven upon the shoulders of the cherubim and upon the shoulders of the winds. We heard a voice from heaven: 'Blessed be this Lord from now and for ever and ever. Amen.' And voices said: 'Gates, lift up your heads! Rise, eternal gates, and let the king of praise and honour enter.' Other voices answered them: 'Who is this king of glory and honour?' And voices said: 'It is the Lord, the Strong, the Mighty.'

Then we heard another voice: 'Unchanging gates, lift up your heads! Rise, eternal gates, that the king of glory may enter.' Again, voices answered them: 'Who is this glory and this honour?' The first voices answered: 'It is the Lord, the Strong, the Mighty; it is the Lord, the king who is honoured for ever.' And we heard a voice like thunder unleashed: 'Ascend to the sound of trumpets. The Lord has ascended to the sound of the horn.' Thus was fulfilled David's prophetic word concerning this ascension.

The disciples said: 'When our Lord ascended into heaven, he stopped at each level of the ranks of angels, which number nine. Each in turn, for one day, they sang his praises, prostrated themselves before him and intoned alleluias. From him they learned what his incarnation had been.' On the tenth day, at the third hour of Sunday, he took his place upon his throne of glory. That is why the Holy Spirit rested upon the disciples on the tenth day after our God's ascent into heaven. When they had seen him rise from the Mount of Olives, they had remained standing until he vanished from their sight.

Then they returned to Jerusalem and stood in the Temple. They next went to the upper room of Zion. The Paraclete, that is, the Holy Spirit, came to them as their Lord had promised them. He descended from heaven upon them in the form of tongues of fire. They opened their mouths and received him. Each of the disciples began to speak a language he knew. They went down from the upper room into Jerusalem. The people of the city and the Arabs who were there at the time heard them speaking in foreign languages and were astonished to hear them speak in this way. The Jews said to one another: ‘These people are drunk. They have drunk wine, and drunkenness makes them speak confusedly.’

When the Holy Spirit entered them, each of the disciples spoke the languages of all the nations. At that moment, the city of Jerusalem lit up. A great light covered it, and many earthquakes and tremors occurred there. Most people were frightened by these signs, and a great multitude of Jews and Arabs embraced the faith. At sunset on that day when the Holy Spirit had manifested himself to the disciples, Zion was filled with an immense light like that of the sun and the brilliance of fire. The disciples, gathered in the upper room, were asleep. They awoke because of the brightness surrounding them and heard voices on every side acclaiming the Lord and proclaiming his holiness.

At that moment our Lord Christ appeared and said to them: ‘Take courage, rejoice and taste rest in advance. I have told you several times that I shall give you whatever you ask. Cast lots among yourselves for the regions of the earth. Let each go to the country that falls to him and call its people to my good news.’ The next day, each told his companion what he had seen and heard. They gathered to divide the countries among themselves by lot. Among those who assembled were Simon the Rock, called Peter, John the Beloved, Andrew, James son of Zebedee, Simon the Canaanite and Jude. To Peter fell Rome, Antioch and all the coasts. To John, the city of Ephesus. To Andrew, the dog-faced peoples and the people of Tarš who, according to the narrative, eat human beings. To Thomas, the land of India, presented as the land surrounding paradise. To Philip, the land of Cush and Carthage. To James son of Joseph, Jerusalem. To Bartholomew, a city in Armenia and the land of Daylam. To James son of Zebedee, the far West, where the sun sets. To Simon the Canaanite, the village of the Jews. To Jude, Bārsīna. To Matthias, appointed in place of Judas who had perished, the land of Sicily and its surroundings.

Before setting out for these countries, they called upon the people of the land of Jerusalem to believe in Christ and repent. They manifested extraordinary wonders and great signs. They ordained seven deacons whom they had chosen and appointed to serve the Temple. Stephen, son of Gamaliel, was their leader. These deacons assisted the disciples by serving them and attending to their affairs. Stephen proclaimed with them the good news of our Lord Christ, and they called upon people to believe in him. [Some people] grew angry and rose up. Gamaliel, Stephen's father, was one of their closest [the meaning of the verb is uncertain].

in the wilderness. It contained twelve springs and [...] with them. Nicodemus taught the Law in Jerusalem. His brother Aflūniyā interpreted the Scriptures and lived in Emmaus. [The construction introducing the list of disciples is uncertain.] Joseph of Arimathea undertook to lay our Lord's body in the tomb and asked Pilate for permission to do so. Nicodemus brought the burial spices from his home. Aflūniyā welcomed him at Emmaus, and he came into his house. As for Stephen, son of the pure Gamaliel, when his faith became openly known and he called upon people to believe, the Jews stoned him in Jerusalem, according to the narrative, until he gave up his soul. His sight was shattered. As he looked towards our Lord in the midst of the stoning, he saw him seated for us in his glory and splendour, in heaven at the Father's right hand. He spoke with him face to face and was instructed in mysteries recorded in the Book of Mysteries called al-Baḥṯān [the reading of the title is uncertain]. And he became [...]

When these years had passed since our father Adam's departure from paradise, the salvation of the whole world was very near, with the deliverance of mankind from the devil's yoke, whose hold upon them had been such that they worshipped idols instead of God. The Lord chose Mary, the Lady, from among all his creatures and elected her. She remained in the loins of the holy patriarchs until the time when she was born of her father and mother, both righteous, descendants of David son of Jesse, numbered among the prophets. When Our Lady Saint Mary had grown, her parents placed her in the service of God's Temple. She lived there honoured above all, and grew and developed there.

When she had finished growing and was living in the city of Nazareth in Galilee, God gave an order to the angel Gabriel. God had chosen him and made him chief of the angels. He had been in the last of their ranks when the mighty and glorious Lord [...] at the time of the fall of Satanael, the archon, with those who fell with him from among the angelic orders. He said to him: 'Go to the daughter of Joachim, who dwells in the city of Nazareth, and tell her that I have chosen her.' The angel Gabriel came to her a few days after the beginning of the sixth month of the year of the world, that is, the month of Ādhār. He stood where she could see him and said: 'Peace be upon you! The Lord is with you. Blessed are you among women, and blessed is he who will be born of you.' He announced to her that the Word of God would dwell in her and also told her of Elizabeth, her barren relative, who would conceive and give birth to John the Baptist. Mary was greatly astonished and said: 'May all that the Lord wills come to pass.' Gabriel returned to his rank in the heavenly heights.

As soon as she had heard Gabriel's words, Mary's belly began to grow and continued to swell by God's grace. News of her pregnancy was reported among the tribes of the children of Israel. The rumour spread in their assembly that Mary, daughter of Joachim, had conceived through misconduct. On this matter their teachers disapproved of what had been concealed from them. They had a water of trial and verification that God had shown to Moses, his chosen one. Among the children of Israel, if an adulterous woman drank this water, her belly swelled, she gave off a foul smell and she perished. The elders of the children of Israel summoned Joseph son of ʿUmar, who had charge of Mary. They said to him: 'Bring us Mary, your betrothed and your cousin, so that she may declare in our presence who has made her pregnant and caused her to lose her virginity.'

Joseph, ashamed before them, went to the pure Virgin Mary. He wept, overwhelmed with sorrow, wishing to treat her gently, so much did he pity her. He said to her: 'O daughter of the Jews, tell me how your pregnancy came about. Tell me who deflowered you.' She explained her ordeal to him in detail in view of what the assembly was planning. She told him of the angel Gabriel's coming, the greeting he had addressed to her and the words he had spoken. Joseph did not accept from her this account [uncertain final expression]. He took her before the elders of the children of Israel and reported what she had said. They led her to the mountain from which the water of trial flowed. When they had given it to her and she had drunk it, her face lit up and became like the radiance of the sun at its height. From the hem of her garment shone a brightness like lightning that dazzles the sight. The whole mountain was covered with it. At the sight of this great sign, the Jews who were there bowed their heads and prostrated themselves before Mary the pure. A great multitude of them believed that the Word had taken up his dwelling in Mary the holy. They praised the God of Israel, who had cared for his people and given them salvation [arising] from David, according to the word he had spoken in his books through the mouths of the prophets.

And the word of the prophet David was fulfilled: 'The waters looked upon you and were afraid, Lord.' When the Virgin Mary approached the place of the water of trial, an extraordinary sound came from it that frightened the Jews present. Such were the signs manifested when Mary drank the water of trial. This was the first work Jesus Christ accomplished while he was in his mother's womb.

As the birth of Jesus Christ, our God and our Saviour, drew near, the emperor Caesar ordered a census of the children of Israel in their cities. Joseph the carpenter, Mary's betrothed, left Nazareth. He took Mary with him and set out for Bethlehem, David's city, to have his name registered there, for Mary, his cousin, was descended from David. Mary was seized with the pains of childbirth. Joseph quickened his pace and brought her into Bethlehem. So intense were the pains that Mary leaned against a cave there, and she gave birth to her firstborn son, the Saviour of the worlds. This is the word of the prophet who said: 'And you, Bethlehem of Judah, are not small in his kingdom [...], for from you shall come the shepherd of Israel.' In the cave where the Virgin Mary gave birth in Bethlehem, there was a hollow containing a small manger. Mary wrapped the newborn child and made this manger his cradle. She gave him the name Jesus, as God's angel had instructed her before she conceived him.

Her midwife was a woman called Salome, who was passing by when Mary entered Bethlehem. News spread through the regions that a woman had given birth to a boy in Bethlehem and that after childbirth she had been found to be a virgin. When Salome the midwife heard this, she doubted. She said: 'This woman has given birth and has been guilty of misconduct among the children of Israel', and she listened to what the Jews were saying. 'Have I no way of examining this woman to find out whether, after giving birth to her son Jesus, she is as they say?' She put her hand into the body of Mary the pure to test her virginity. At that moment Salome's hand withered as far as her armpit, as soon as she had stretched it out. She trembled, fell face down and begged for mercy.

She said: ‘Have mercy on me, O Lady! Have mercy on me, Mother of the Light! Have mercy on me, dwelling of the Light and the Spirit! Have mercy on me, Mother of God!’ The Lady said to her: ‘Ask mercy of him whom you have blasphemed and doubted.’ Salome said to her: ‘Allow me, honourable daughter of our fathers whom I have put to the test, to approach your son. Let the prophecy of Isaiah son of Amoz be confirmed for me, when he says that the Virgin shall conceive and bear a son and that his name shall be Emmanuel, which means “present with us” [...]’ [The following words of the last line are very faded.]

‘Our God is with us. We acknowledge you beyond any doubt as the Virgin, for you are the Lady of women, the mother of the Lord who ordained his incarnation for the salvation of Adam and his offspring. Bring me before the Beloved who took flesh from you, so that he may forgive me the sin I have committed against him.’ Mary the pure took Salome’s withered [hand] and placed it on the newborn child. At that very instant it was healed and regained its former health. Salome sang the Lord’s praises and said: ‘Truly, O newborn child, you are the Son of God. You are he of whom the prophet Isaiah prophesied.’ The child opened his mouth and said: ‘Indeed, in Isaiah’s prophecy, he did not restrain King Ūriyā and did not forbid him to enter God’s altar, so that prophecy was taken away from him for many years and his compassion came to an end.’

‘When he called upon his Lord, I sent him an angel with tongs bearing a pure offering made of the substance of fire. He brought it near him and cleansed him of his leprosy. I restored his prophetic state and prepared him to announce my incarnation from this Mary the pure, whom I elected [...] and chose from among all the women of the world. I wished to take flesh from her to deliver Adam, his offspring and his children from sins and enslavement to the devil. The wonder is not that a strong one overcomes a weak one, but that a weak one triumphs over a strong one.’ [Very faded line.] When Salome the midwife heard the words the newborn child addressed to her, she said: ‘O you who sit at the right hand of the glorious Father! Glory to you, glory to you whom the cherubim glorify!

Glory to you whose throne is in the highest heavens and whose feet rest in the lowest parts of the earth! In your love for your servants, you wished to take flesh as a tiny child and be laid in a small, dilapidated manger. Glory to you, glory to you who fill heaven and whose power fills the whole earth! Glory to you to whom praise and glorification are due! Glory to you whom creatures praise, worthy of gratitude and honour! Glory to you, my Creator, until you are satisfied and beyond! Glory to you who sent your light from Israel your servant! Glory to you, Saviour of the worlds, who illuminate the hearts of [...]!

Glory to you whom the hosts and those who are not hosts among angels and men praise! Glory to you whose name the seas and all that is in them praise! Glory to you, glory to you whose name and glory the sun, moon and stars sing! Glory to you, glory to you whose glorious name, praised by the world, the mountains, trees and rivers sing [...]! Glory to you whose name every breath praises! Glory to you, O Blessed One, who came into the world to save the house of Israel and all the nations! Glory to you who forgive faults, erase misdeeds and cleanse from sins! Glory to you, God of praise with his Father and his Holy Spirit for ever and ever. Amen.'

Beginning of the third narrative. The birth of Jesus our Lord and our God, Jesus Christ, from Mary the pure took place on the twenty-fifth day of the fourth month of the year of the world, that is, Kānūn al-awwal. The angels surrounded the cave where she had given birth and interlaced their wings with one another from heaven to earth. The idols began to fall throughout the whole world, so that Iblīs could not raise up one idol by his tricks without another collapsing. The demons rushed to their leader Iblīs the archon and said to him: 'Our master, what is this calamity that has befallen our dominion? Who is this newborn child who has come into the world and through whom our strength is shaken?' He said to them, trembling all over: 'Do you fear him? Wait a little for me. I shall travel through the regions of the earth and seek the newborn child. I shall bring you news of him, for his affair will not escape me.' Iblīs the accursed flew into the air as far as the lower part of heaven. He lingered there, then travelled through the regions of the earth, seeking the newborn child. He found no information and could not ascertain Christ's birth.

He returned to his companions and found them prostrate, face down in fear. He comforted them and said: 'Do not be afraid. My kingship will not pass away, and I shall not be dispossessed of it [until] the Virgin bears the boy of whom the prophet Isaiah prophesied. He said that the Virgin would bear a son and, after bringing him into the world, remain a virgin in Jerusalem, and that the newborn child, at his birth, would wrest my kingship from me and crush my dominion. Angry with him because of this prophecy, I sent Manasseh son of Hezekiah against him. He sawed him with a wooden saw and removed him from the world. Thus I burned his support before the coming of the one with whom he had threatened me, who is to bring down mine.

But what is happening to us now is among the greatest wonders. Many prophets have been born into the world without our suffering a weakening like the one we are experiencing now. We have travelled through the regions of the world. I rose into the air as far as the vault of heaven; I descended into the seas and rivers, without any news of this newborn child. My kingship and my armies have suffered no weakening comparable to that which his birth has inflicted upon us since the birth of Moses, God's interlocutor and chosen one, who parted the sea with his staff and performed ten wonders in the land of Egypt.'

… of their birth or during their lives as prophets who worshipped God. Yet now I am struck by humiliation and terror unparalleled since I was cast down from the rank I held in heaven. I have travelled the whole earth without learning the slightest news of him. One city remains that I have not searched: Bethlehem, David's ruined city. If a child has been born at this time, he is the child foretold by the prophets. He is the one who will destroy my power. Go, my troops, make for Bethlehem. If the newborn child is there, search the surroundings and look for him. We shall destroy the angels around him in order to rob him of his power.' Iblīs's companions set out to confront the city. They wished to establish their battle position there and attack with their men. Equipped for battle, they gathered around him and marched on Bethlehem.

As they approached the place, they found the angels arrayed around the cave where the child was. The angels had spread their wings from heaven to the depths of the earth. Neither Iblīs nor any of his soldiers could approach Bethlehem or the cave. Scarcely had they advanced towards the angels when arrows of fire like lightning shot from their wings against them. The angels drove them away. The accursed king of the demons and his whole army suffered defeat. He said to his troops: 'Wait a little. I am going to the pastures of Bethlehem to question the shepherds about this event. With them, the news is reliable.' All this took place on the day of Christ the Saviour's birth. When Iblīs approached the shepherds in the countryside, the angelic hosts were with them, and all were singing the hymn: 'In the heights, and peace on earth…

… and goodwill among men.' He heard one of the angels say: 'I bring you glorious news. Today in David's city Christ the Saviour has been born. This is the sign for you: in the cave of the manger you will find a tiny child wrapped in swaddling clothes [the description of these clothes is unclear].' On hearing this, Iblīs fell face down, then returned sorrowfully to his own. ‘I heard words among the shepherds,’ he told them. ‘If they are certain, I am lost, and so are you. I heard that God has become man and has been born of a virgin girl. I cannot believe that my God and my Lord, whom I have angered, would abase himself to the point of descending to earth and placing himself in this condition. Know that from now on you must remain in the surroundings of Jerusalem and Bethlehem until we know the truth about him. If the matter is confirmed, we shall take steps to restore our kingdom, which we have almost lost. For now, I am going to the elders…

They will hide nothing of what I ask them.’ Iblīs hurried away, entered the city of Jerusalem and went to the assemblies of the Jewish teachers of the children of Israel. He appeared in the guise of one of them and began to discuss Christ and the time of his birth with them. He examined the question minutely. They told him that, according to the prophets, the child would be born towards the end of the world in Bethlehem of Judah, and that if the seventy weeks mentioned by the prophet Daniel were completed, Christ had been born. A group of their teachers withdrew apart, including Nicodemus, who knew the Law, and other men among whom was a deacon and martyr [names of uncertain reading]. This implies that Christ has been born. Nicodemus said to them: ‘You know what Simeon the priest told us. When he was translating the books with our fathers, from Hebrew into Greek, for King Ptolemy, he read in the prophet Isaiah that the Virgin would conceive, bear a son and that he would be called Emmanuel. God’s angel came and said to him: “You shall not taste death. You shall remain captive in this world until this virgin gives birth and you see him with your own eyes.” Let us inquire into this story and question him himself in detail. I have not seen him for a long time; let us look for him. If we find him alive, we shall know that Christ has not been born. If he is dead, Christ has been born. For Simeon had told us of the angel who spoke to him when he doubted this truth.' They all went to the Temple and found Simeon there alive. They greeted him. Weighed down by age, he lay on the ground. He returned their greeting. He was weak.

They said to him: 'Blessed old man, is the time drawing near when the Saviour of the world will come, whom you long for and await, you whom he holds prisoner?' Simeon answered them joyfully: 'It is the time of his birth and his coming.' They asked: 'How did you know?' He answered: 'I have felt strength returning to my body. The pains brought upon me by my doubt about Isaiah's prophecy concerning the Saviour of mankind have eased. Anna, the prophetess who dwells with me in the Temple, told me the same thing.' Satan stood among these people. He heard their questions to Simeon and the answers he gave them. These exchanges left him still more perplexed. He returned to his troops. He ordered them to remain near Bethlehem in order to continue investigating the Saviour and his birth. …Temple, in accordance with the law of Moses. They carried the child and had brought with him two young pigeons and a pair of turtledoves. For the Law says that every male who first opens the womb shall be called holy to God, and that his parents shall redeem him with two young pigeons and a pair of turtledoves. When they entered the Temple, Simeon the priest rose, held captive in this life for having doubted Isaiah's prophecy about Christ's birth. Old age had deprived him of all his senses. He prophesied concerning the child, so that the word of the prophet who sang that at the Saviour's coming the lame would leap like a deer might be confirmed. He took Christ in his arms. His eyes opened, he saw him and said: 'Now, Master, you let your servant depart in peace. His eyes have seen your salvation, that which you prepared for the world, for you are light for the peoples and glory for the house of Israel.' He said to Joseph, Mary and the assembly: 'Here is this child worthy of praise. He is established in Zion for the salvation of some and the ruin of others. Whoever…

…whoever falls upon this stone will be broken. Whoever it falls upon, it will crush. Through him many signs and wonders will be accomplished that will bring hearts to life. Because of him there will be many wars. Through his hands strange secrets will be revealed.' Satan was then in the Temple. He heard Simeon's words and was deeply distressed by them. He rejoined his troops and reported what he had learned about the child. He said to them: 'I am suspending my schemes against him until I know whether he comes from heaven or is one of the righteous prophets. Then I shall kill him and remove him from the world.' Episode of the Magi who came to Bethlehem. The kings of the Magi, who were in the East, saw a star in the sky whose light resembled that of the sun. …[beginning of uncertain reading]. They found no star that had changed its place. The astronomers remained perplexed by this phenomenon. They said to one another: 'Let us return to the leaves of the testaments that our fathers left in the king's treasuries. Let us see whether the star is mentioned there, for this matter is obscure.' They took the leaves out of the treasury and found, in Adam's testament to his son Seth, that the Lord was to take flesh among men and dwell on earth. When the time came, a star would appear in the midst of heaven towards the earth. In it one would see a beautiful young girl seated on a throne of light, carrying a little boy wearing a luminous crown. A light would descend between heaven and earth [a few obscure words]. They would have to seek the birthplace of the child for whom this sign would appear in the star and offer him gold, myrrh and frankincense.

These gifts had been brought back by their fathers from the Mountain of Treasures onto which Adam had descended from paradise. Among the kings of Persia, some men volunteered to set out in search of the child. Three kings took thirty thousand men, along with the gold, myrrh and frankincense from the treasury. They travelled west, guided by the star. The length of the journey subjected them to great trials. They travelled for two years before reaching Jerusalem. Their arrival struck its inhabitants with terror. The king of the Jews was then Herod the Nabataean. Messengers were sent to the kings of Persia with gifts. They asked the kings why they had come to Palestine. They answered: 'We have seen and learned from the height of its stations that in the west there has been born a king...

...of great renown. His star, upon rising, guided us and showed us that he had been born in your lands. We have come to prostrate ourselves before him.' Herod understood and said to them: 'When you have found this newborn king and prostrated yourselves before him, come back to me. Tell me where he is, so that I too may go and prostrate myself before him.' They promised him they would. The kings left Jerusalem and went to the place where the star stopped, above the cave of Bethlehem. They entered and found a young girl carrying a little child wrapped in swaddling clothes. At the sight of him, they prostrated themselves and presented their offerings of gold, myrrh and frankincense. Thus was fulfilled the word of the prophet David that the king's daughter, according to the flesh, stood at your right hand, clothed in a garment of worked gold. David also says: 'With myrrh, fragrant resin and cassia you have perfumed your garment.' The gold that the Magi offered the Saviour signified the permanence...

prostrated themselves before him. They were given barley bread as provisions, the only food available [uncertain grammatical subject]. The Lord's angel appeared to the kings and said to them: 'Do not return to Herod. When you go home from Bethlehem to your countries, take a road that leads away from him.' They obeyed the angel. Seeing that the kings were slow to return and learning that they had taken a different road from the one he had asked them to follow, Herod was vexed and reproached himself for his lack of judgement [obscure passage]. Satan entered him. Herod summoned the elders of the Jews to Jerusalem and said to them: 'Where, according to what you know, is the birth of Christ foretold, of whom I heard you speak, saying...

One of them says: "And you, Bethlehem of Judah, are not insignificant among the princes of Judah. From you shall come a king who will shepherd the people of Israel." This king is Christ, and it is certainly in Bethlehem that he will be born.' While Herod was having the Jews assembled to question them about Christ's birthplace, the Lord's angel appeared in a dream to Joseph the carpenter. He said to him: 'Take the child and his mother. The slaughter continued until a multitude of children had perished. The narrative numbers the victims at fourteen thousand. When our Lord Christ arrived in Egypt with his mother, buildings [names of uncertain reading] that had been erected in the city of ʿAyn Šams collapsed, because of the pride the Egyptians took in their magicians' wonders. The terracotta idols were overthrown. Their temples collapsed and their pillars vanished. Christ dwelt there, so that the prophet's word might be fulfilled: 'Out of Egypt I have

Some time later, in Egypt, the Lord's angel appeared to Joseph and said to him: 'Take the child and his mother and return to Palestine. King Herod, who was seeking him, is dead.' Joseph took Christ and Mary, and they left Egypt. Their road led them to the place called the spring of al-Zāwqiyya [the reading of the name is uncertain]. Brigands lay in wait there for travellers in turn, each having his day. From afar they caught sight of Christ, his mother and Joseph. They said to one of their number: 'It is your turn today. Go down and bring them to us.' The brigand went down and saw our Lord on the lap of his mother, who was seated on a donkey. He was seized with tenderness and compassion. He took the child from his mother's lap and kissed him on the eyes...

...on the cheeks and on the mouth. He embraced Joseph and greeted him. He placed the money he carried on Christ's lap and said to Mary: 'May God grant you to keep all that you have.' To his companions he said: 'Charge to my account, as a debt, the share you would have received from these people.' They agreed to his request. Joseph set out again with the child and his mother. The brigand walked ahead of Christ, as though escorting them. As he ran, he suddenly fell face down and his sword broke into three pieces. Christ said to him: 'Titus, pick up your sword and hand it to me.' The brigand gave him the three fragments. Christ took them, fitted them together and the sword became as whole as before. The brigand saw what Christ had done to his weapon and realised that he had called him by name without knowing him. Amazed, he prostrated himself before him, glorified God and said to Christ: 'Lord, let me be...

...among those who are with you and who hold fast to what pleases you.' Joseph thanked the brigand. The latter took Christ's hand and placed it on his head. He then prostrated himself and said: 'My Lord, bless me.' Jesus said to him: 'Truly, I tell you, you shall precede Adam into paradise. It is to you that I shall give the keys that come from the Father.' Another brigand heard him. Confused, he began to mock: 'If this child is one of the sons of the prophets, how can he tell a man who has spent his life shedding blood that he will enter paradise, receive its keys and precede our father Adam there?' Seeing his mockery and laughter, Jesus said to him: 'Know, Dūmaks, that tomorrow, when you are with Titus, [elliptical sentence] if you have not believed the word of your Lord and your God.' The brigand was astonished to hear him call him by name in this way when he did not know him. He said to himself: 'How can this child speak of what is hidden? And these...

...things? Surely he is one of the sons of the prophets.' The brigands then said with one voice: 'We think that it is indeed Christ, the Saviour of the world, who has been born. This child is he, and here is his mother, the Virgin.' They parted. Joseph led Jesus and his mother to Nazareth so that the prophet's word might be fulfilled, that God Most High, upon his coming to earth, would be called a Nazarene. The Egyptian prophet said that God would appear from Nazareth at the end of time, that kingship, priesthood and prophecy would disappear, that the children of Israel would be scattered throughout all the regions of the world and would neither be gathered nor brought back. When Jesus settled in the city of Nazareth, he began to perform wonders. Account of the fifth miracle, performed in Nazareth, concerning the stolen cattle.

Here is one of the miracles with which he began. There was an influential man there, generous in alms and good works. He hoped for Christ's coming and Israel's deliverance from corruption and other evils. Brigands from the village called Upper Qadas stole three teams of oxen from him. This man was called Ṭaṭīnā. He lived near the house where Jesus and his mother were lodging in Nazareth. When he learned that his plough oxen had disappeared, he gave thanks to God: '[Uncertain opening invocation], God of Israel, who shower me with blessings I do not deserve, you who give and take back.' He repeated the words of Job...

...the righteous, in his misfortune. Joseph, Mary's betrothed, happened to meet him and said to him: 'Come with me to Jesus. He will reveal to you who stole your oxen.' He followed him to the house where Jesus was. On seeing him, even before he had been told the matter, Jesus said to him: ‘Ṭaṭīnā, I have learned that you gave thanks to your Lord in your misfortune. Do not be sorrowful. Come with me; I shall show you the thieves who stole your oxen. They are at the foot of Mount Tabor, on which I shall manifest my glory.’ Ṭaṭīnā and Joseph went with Jesus. Upon reaching the vicinity of Tabor, they found the brigands motionless, unable to set out, and their reins…

…unable to retrace their steps. Jesus asked them why they had taken the oxen [the rest of the question is obscure]. ‘Our Lord,’ they said to him, ‘forgive us what we have done. We have done wrong and sinned.’ Jesus answered: ‘I forgive you your sins, if you persevere [in this disposition] and bear witness to Christ and his glory.’ The man recovered his teams, and his faith in Christ grew stronger. Account of the miracle of the stolen fish on the Lake of Tiberias. During their stay in Nazareth, Jesus, his mother and Joseph went to Tiberias on some business Joseph and Mary had there. When they had entered the city, our Lord left them and went to the Lake of Tiberias. As he stood there, several fishing boats approached the shore.

Among the fishermen, one was quarrelling with the others. He said that his companions had stolen all the fish he had caught during the night and had left him there and gone away. [A few obscure words.] They had seen Christ on the lakeshore without knowing who he was. They said: ‘We shall accept this child’s decision between you and us.’ They all got out of their boats and said to him: ‘Listen, child. This man is our companion. He had caught some fish. He is a man without strength, and he suspects some of us. Judge, then, between us all as you see fit. We accept you as arbitrator.’ Jesus said to them: ‘I do not judge between you, children of Israel. Moses son of Imrān gave you his judgements. It is not for me to abrogate them by decisions I might now make. He who legislates thus…

…is above you.' They answered: 'We have accepted your judgement. Decide as you wish; we shall not oppose you.' [Transition of uncertain reading.] Among these fishermen's boats he said: 'Fish that have been stolen, return to your owner's boat.' The fish leapt out of one of these vessels and returned to the one from which they had been stolen. The thief repented [uncertain reading]. The fishermen remained perplexed and marvelled greatly. They said: 'This child is Christ, the Saviour of mankind.' They entered the city of Tiberias and went to where Jesus was. They saw the light shining on his face, heard his words and believed in him. Miracle of the stolen heifer in the city of Galilee. One day, as the God Jesus Christ was walking through a city of Galilee, he saw a thief who had stolen a heifer in Palestine. The owner had caught up with him, and the two were disputing over the animal, for each…

…of them claimed it was his. At the sight of Christ, one said to the other: 'Here is the light of Israel upon this child. He is surely a descendant of the prophets. Let us submit the matter of the heifer to him. If he awards it to me, I shall rejoice in it. If he awards it to you, I shall be rid of our quarrel.' His opponent agreed. They approached Jesus, who was accompanied by Joseph the carpenter and Mary his mother. They asked him to decide about the heifer and brought the animal to him. He said: 'Heifer, speak and tell me who your owner is.' In a loud voice she declared: 'God of Israel, creator of the heavens and saviour of the world, I tell you truly, I am the heifer of the older of these two men. [A few uncertain words.] Yesterday, at the third hour of the day, this young man stole me. He then went away, taking me with him.' Jesus said to the thief: 'You have done great wrong in committing this sin in Israel.' He said to him: 'Forgive…

…me, Christ of God. I am your servant, and I too am the son of your handmaid.' Our Lord Jesus Christ said to him: 'I have forgiven you […] and overlooked your faults. Beware of returning to sin.' The man and his household believed that Christ came from the eternal God. He begged our Lord to allow him to become his disciple. The Lord Christ said to him: 'No one can come to me and become my disciple...' [Sentence unfinished in this passage.] Miracle of the lion lying on the road to Jerusalem. Jesus left Tiberias to go to Jerusalem with Joseph. In Galilee, Joseph turned aside [uncertain reading] and saw a lion lying down that had suffered a serious wound. He returned to Jesus, his colour changed and his heart troubled. Although he already knew the answer, Jesus asked him: 'What is the matter, Joseph?' He said: 'I saw a lion lying in the middle of the roadway on my path. I drew back, so much did I dread and fear it.'

Jesus said to him: 'Do you not know, Joseph, that it is I who created all the wild beasts and the others? Have you not read in David's prophecy: "Mine are the animals of the wilderness and all the wild beasts of the earth, with those who inhabit it"?' Jesus immediately went with Joseph to the place where the lion was. Standing before it, Jesus ordered it to turn towards Joseph to make his identity known to him [the beginning of the command is uncertain]. The lion left the place where it lay and prostrated itself before Christ the Saviour. The beast spoke in eloquent language: 'You are the God of Israel, the King of kings. It is you who created all things. At your command they came into being.' Amazed to see the lion speak of these great things, Joseph prostrated himself before our Lord Jesus Christ and said to him: 'Son of God, have mercy on me.' Jesus answered him: 'Joseph, do not marvel at this miracle. You will see still more and know with certainty...

...that I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, as my messenger said [uncertain end of clause].' Jesus said to the lion: 'Go into the wilderness, far from the highway.' The lion cub bounded into the wilderness. Our Lord took Joseph by the hand, led him up Mount Tabor and showed him things of his power that he had never shown him before. From there he returned to Nazareth. Miracle of the flooded field. Jesus was walking on the road to Nazareth with Joseph. People from the city had joined him. An inhabitant of the village called Nablus came to meet him. He was weeping and saying: ‘My Lord and my God, have mercy on me.’ Jesus asked him what was the matter. ‘Lord,’ he said, ‘I had a field that I sowed in equal shares with a Samaritan. The waters flooded it. The Samaritan’s son [...] by a trick. I am of humble condition. I am not like him [...]. I am poor; I have only the clothes I wear.’ Jesus said to him: ‘Do you believe...

...in the living God?’ The man answered him: ‘I believe in Him [...] over all things, who has power over all things.’ He added: ‘You are Christ, the Saviour of the world.’ The Lord Christ said to him: ‘Come with me and show me your flooded field.’ The man led him there. Jesus looked at the field, which had become a sea. At this sight the farmer wept all the more and wished to return home utterly dejected. Jesus said to him: ‘Listen, do not grieve if you believe.’ Then he rebuked the water standing in the field and commanded it to return whence it had come. Then [a few obscure words] a cloud formed. As it rose, smoke went up from the field. The earth dried. The shoots appeared in all their beauty and, at that very hour, became covered with ears of grain. Our Lord...

...Christ said to this man: ‘Have you the heart to harvest your field now?’ He answered him: ‘Yes, my Lord and Lord of the earth that obeyed your command.’ [A few uncertain words.] Jesus Christ said to him: ‘Raise your head and see what has become of your field.’ He raised his head and saw the ears of grain in the field. He gave great glory to God. The people gathered there believed in the Lord Christ and proclaimed with one voice: ‘You are Christ, the Son of God of whom the prophets spoke.’ The owner went and told the people of his village, and they believed in him. He asked Jesus for permission to follow him. Jesus refused him and said: ‘Remain in your faith. Do not deny what your eyes have seen.’ This man bore witness to Jesus [a few obscure words] and recounted his wonders. Through

They said to Jesus: 'Master, do you see the nobility and arrangement of this building?' Jesus answered them: 'When you see that I perform works without equal, will you still not believe?' He looked inside the Temple and saw there an image with four faces, in the form of a figure composed of a man, a lion, an eagle and a bull. He asked the Jews what this four-faced image was [the following expression is uncertain]. He said to them: 'Do you not know that it represents […] through the various kinds of beings?' They answered that they knew. He said to them: 'If I command these figures and images to become living beings endowed with speech, will you believe that the Son of Man exercises his power over all things and that my authority […]?' …the carpenter.' Jesus said to them: 'If I do not do what I have told you, if I do not command this figure to speak, then know with certainty that I am the son of Joseph the carpenter, as you have said.' They answered him: 'Do what you say. We wish to see you and thus learn that you are Christ, the Son of God awaited for the salvation of the world.' Our Lord turned towards the four-faced image and said: 'It is to you that I speak, ancient golden image. Let a spirit enter you, let you be endowed with senses, and come down to the ground where we are.' The image descended and said: 'You are Christ, the Son of God, the God of heaven and earth.' He then said to them: 'Go to the cave where the fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob rest, and those of their ancestors long buried with them. …of my coming into the world, so that all together you may know who I am, whence I come and where I am going.' As soon as our Lord Christ had addressed these words to the figure, thick darkness covered the earth in Jerusalem. There was a violent earthquake, brilliant lightning and a storm wind. The inhabitants of Jerusalem fell face down. Then the darkness dispersed. The people saw that the image had become a living being endowed with speech and had descended to the ground. The man, lion, bull and eagle sprang out of it towards the tombs of the fathers who rest with Abraham [a few uncertain words]. The eagle went to Moses's tomb. They summoned them all to the Temple as our God Jesus Christ had commanded. They were there in an instant, in the sight of all those of Israel who were present. Father Abraham spoke: 'People of the assembly, I am Abraham, your father. Here are my sons Isaac and Jacob, and here is Moses, the great prophet. We are here, with the fathers whom you see with us, to recall the memory of him whose divinity you have denied. Obey him and receive his command.' He then invited Moses to speak. Moses said: 'My brothers, children of Israel, I am Moses, who brought you out of Egypt with a mighty hand. It is I who struck Egypt with the ten plagues, I who parted the sea, brought your father out of it and drowned Pharaoh and his troops. All the signs I performed, I performed through the strength of the one who is among you.' He pointed with his hand to the Lord Christ, saying: 'It is he who spoke to me from on high. It is he who, in the wilderness, sent down manna and quails for you. It is he who brought water forth for you from the dry rock. His light blazed forth and he became like the sun. The children of Israel who were there looked at this brightness and fell face down. It is I who buried Abraham, Moses and the other fathers who have risen from their tombs. [Words of commission, partly obscure.] In the land of Jerusalem, call upon people to believe in Christ.’ The Jews rejected the fathers and did not believe in them. They threw stones at them and said to them: ‘You are the magicians who accompany Jesus. Magicians from Egypt do more than the things done by this carpenter’s son.’ Jesus said to them: ‘If you ill-treat these eminent and pure fathers and stone them, I have [...] in store for you on the day of the Resurrection, the day when I shall exercise [judgement] with my troops, the purified angels.’ On hearing these words, the Jews threw stones at him. She must be stoned to death. Bring her for judgement and carry it out here before me. Let the first to throw a stone at her be the one among you [who…] her act.’ They led the woman to the place of execution and gathered stones. Our Lord bent down again and traced signs in the earth with his finger as before. When he raised his head, he saw none of the Jews who had brought the woman. She stood alone at the place of execution. He said to her: ‘Woman, where are those who wished to stone you?’ She answered: ‘Lord, they fled from your pure face.’ Jesus said to her: ‘From now on, take care of yourself. Our Lord Christ passed through Samaria to visit the tombs of the fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. He saw a woman standing beside a well, drawing water from it. He approached and said to her: 'Give me a drink of the water you are drawing.' The woman answered him: 'How could I give you a drink? You are a Jew and I am a Samaritan. Samaritans and Jews do not associate with one another; they regard one another as unclean.' Our Lord Jesus Christ answered her: 'If you knew who I am, you would ask me to give you the water of life to drink.' She said to him: 'I ask you for it. Where is the water of life? Jesus said to her: 'Truly, I know all things. As for the four husbands you had before the one who is with you, the first was called Šāliyā, the second Nūḥā, the third Abwā and the fourth Hēlūt. This fifth one is called Farsīnā.' The Samaritan woman said to him: 'Tell me, how do you know my husbands' names?' Jesus answered her: 'Know that I knew you before your birth, [obscure passage mentioning] your parents, Salāfil and Naḥyā.' Episode of his passage through the city of al-Ğawl. Our Lord and our God Jesus Christ passed through the city of al-Ğawl, which is called Tiberias. There he saw Simon by the lake with Andrew. Both were fishing from a boat. Simon cried out in fright. Jesus said to him: 'Come to me. From this day on, I shall make you a fisher of men instead of fish.' Simon was astonished that our Lord called him by name, although he did not know him. Jesus said to him: ‘Simon son of Jonah, do not marvel that I called you by name when you did not know me. You will see a still greater sign. Our Lord Christ was passing through the city of Nain with his disciples Simon, Andrew, John and James. There they saw a procession carrying a dead young man. The deceased was the son of a widow named Barša'a Sabyā [uncertain reading], descended from the prophets. Her dead son was called Jonah son of Sālim. The narrative continues his genealogy, mentioning in particular Rāḥī and the prophet Jonah son of Manī [several names and the precise relationships remain uncertain]. The widow had no child other than this dead man. Jesus called out to the people accompanying the procession: 'Relieve your shoulders of this dead man, the descendant of the prophets whom you are carrying. My power must be manifested in this city.' They laid the dead man on the ground. Jesus approached and said: 'Jonah son of Sālim, awake. I have abolished death and sin for you.' The dead man rose and sat up on the bier. Without returning home, he opened his mouth and said: 'In you I have believed, Jesus, Son of the living and eternal God...

He leapt off the bier and, instead of returning home, followed our Lord Jesus Christ and became one of his disciples. ...by our Lord Christ in Jerusalem, and of the animals that sing his praise. Our Lord went to Jerusalem to attend the Feast of Tabernacles. He saw a man crying out and sobbing for his brother who had died that day. Turning wholly to God, he cried: 'Lord, send the one whom you send us for our salvation. We are dying in our sins. See, Israel has died in sin. Have mercy on him, God of Israel.' Jesus said to him: 'Do you believe in the one who will restore your brother to life?' The Jew answered: 'The one whose coming I await for our salvation is Christ. He is the God and Saviour of Israel. When he comes, I shall believe in him.' Jesus said to him: 'I am Christ the Saviour. I am [...] of the world. I am the Son [...] whom the prophet Daniel beheld upon the clouds of heaven. I am [...] the Ancient of Days, who enveloped Jerusalem with his two wings [...]'. Jesus said to him: 'Lead us to your house.' When they arrived, a great many goats came out of the house to go to pasture. ...'I have freed you from servitude. No one shall be able to exercise ownership rights over you, from this day until my second coming. Go, multiply and fill the deserts with your offspring. You shall be witnesses against this difficult nation.' Our Lord entered the house and saw the dead man of whom his brother had spoken to him. The name given is Balġansān [reading and referent uncertain]. Our Lord Jesus Christ addressed the dead man: 'Israel, rise from the dead!' Israel rose like a man waking from sleep. He threw himself at Jesus's feet, prostrated himself and said: 'You are Christ, the Son of the living and eternal God.' He followed him and never left him again. The Jews and Samaritans saw the three miracles Jesus had performed in an instant. They were confounded and never ceased to marvel at them. They said to one another: 'If he is Christ, the Son of God for whom we hope [...], his authority will endure for ever. God has willed it so, as our father Jacob, Daniel and Isaiah foretold. They said that his kingship would never disappear and that...

...nothing would bring it to naught, for he has no end and precedes the beginning. But if he is a magician who performs these signs by a spell, his magic will be brought to naught as that of Yannis and Yambris was before Pharaoh and Moses. They could not stand.' Others said: 'He is the Son of God, the Saviour of whom the prophets spoke. If he were not, he could not raise the dead, cause animals to obey him, speak with his permission in intelligible languages and comply with his commands. I have not heard of a beast having spoken since Balaam, who went out to curse the children of Israel and whose she-ass spoke to him.' Dissension about Christ arose among these people. Some hurried to Jerusalem and told the priests and teachers of the wonders they had seen and that our Lord had performed upon Israel, whom he had raised from the dead. They gave the people this order: 'When you see him in Jerusalem, let us know.' When Jesus Christ entered Jerusalem and the priests learned...

They gathered around him while he was in the Temple with his disciples. 'Good master,' they said to him, 'we know that God has sent you. No one can perform such signs or wonders like those you have performed among us. Tell us by what authority you perform these signs, who your father and mother are, and of which tribe you are. If you come from the tribes of prophecy, it is for you to perform such wonders.' Jesus answered them: 'The signs I perform, I perform by the authority of my Father who is in heaven.' At these words they seized stones to stone him. 'What wrong have I done to deserve being stoned?' Jesus asked them. 'People of Judea, know that I am the man [your people] awaited. From now on I am sending my apostles to the foreign nations to call them to faith. They shall prostrate themselves before my apostles and before me, with my Father and the Holy Spirit, for ever and ever. They shall humble themselves to servitude. As for you, [you shall know disappointment?].'

One day our Lord and God Jesus Christ went to the land of Events [uncertain name], in the territory of Jerusalem, with Simon, Andrew, James and John. There he saw an old man in tears saying: 'Lord, give me the means to pay my debt.' Christ asked him: 'What is the matter, old man? What is your debt?' 'How would telling you help me?' 'You will benefit, Zakī, by telling me your distress, for I am master of wealth and poverty. Whoever turns to me will never be in need. It is I who call.' On hearing Christ call him by name without knowing him, the old man rushed towards him, prostrated himself and said: ‘Have mercy on me, Lord, and deliver me from my debt. I had an olive plantation in…’

…one of the villages of this region. I had crops. This year they withered because of the snow, and I remain in debt for a sum I borrowed against the proceeds of the harvest.’ Our Lord asked him how many olive trees he had in his field. Zakī answered that he owned a hundred and forty olive trees in a single field. ‘Bring me an olive branch,’ Jesus said to him. Zakī brought him a branch from one of the withered trees. Jesus took it, blessed it and said: ‘Go, old man, plant it in the middle of your field. From it your wealth will come. Know that this branch will become a tree […] with branches […] for as long as the world endures. It will contain a store of oil through which the peoples […] of the ends of the earth will be blessed, and they will rejoice greatly in it. Whoever takes wood or leaves from this branch and puts them in his house will see blessing abide there. The inhabitants will fear no ruler there. If someone enters a ruler’s presence […] with leaves from this branch, trembling will seize him until [the visitor] leaves him.’ The old man named Zakī took the branch from our Lord Christ’s hand and planted it in his field. It grew at once, became covered with leaves and bore fruit. The old man saw it, was filled with admiration and marvelled at our Lord Christ’s blessing. ‘Truly,’ he said to him, ‘you are Christ, the Son of God.’ He took his leave [uncertain reading], returned home and told his household the story of Christ and the signs he had witnessed. They all believed, and many Jews at that time [believed] too. When the fruit ripened, the weight of the olives produced by this branch was such that every day for twenty-nine [days] they carried away the load of forty men, until they filled a building containing ten presses. Even the smallest olives it had borne were bought…

The fruit of this branch made Zakī wealthy. After harvesting the olives it had produced, Zakī went to find Christ. ‘My God and my Lord,’ he said to him, ‘I thank you for all you have given me. I thank you for the favours you have granted me.’ He told him what harvest he had obtained from the branch and said to him: ‘Lord, how much you have given me!’ Christ answered him: ‘Know that this branch will give you a harvest like this year’s every year.’ The wonder he performed near Rachel’s tomb. One day Jesus left Jerusalem for Bethlehem to visit the tombs of the children Herod had killed. On the way he saw a group of chief priests and scribes. ‘Where are you going, children of Israel?’ ‘To Bethlehem,’ they told him. ‘Why go to Bethlehem, tree of falsehood? It is to Rachel’s tomb that you wish to go.’ He walked with them to Rachel’s tomb. He said to them: ‘If I called Rachel who [bore?] Joseph, and she rose from the dead and came out to the entrance of her tomb, would you believe in me?’ They answered: ‘We know well that you are raving. Do what you have said, then, so that we may see it. If you do it, we shall know with certainty that God sends you, that you are his Christ and the saviour of Israel.’ Christ said to them: ‘Children of vipers, people of evil, who taught you to flee the punishment to come? From now on, perform deeds that bear within you the fruit of repentance. When you have done this, it will be for you to ask for signs. Know that all your prophets testify against you concerning your rebellion.’ Then he said to them: ‘Shall I not raise from the tombs, with Rachel, her sister Sarah, Abraham’s wife?’ When they heard these words…

from Jesus’s mouth, they were so bewildered that they fell face down. Jesus stood apart, drew strength from his spirit and called out in a loud voice: ‘Sarah, and you Rachel, and you Rebekah, it is to you that I speak! Rise from the dead, rise from your tombs and come to me.' At once the earth trembled. A great crash was heard. The rocks covering the tombs of these holy mothers split apart. Sarah, Rachel and Rebekah came out and stood before Jesus, radiant as the sun's rays. Jesus said to them: 'People of Judea, children of vipers and of sin, raise your heads and look at these women.' They raised their heads but could not look the holy mothers in the face, so brightly did the light shine upon them. Sarah spoke. 'Children of the sons of Jacob, why have you denied and rejected the Saviour who has power over life and death? It is he who came to Abraham in the wilderness, in the tent, in utter solitude. It is he who foretold Isaac to me. He saved my son Isaac from sacrifice by redeeming him with a ram that had not been born. It is he who went from Abraham's dwelling to Sodom and Gomorrah. This figure is the one who sat upon the patriarch Abraham's jujube tree and blessed him [uncertain reading]. It is of this figure that the prophets foretold that he would save Adam and bring him back from death. It is he who created heaven and earth. It is he who appeared to Jacob on the ladder. It is he whom the prophet Moses saw on Mount Sinai and who commanded him to go to Egypt to deliver Israel from servitude. It is he who performed all the miraculous, wondrous and great signs. Believe in him, then, and prostrate yourselves before him.' When she had finished speaking, our Lord Jesus Christ [said]: 'Children of Israel, children of sin, hearts of stone, will you soften...'

A new people will be born to glorify the Lord.' Then he glorified God and said to Sarah, Rachel and Rebekah: 'Return in peace to your dwellings.' At his word they returned to their tombs. They [saw] this great wonder and did not believe in him. The wonder of the cucumber field in the land of Caesarea. One day our Lord Jesus Christ was travelling through the territory of Caesarea in Palestine. Several disciples were following him. He saw a man standing in a cucumber field, weeping, lamenting and beating his head and face. ‘What is the matter, my friend? Why are you weeping?’ our Lord Christ asked him. ‘I am a poor man in debt. I own this cucumber field, and it has withered; I have lost it.’ ‘How was it lost?’ ‘Through hail. By the living [God] of Israel, only three plants remain to me.’

‘Where shall I find the means to pay my debt? What shall I live on? This was the season we were waiting for.’ Jesus answered: ‘Pull up the three remaining plants and bring them to me.’ The man obeyed him and laid them [...]. Jesus received them from his hand and blessed them. ‘Take them,’ he said, ‘and plant them where the destroyed cucumber field was. Do not leave it [...] the sowing season, for God, glorified be he, has blessed these three plants.’ The man followed Jesus Christ’s command. The three plants flowered as soon as he put them in the ground and spread over the open space. The man obtained from them as much as the produce of all the cucumber fields in the land that year, throughout Palestine. He paid his debt, restored his affairs and still found himself with four thousand dirhams. He took them and went to Jesus. ‘I have paid my debt, O my [master], and restored my affairs. four thousand dirhams. I have brought them. What do you command me to do with them?’ ‘Go and spend them on the poor until not a single one remains to you.’ ‘I went, Lord, and did [what you asked me].’ ‘You have done well,’ Jesus said to him. ‘Follow me.’ He followed him and became his disciple. His son was one of the Seventy. Through his ministry a great multitude, from among the children of Israel and elsewhere, believed and received baptism. The first to believe through this disciple’s ministry were the inhabitants of Ascalon. The woman who approached Christ’s garments. Our Lord was travelling through the land of Galilee. His disciples accompanied him amid a great crowd of disciples. He said to them: ‘The kingdom of heaven has drawn near to you; receive it.’ A woman of Israel, descended from Abraham, the friend of God, saw him. She was called Yūsufnā and had been bleeding for twelve years. She said to herself: ‘It is not fitting that I enter the midst of the crowd to ask the master to heal me. For the law of Moses says that any woman who enters the assembly while she is menstruating must be stoned to death. But I wish to find a way to enter, draw near and touch [...]. The moment I approach, I shall be healed of this terrible affliction.' She made her way through to him and grasped with her hand the edge of the garment he wore. At once she was healed and the blood she was losing ceased to flow. Our Lord Christ asked those around him: 'Who has come near me?' Simon the Rock answered him: 'Do you not see this whole crowd pressing around you to hear your good words? And you ask who has come near you!' When the woman heard the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, she approached him...

...from afar, prostrated herself before him and said: 'Have mercy on me, Son of the God of Israel. It was I who came near you, and I was healed of the affliction from which I had suffered for twelve years.' Our Lord Christ said to the crowd: 'In Israel I have found no faith like this woman's.' He said to her: 'Your sins are forgiven you [...] this time [...] and this will not pass away.' Some asked themselves: 'Who forgives sins except the God of Israel? Is this not Mary's son, whose father is Joseph the carpenter and whose brothers are our brothers?' Jesus perceived their words. 'People of Judea,' he said to them, '[...] of you, and my brothers are your brothers. Joseph is not my father; he is my intimate friend.' He gestured towards the rock where there were [beasts with branching antlers?]. 'It is to you that I speak, wild beasts. Come here and tell this crowd whence I am, whence I came into this world and where I go upon leaving it.' The gazelles came running and prostrated themselves before him, the Saviour of the world, to everyone's astonishment. They opened their mouths and spoke clearly, in a language like that of men. 'You are the God of Israel,' they said to them, 'you are the creator of heaven and earth.

You are the one who spoke through the mouths of the prophets.' Astonishment grew among the seven thousand four hundred and eighty-two men present, not counting women and children. Amazed, they believed in our Lord Jesus Christ and cried out with one voice: 'Yes, he is the Son of God, the God of Israel, Christ sent for the salvation of the nations! It was of him that Moses prophesied, saying that at the end of time God would raise up a man from among us to gather the peoples to him.' Our Lord said to the gazelles: 'Go, return to your pastures. No one shall have power over you.' The gazelles returned to the wilderness at that very instant.

The wonder Christ performed for the mute leper in the land of [Jazār]. One day, while passing through that land, Jesus saw a mute leper sobbing with his hand raised towards heaven. 'What makes you weep, my friend, now that your Saviour has come?' The man gestured to him to approach. Jesus placed his hand upon his tongue. At once he spoke, prostrated himself before him and said: 'You are Christ, the Son of God.' Jesus asked him: 'What do you wish now? Go in peace.' The man answered: 'My Lord and my God, have mercy on me. They point at me in Israel. No one will give me bread to eat. On the contrary, they repel me when they see me and drive me away [...]'. Our Lord said to him: 'Go to the pool of the spring of Siloam, wash yourself three times in its water and say each time: "In the name of the Father, amen. In the name of the Son, amen. In the name of the Holy Spirit, amen, eternal life, creator of all things for all ages." When you have done this, you will be healed of your affliction.' The man immediately went to the spring of Siloam and carried out what our Lord Christ had prescribed. He was healed at once. When he appeared in the assemblies of the Jews, he was asked who had healed him. 'Christ, light in the world, healed me.' 'When?' 'On the Sabbath.' They said to one another: 'This man has broken the Sabbath and abolished the Law. He deserves death. Let us go and find him.' The chief priests and teachers said to the people: 'When he comes to Jerusalem, let us know.'

The leper answered them: ‘This is what I declare. I was leprous, deaf and mute, and this man healed me. If he did not have great power, he could not have healed me. Since the time of the prophets, we have heard of no one performing such healings…’

If sin has become yours, it is because you did not recognise me. Children of vipers, have you not heard this prophecy of David, who speaks in the Holy Spirit? “The stone the builders rejected has become the head of the building. This word comes from God, and it is marvellous in our eyes.” Children of vipers, you say that whoever insults his brother incurs no penalty. I say that whoever calls his brother a fool incurs the fire of Gehenna. Children of vipers, you wash the cup and clean it, but turn away from the precepts of the Law. You pray in the squares and make a show of the [hems] of your garments

Our Lord stayed in these borderlands. For four and a half years, the inhabitants of Galilee and Judah sowed and toiled. The locusts came and devoured what they had sown [...]. The inhabitants of these regions suffered a terrible trial and a famine so severe that most perished. At the end of these four and a half years, a group of the children of Israel assembled. 'If this man whom we see is Christ, the Son of God,' they said to one another, 'he can remove this plague from us. Let us go and find him.' Nicodemus said to them: 'No one can do what this man does except someone who comes from

'Good master,' he said to him, 'I know that God has sent you into the world and that you are the Word of God and his power. In this land where we are, the scourge of drought and locusts has fallen upon us [...] in the wrath we have incurred. Have mercy on our community and turn aside your anger. We are perishing, and innocent people have died from it.' Our Lord Christ answered: 'If the children of Israel had turned back from their evil deeds, my punishment would not have reached them. How often I wished to gather them under my obedience as a hen gathers her chicks! They did not accept my judgement.' Nicodemus said: 'I am worthy [of what is asked?]', then: 'Give the command, then, good master.' Our Lord Christ said to him: 'When the Sabbath comes, I shall command this plague and this wrath to depart from them.' Nicodemus asked him: 'Is it good to do work on the Sabbath?' 'Which is better in your eyes: to keep someone alive on the Sabbath, or to see him die?' 'His life, Lord.' Christ continued: 'The master of the Sabbath may do with it as he wishes. Nicodemus, the Sabbath was created for man, and man was not created for the Sabbath. The Son of Man has authority in heaven and on earth. He saves many souls on the Sabbath. Do you not know that I commanded the prophet Elijah to flee Queen Jezebel? He obeyed me when I commanded him to walk forty days and forty nights. Because he applied himself to my command and [...] to the Sabbath, I delivered him from King Ahab and Queen Jezebel.' Astonished, Nicodemus said to himself: 'This man does not speak like other men, and his words are not those of a young man of twenty.' Indeed, our Lord was then twenty years old from his birth in the flesh of the Virgin Mary, the pure, the holy. Christ, the Son of God, commands you, wild beasts, to cause no harm or damage in this land.”’ The people of Ascalon returned home with one of their number named Nathanael, from Cana in Galilee. At the borders of the land, he spoke the words Christ had commanded. Immediately countless beasts crowded around him. He stretched out his hand, stroked them and said to them: ‘Leave this land according to the command of Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of the world. Blessed be his name; he will not withhold your sustenance from you.’ All bowed their heads after prostrating themselves before Nathanael, who was one of the disciples. They hurried away. John was baptising in the Jordan those of the children of Israel who came to him. He said to his disciples: 'While I was still in my mother's womb, the Lord made known to me through the Holy Spirit that I would baptise people in the Jordan for their purification. When I see the water turn back, flow in reverse and grow hot, I shall know that the Lamb of God foretold by the prophets has come into the world to take away the sins of its inhabitants, and that he will come to me to be baptised.' Now, one day as he was baptising in the Jordan, John suddenly saw the river flow backwards. He felt its water. It was burning hot like fire or a heated pot. He withdrew his hand from the water and said: 'The Lamb of God who bears the sins of mankind has come into the world. Let us worship him and pray in truth; to him be glory. I am unworthy to [untie] his sandal.' Then he raised his voice: 'Lord, gladden your servant. Allow him to behold your majesty the Jordan and it turns back. Today the devil's power is abolished. Today the light shines for the world. In the light our father Adam is renewed. Today the sin recorded against Eve, mother of humankind, is erased. Today I reveal my salvation to you and let you hear the Father's voice. Today you will behold the Holy Spirit and the mystery of the Trinity will be revealed to you. Today the mountains and hills leap like the young of sheep. Today joy enters among all the nations and every weak heart grows strong. Today light comes to those who dwell in darkness. Today I deliver my image from the underworld and the gates of heaven open. Today is the day of the Lord of which the prophets spoke.' Having finished speaking, our Lord came to the Jordan. On seeing him, John cried out with all his strength: 'Here is the Lamb of God who bears the sins of the world. Here is the only one who comes from God; I, sinner that I am, am not worthy to [untie his sandal]. Here is the King of kings foretold by Zechariah. Here, beyond any doubt, is the eternal Son of God.' Jesus Christ called John and said to him: 'Today you must fulfil the Law and bear witness to what you will see of my power. Rise and baptise me.' [...] John said to him: 'Lord, it is I who should be baptised by you. Why have you come...'

to receive baptism from my hands, and why is it I who baptise you?' Our Lord Christ said: 'John, you should rejoice that I receive baptism from your hands. Come near and fear nothing. You will place your hand upon my head, but it is I who shall baptise myself. Your hand will be upon me, and it is I who shall sanctify myself. Do not shrink from that to which I have called you. For this I came into the world. The Law and the prophecies must be fulfilled.' Christ approached the Jordan. When he appeared before it, the river drew back forty cubits. Its water became like a flame. John the Evangelist said: 'I, John, saw the mass of waters flee before my Lord Jesus Christ. He spoke sternly to it, and it stopped. As he was about to be baptised in the Jordan, he said: "Stop [...] and move no more." Thus was fulfilled David's prophecy: "The waters saw him and stopped." And elsewhere: "What ails you, sea, that you have fled? And you, Jordan, that you have turned back?"' Then David gives the answer to this prophecy about the sea and the Jordan. Both were fleeing before the Lord, he who [...] the earth by his wisdom. When John saw the Jordan flee, flow backwards and resume its course at our Lord Christ's command, he was seized with great trembling. He prostrated himself before our Lord and said: 'My Lord and my God, have mercy on your servant, on the son of your handmaid. I am not the man to place my hand upon your head. It is not fitting for the master to let his slave place his hand upon his head. For you are the Master and I the slave, you are the King and I the servant, you are the Creator and I the creature. You are the Craftsman and I the work. You are the Righteous One. You are from heaven and I from earth. You are the Son of God and I am born of man.' He said to him...

‘Obey my command, for it is yours to carry out.’ Christ went down into the Jordan without his garments and stood amid the waters. A crowd was there to receive baptism from John. Christ called John and said to him: ‘Do what I have commanded you.’ John came forward, trembling. He placed his hand upon his head, raised his eyes towards heaven and saw the heavens open. The Holy Spirit descended from them in the form of a dove. He came to rest upon our Lord Christ’s head and beat his wings above him. A voice proclaimed: ‘Here is my beloved Son, in whom I have taken delight. Here is my Son, in whom I find my good pleasure. In him I created heaven and earth. Here is my beloved Son, begotten before all ages and all times. Here is my Son who is never separated from me. Here is my Son, who is the truth as I am.’ When the disciples heard this voice from heaven, their faith grew and became stronger. Besides John the Baptist and the disciples, many people who were there heard it and believed in our Lord Christ. John bore witness to it, and his testimony is true. ‘I saw the Holy Spirit descend from heaven upon Jesus, and I heard the Father’s voice [...]’. When Jesus came out of the Jordan, his baptism completed, the angels of heaven [saw] him, received him upon their wings as he emerged from baptism, and all prostrated themselves before him. Jesus left the Jordan with his disciples, and they went to the wilderness in the region of Jerusalem. From there, [he sent] his disciples into Ammon and Moab to call upon people to believe in him. towards a mountain there that rose to heaven. Our Lord went there before him. At the summit of the mountain, Iblīs said to our Lord Christ: ‘Look at all the kingdoms of the world. Today they are in my hands. Prostrate yourself before me, and I shall give you possession of them.’ Christ said to him: ‘It is written: “Prostrate yourself before the Lord alone, and fear the Lord.”’ Christ returned to the wilderness. It had been decreed that the devil would test him through hunger. So he let himself go hungry and ate nothing.

The devil joined him in the wilderness and said to him: 'If you are the Son of God, command these stones to become bread, for I know that you are hungry.' The Lord said to him: 'It is written: "Man does not live by bread alone."' [Satan] also thought of testing him upon the Temple of Jerusalem. Christ knew of this and went ahead of him. The devil climbed to the pinnacle of the Temple and said to him: 'If you are the Son of God, as John son of Zechariah testified, throw yourself from the top of this Temple to the ground below. It is written that his angels will keep you from striking your foot against a stone, that they will protect you in all things. You will trample the dragon, walk upon the lion and tame the serpent.'

Then our Lord repelled him [...] and said to him: 'It is written: "Do not put the Lord your God to the test." This too is written for you.' At that very instant Iblīs fled, and our Lord's angels descended to him and began to serve him. After being tested by the devil, our Lord departed for the land of Galilee. There the prophecy was fulfilled: 'The people of Galilee were a nation in darkness, and they passed into the joyful light.' On the wonder of turning water into wine. there was a wedding among Qānāʾīl's relatives. The wedding guests gathered around him and begged him to ask our Lord Christ to attend their feast and bless it. The bridegroom was called Dakīmā son of Yūḥān. Qānāʾīl went to find Christ and said to him: 'My Lord, I beg you to come with me to the wedding of my cousin Dakīmā son of Yūḥān and bless his house.' He granted his request and accompanied him. When he entered the wedding hall, the wedding guests sent for Our Lady Mary and Joseph the carpenter and asked them to come. They came, and Lazarus was summoned. Food was served to them, and Christ took his place at the most honourable table.

He was there and seated Peter at his right and Andrew at his left. There was a group of Jewish teachers and chief priests, as well as Christ's disciples who accompanied him at that time. When the meal was over, the tables were cleared and drink was brought. The guests began to drink until most were drunk. The host ran short of wine; his supply was exhausted. Distraught, he went in and out, weeping with grief at having exhausted his wine, so ashamed was he before his guests.

The Lady saw him in his sorrow and was moved with pity. She approached our Lord Christ and said to him: 'The host of this wedding has run short of wine and this causes him distress.' Our Lord Christ said to her: 'What is there between you and me, woman? Your request is indeed accepted, and you will obtain what you ask.' Our Lord Jesus Christ wished Judas of Scarioth to be present, for he was not there at that moment. Our Lord wanted him to see with his own eyes the wonder he was about to perform upon the wine. Perhaps he would renounce [...] what he had inherited [uncertain reading]. When Judas had arrived, our Lord said to the host: 'Fill the vats with water and leave no vessel empty in your house.' When the vessels had been filled, our Lord said to the servants: 'Give the people a drink by drawing from the vats.' They drew from these vats full of water and served it to the guests as Jesus had commanded them.

When the chief priests had drunk it, they found a wine unequalled in their lifetime. They said to the man in charge of the wine: 'One ought to serve one's friends the best wine first. Once the wine has taken effect, one brings them the lesser wine. You served the bad wine at the beginning and gave us the good when we were drunk!' They spoke these words [...] for they did not know that the Lord had turned the water into delicious wine. Those who knew of the sign were the Lady, the disciples, Dakīmā son of Yūḥān and those who had served, and no one else. When the news spread among the crowds present, our Lord Jesus Christ immediately gave an order, and they left his vicinity [uncertain reading].

On the miracle the Lord Christ performed in the person of Lazarus. After his baptism, our Lord and Saviour went to the city of the Fig Tree, and said to his disciples before entering the city: 'Our friend Lazarus is dead. For your sake I rejoice that I was not present at his death, for you will see, of the man and of my kingship, what will [strengthen] your faith.' They said to one another: 'If Lazarus is dead, the Master will raise him from the dead. For the one who has the power to perform [that other wonder] can also raise a dead man.' Our Lord said a second time to his disciples: 'Know that Lazarus, our friend, is dead.' They said to him: 'Our Lord, if he is dead, [...] and if he is dead he will rise from the dead at the end.'

While they were conversing thus, they arrived in Lazarus's neighbourhood. Mary and Martha came out of their house in tears. They came to meet Christ and said to him: 'Our brother Lazarus is dead. If you had been with us, he would not have died.' He said to them: 'I am the resurrection and I am the life. Whoever believes in me will not die, but will live for ever. Do you believe this?' Mary and Martha said: 'We believe that you are Christ, the Son of the living and eternal God, the Saviour of the world.'

Our Lord approached the Jews who were there and said to them: 'Where have you laid him? Look where he is, go there, examine the stone you placed over the tomb's opening, and come back and tell me whether what you have said is correct.' The Jews were astonished by these words without understanding their purpose. Our Lord spoke to them in this way so that, when Lazarus rose from the dead, doubt would not seize them and they would not be able to say in the hardness of their hearts: ‘There has been some trick at the tomb.’ A group therefore went there and found the tomb in the condition in which they had left it. The seals were found intact. They returned to tell the Lord Christ that they had found no grounds for doubt. Our Lord said to them a second time: ‘Hard-hearted men, was it indeed you yourselves who duly inspected the stone on Lazarus’s tomb, for fear that you might have been victims of a trick?’ They affirmed aloud that they had made the inspection and found the tomb in its original condition. As our Lord spoke to them, his tears ran down his cheeks. The Jews said to one another: ‘Look at his sorrow at Lazarus’s death. How he loved him!’

Christ advanced to the tomb and cried out against Death. Its power collapsed. He cried out against the abode of the dead and annihilated its authority. In a loud and mighty voice he cried: ‘Lazarus! Lazarus! Come out of your tomb and come here to me!’ Had he cried out to Death to let all those in the abode of the dead come out to him, he would have obtained it. But he called Lazarus alone. Otherwise, all the dead would have risen.

When the devil, the archon, heard the Lord’s voice and witnessed this manifestation of his power at Lazarus’s tomb, his strength collapsed and a violent terror seized him. His demons and his army saw him downcast and sorrowful. They said to him: ‘Our master, what is this we see in you? What has happened to you?’ He answered: ‘It is a voice I heard today, that of the son of Joseph the carpenter. When I heard it, I was with Death and the abode of the dead. I saw Death’s strength collapse and the abode of the dead empty itself of what it held in its hands, because of a single man whom he raised from the dead and who is called Lazarus. There is no doubt about this man whom the Virgin Mary brought into the world. He is the one who will cast me down from my rank and ruin my dominion.’ His companions said to him

‘Fear nothing, master. What you have seen will soon pass. Mary’s son is no more illustrious than the prophet Ezekiel whom God raised up. Through the prophecy he uttered over the dead, he raised seventy thousand men from the dead. Nor is he more illustrious than Elijah, Moses or Elisha, who performed the great signs.’

The devil said to them: ‘If this man remains, and the power I have seen at work in him remains, shall I not deceive people of this world until they crucify him upon a tree and deliver him to Death? The abode of the dead will then be his portion. We shall rejoice in his destruction and be delivered from his strength. If his dominion grows, a nation turns to him and people follow him, I shall make them deny their faith in him and doubt his treasure. Once I have caused him to perish, I shall sow [discord] between his disciples and the people who will be his. I shall set them against one another. [...] In place of love, I shall spread [...] among them, turn them away from the love he prescribed for them and cast jealousy, injustice and strife among them.

I shall make them deliver one another to Death. I shall make all the nations hate them and strive to exterminate those who love his name and practise his religion. I shall inspire in them the desire to shed their blood. [...] They will put this in place of accepted offerings. I shall unleash a group of the vilest of his followers: they will abandon him, follow me, deny him and believe in me. Thus my name will be proclaimed in the high places of the world, and there will come to me

[...] two signs [...] in my books [...]. Let us return to Lazarus. When our Lord called to him, crying: ‘Lazarus, come out of your tomb and come here’, he came out. Nothing in him had decayed. Only the shrouds still enveloped and bound him. He had been dead and buried for four days. Our Lord said to the crowd standing there: ‘Who will come forward to remove his shrouds and bonds, look at him closely and verify whether this is indeed the Lazarus who died and whom you buried?’

People approached, removed Lazarus's shrouds, uncovered his face and looked at him. More than seven thousand four hundred men from among the Jews were there, not counting women and children. Lazarus was one of their notables and leaders. Most of this crowd believed in our Lord Jesus Christ. That day our Lord and his disciples spent the night with Lazarus and his household.

Here are our Lord Christ's instructions to his disciples on the Mount of Olives. Our Lord Jesus Christ left Lazarus's house with the twelve disciples. They went to the Mount of Olives, to the west of which lies Jerusalem. Our Lord sat there, surrounded by his disciples, and said to them: 'My brothers, keep my commandments. Know that I wish to preserve you from evil. You are all pure except one among you, who is a demon. Apart from him, you are all undefiled. Watch over one another. If the good shepherd does not take care to watch over his sheep, he cannot bring them back to the fold. And if he does not seek the slave who has fled, [the end of the comparison is uncertain]. Truly I tell you, in Jerusalem not one stone will remain upon another without being thrown down, until its foundations are exposed. Later my new people will rebuild it. Those who believe in me will then go there. Whoever enters it, I shall forgive his sins. People will come to it from the east and west of the earth; even those who did not believe in me will go there.'

Having spoken thus, our Lord Christ turned towards Jerusalem and looked at it. He addressed to it again the saying recorded in this book: 'Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you! How often I wished to gather your children as a hen gathers her chicks, and you did not obey me. If signs like those that took place among you had taken place in Sodom and Gomorrah, their inhabitants would have repented and put on sackcloth. Indeed, I say that the people of the city of Nineveh and its mighty ones will rise, on the day [of judgement?], with this reprobate nation and cover it with shame. They repented and turned from their sins at the preaching of the prophet Jonah, who remained three days and three nights in the belly of the great fish.'

Know, my brothers, that the Bridegroom's feast [will last] seventy thousand days in the world. All will dwell in joy and blessedness. My churches will be built in the east and west of the earth, and their assemblies will form one universal and apostolic Church, pure and undefiled, glorified in me by the Father and the Holy Spirit, the Paraclete. In the days to come [...] the calamity whose story I have told you, its emergence from the pit towards Babylon [...] days [uncertain passage]. I shall shorten those days for the sake of the elect. It is neither by compulsion nor by authority that I shall win the nations over to you, but through the signs I have performed before you. Know this: demons will listen to you, obey you and flee before you. Through your hands the sick will be healed, and through your prayers the dead will rise. Heaven will bend towards you and your prayers, the earth will be folded up for you, angels will speak to you and surround you, and kings will fear you.

Go to all the scholars, philosophers and sages of this world and call upon them to believe in me. I shall be with you and strengthen you. Do not fear kings. Disobey their orders and proclaim throughout the regions of the earth that my kingdom is near. Do not flee those who sought to kill you. If the nations prostrate themselves before you, rejoice. They said to one another: ‘Where is he going without telling us, so that we may follow him?’ A heated discussion arose among them. Our Lord Christ knew what they were saying to one another. He said to them: ‘My brothers, do not doubt what I have told you. I have revealed to you only the secrets I knew to be within the reach of your understanding. Know that the spirit is confident, but the body is weak before suffering. I would have many more things to tell you,

At your coming, will you be born as before of a pure woman? Will you come by night or by day? Our Lord Christ then went with the twelve disciples to the village of the Fig Tree, where Lazarus lived, whom he had raised from death after he had been in it for four days. There you will find a man carrying a pitcher of water. Tell him that the Saviour wishes to celebrate [the Passover] with his disciples. He will lead you to the upper room of Zion, a beautiful room prepared and furnished. Make ready what we need and prepare the Passover.' Peter and John went away. They found the man our Lord had described to them. [...] He showed them the room. They prepared all they needed for the Passover. The Jews had already paid a bribe, concerning him, to a troop of soldiers. They said to Judas: 'Go with them, then [...] during the feast [...]', for they had all assembled with their teachers to put him to death. When the Passover meal came, our Lord entered with his disciples into the upper room of Zion where they had prepared the Passover. His twelve disciples surrounded him. The table was brought forward, bearing bread, a roast lamb and fried fish. When Judas Iscariot saw the honours paid to our Lord Christ in that upper room, jealousy seized him. our Lord Christ took a cloth and tied it about his waist. He came forward, had water brought in a basin and sat on a seat. Each of his disciples came in turn and sat before him. He washed their feet and dried them with the cloth. He began with Simon the Rock. He said to him: 'Simon, I wish to wash your feet.' Simon answered: 'Our Lord, it is not fitting for the master to serve his servant.' Jesus said to him: 'Truly, Simon, if you do not let me wash your feet, you will have no share with me in my kingdom.' Simon answered him: 'Lord, if that is so, I shall let you wash my feet, and also my head and hands.' Our Lord said: 'He who has bathed needs only to wash his feet. He is clean. You are clean, but not all of you.' He knew who was to betray him. That is why he said: 'You are not all clean.' Simon held out his feet to him, and he washed them. [...] Our Lord washed the feet of the twelve with his own hand. He went with his disciples to the table. As they were dining, our Lord Christ said [...] 'Tonight the hand of the one who betrays me is with me on the table.' At these words the disciples [...] looked at one another. Judas Iscariot said to him: 'Should we not cast lots to see which of us will betray him?' [...] The lot fell first upon Judas. It fell upon him three times. Judas said to our Lord: 'My Lord, do you mean that I am the one who will betray you?' Jesus answered him: 'You have said it.' Christ then said to his disciples: 'The one to whom I give the bread that I dip in water is the one who will betray me.' He dipped bread and held it out to Judas. At that hour Satan entered Judas. He went out, came to the Jews and said to them: 'Give me the silver coins you agreed upon with me, and I shall hand him over to you.'

They gave him thirty dirhams, so that the word of the one who had prophesied that the noble one would be sold for thirty dirhams might be fulfilled. When Judas had left the upper room, where Christ and his disciples were gathered around the Passover table, our Lord Christ took bread, [...] and said: 'Take my body, broken for you. Take and eat of it. Whoever eats of it with faith is forgiven his faults and sins.' He then took a cup filled with wine and said: 'Drink from this cup, all of you, for this is my blood, poured out for you. Through it forgiveness is granted to whoever partakes of it, for this is the new commandment.' Then he said to Simon [...] of that hour. He next said to his disciples: 'Keep watch; the hour is near when I shall be betrayed. Each of you will abandon me tonight and flee.' Simon the Rock said to him: 'Even if all abandon you, I shall not leave you or part from you.' Christ cast upon him an astonished look and said to him: 'Truly, Simon, I tell you that tonight, before the cock crows, you will deny me three times.' Then he said to his disciples: 'Let us rise and leave this room.' They went out together and came to the garden where they were accustomed to withdraw. When they had sat down, Jesus said: 'The one who betrays me is approaching. Let us rise to pray. Keep watch with me for one hour.' He stretched his arm over the disciples, raised his eyes towards heaven and said: 'My Father, if it pleases you to remove this cup from me, let it pass. Otherwise, let it not be my good pleasure [...].' He returned to his disciples and found them asleep. The sorrows that had entered their hearts had weighed down their eyes. He woke them and said to them: 'Keep watch and pray so that you do not enter the trial this adversary has in store for you. Do I not deserve that you keep watch with me for one hour?' An hour later he said to them: 'Sleep now and rest.' Then he returned to the place where he had prayed. He was sweating Seize him and take him away.’ Jesus stood in the garden and had made his disciples rise when a large crowd of Jews arrived. When Judas saw him, he ran to him, kissed him and said to him: ‘Peace be upon you, my Lord.’ Our Lord Christ said to him: ‘Judas, do what you have come for.’ Those who had come there held swords and spears in their hands. Jesus said to them: ‘Whom do you seek?’ They answered: ‘We seek Jesus the Nazarene.’ He said to them: ‘I am the one you seek.’ At these words they drew back and fell face down at the sight of the light shining upon his face. The Jews seized our Lord Christ while he exhorted his disciples, so that the prophecy might be fulfilled: 'The shepherd will be struck and the sheep scattered.' When the Jews arrived, Simon the Rock had a sword.

Seeing them, he drew it from its sheath and struck the high priest's servant, cutting off his ear. The Jews seized their swords [...]. Jesus said: 'Simon, put the sword back in its sheath. It is written that whoever kills by the sword will perish by the sword.' He placed his hand upon the severed ear, and it returned to its former state. Christ was led to the residence of Pilate the unjust, who was then in Jerusalem. At the gate stood powerful men carrying [large standards]. When Jesus appeared before them in the distance, these standards prostrated themselves before him in their bearers' hands. The Jews who saw this said to Pilate: 'Your men who carry these standards have made an agreement. Jesus's companions bribed them to incline the standards before him.' Pilate said to them: 'How many standards prostrated themselves before Jesus?' They told him: 'Six.' He said to them: 'How many men carry them?' They answered: 'Six men for each standard.'

Pilate said to them: 'Choose men you trust for each standard. Assign ten of your own to each. NOTES AND SOURCES

Translation nuances and explanations

وجوه المعنى والبيان

01 · The Word, the angels and Adam’s fall

الكلمة

‘The Word’ renders the Logos of John’s prologue. The Arabic noun is feminine, but the pronoun هو and the French theological term ‘le Verbe’ refer it to a person.

الخصائص

‘Properties’: that which distinguishes. The text describes a divine unity containing three distinctive characteristics.

لم يزل

The expression denies any interruption of existence. In the prologue, ‘was from all eternity’ conveys its full force.

كتاب السرائر

The heading is faint. A note by a former owner on f. 117v calls the volume the ‘Book of Mysteries’.

لم تدركه

‘Did not grasp it’ suggests both possibilities: ‘reach’ and ‘understand’. The Arabic echoes John 1:5.

طبقات

Orders or ranks, here the levels of an angelic hierarchy.

صباووت

‘Sabaoth’ transcribes the traditional term meaning ‘of hosts’ in the liturgical formula.

ساطانائيل

Saṭanā’īl is retained, the name the narrative gives to the chief of the tenth order before his fall.

جوهريته

‘His substance’ or ‘his essence’. The passage reports the words of the rebellious angel.

درجتي

‘My rank’, but also ‘my degree’, an image of a hierarchy from which the angel can fall.

العناصر

‘Elements’. The narrative links Adam’s creation to the four elements of the world.

نسمة الحياة

‘Breath of life’. The image evokes God’s act of breathing life into the being he has fashioned.

موت تموت

The infinitive followed by the verb forms an intensive expression, hence ‘you shall die, yes, you shall die’.

هيكل

‘Temple’ or ‘sanctuary’. The serpent receives Satan as a presence dwelling within its body.

اللباس النوري

Literally ‘the luminous garment’. Nakedness here consists in losing the light in which Adam and Eve were clothed.

زرع

‘Seed’, ‘posterity’ or ‘offspring’. Here the following text explicitly mentions children.

كروبي

Arabic transliteration of the name of an angelic being, here a ‘cherub’.

أقنوم البنوة

‘Hypostasis of Sonship’ or ‘person of the Son’. The commentary rereads Adam in the light of Trinitarian theology.

تأنّس الكلمة

Literally ‘the Word becoming man’. The word denotes the Incarnation.

ناطور

‘Keeper’ or ‘overseer’. The term here belongs to Cain’s answer to God.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

02 · Cain and Abel · The Risen One and his disciples

خليله

The ‘intimate friend’ is the title given to Abraham.

خمسة أيام ونصف

The ‘five and a half days’ are explicitly interpreted as five thousand five hundred years between Adam and his salvation.

سمعان الصفا

Simon called ‘the Rock’, that is, Peter.

مئزر

Loincloth, a piece of fabric worn about the waist.

بذراع الملك

‘By the king’s cubit’, a specification of the unit of measurement.

ماية وثلثة وخمسين

One hundred and fifty-three. The number of fish also appears in John 21:11.

خرافي، كباشي، نعاجي

‘My lambs, my rams, my ewes’. The text gives the animals of the flock a different name in each of the three injunctions.

سرايره

‘His mysteries’, or ‘his secrets’. This is how the narrative characterises John’s relationship with Jesus.

المسامير

‘Nails’. It is their locations, in other words their marks, that Thomas must touch.

الزنادقة

Plural of zindīq, a polemical term that can denote heretics or unbelievers. The author gives it a specific scope here by mentioning rejection of the resurrection.

أم النور

‘Mother of the Light’, a title given to Mary.

طور زيتنا

The place name denotes the Mount of Olives.

البارقليط

The ‘Paraclete’, from Greek paraklētos, a term also translated as ‘Advocate’ or ‘Comforter’. The text explicitly identifies him with the Holy Spirit.

A discontinuity separates the account of Adam’s sons from the appearance by the lake. The physical sequence of the manuscript witness explains the proximity of these episodes.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

03 · The Ascension, the languages and the allocation of missions

الصفا

‘The rock’. Simon’s name and the image of the support upon which the Church is built echo one another.

الجحيم

‘Abode of the dead’ or ‘hell’. The motif of the gates is that of Matthew 16:18.

تربطونه / حللتموه

‘Bind’ and ‘loose’. The text further defines this power in what follows by speaking of the remission of sins.

بأمانة

‘With faith’ or ‘with faithfulness’ in welcoming the priest.

هلّلت

‘Say or sing alleluias’, or, more broadly, ‘acclaim’.

القرن

The ‘horn’ is used here as an instrument. The acclamations take up motifs from Psalms 24 and 47 in the Hebrew numbering.

غرفة صهيون

Literally ‘the upper room of Zion’, where the disciples assemble.

يقع سهمه

‘Where his share will fall’. The word denotes the portion assigned by lot.

أرض الكوش

The ‘land of Cush’, a biblical name from ancient geography.

الشماسة

Plural of šammās, here ‘deacons’, members of the group chosen for communal service.

خاتم

‘Seal’ or ‘signet ring’. Joseph’s particular role is to keep Pilate’s.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

04 · The annunciation to Mary and the birth of Jesus

الحنوط

Aromatic substances used to prepare the dead for burial, hence ‘burial spices’.

في أصلاب الآباء

‘In the loins of the fathers’, a genealogical way of referring to their future descendants.

الأركون

From Greek archōn, ‘chief’, ‘prince’ or ‘archon’. The title is given to Satanael.

Ādhār, the name of the month corresponding to March.

ماء التجربة والبحران

‘Water of trial and verification’. This ordeal in the narrative recalls the rite in Numbers 5 without matching it in every detail.

افتَرعك

‘Deflowered you’. The harshness of the question belongs to the reported dialogue.

ما البحران

The same water is called both ‘water of verification’ and ‘water of trial’.

البتول

‘The Virgin’, with a possible nuance of consecration.

المخاض

The pains of labour, then, by extension, the process of childbirth.

مذود / مهد

The maḏwad is the ‘manger’. The mahd is the ‘cradle’ that this manger becomes for the child.

والدة الإله

Literally ‘she who gave birth to God’, a Marian title rendered as ‘Mother of God’.

صالومي

Salome, here the midwife in the account of the testing of virginity.

كلبتان

The two arms of a pair of tongs. The motif of purifying fire refers to Isaiah's calling in Isaiah 6.

قربان

'Offering' or 'oblation', with a possible liturgical resonance.

سبحانك

An endlessly repeated formula of glorification. It could be translated 'exalted be you' or 'glory to you'.

كل نسمة

'Every breath' also means 'every being that breathes'.

كانون الأول

Kānūn al-awwal corresponds to December.

الأركون

The title 'archon' is explicitly applied to Iblīs, chief of the demons.

منشار من خشب

'A wooden saw'. Isaiah's death as described here belongs to an ancient narrative tradition.

كليم الله

Word for word, 'the one to whom God speaks', rendered here as 'God's interlocutor', an epithet of Moses.

05 · The cave and the encounter with Simeon

ترع

‘Canals’, ‘watercourses’ or ‘channels’. The term is retained here, although the sequence surrounding the Exodus presents several difficult readings.

البرية

Here, the ‘countryside’ where the shepherds are, more specifically the pastures. Elsewhere the same word can mean ‘wilderness’ or ‘uninhabited place’.

تأنّس

In this manuscript’s Christian vocabulary, ‘became man’, that is, ‘became incarnate’, rather than the ordinary sense ‘became familiar’.

أسره

The ‘imprisonment’ takes up the image used by the angel. Simeon’s very long wait holds him in this world.

الزمن

Pronounced al-zamin, the word here denotes an infirm person who struggles to move. The leaping deer recalls Isaiah 35:6.

06 · The star of the Magi and the roads of Egypt

جبل الكنوز

In this narrative, the ‘Mountain of Treasures’ forms the material link between the Magi’s gifts and Adam’s departure from paradise.

السليخة

‘Cassia’ here is an aromatic bark related to cinnamon. This perfumery term refers to the psalm verse evoked in the narrative.

عين شمس

‘Ayn Šams literally means ‘the spring of the sun’. The text retains this Arabic name for Heliopolis in Egypt.

نوبة

A turn of duty or watch. Here the brigands have established a daily rotation to intercept travellers.

الغيب

What lies beyond sight and ordinary knowledge. This concerns both the brigands’ names and their destiny.

07 · The stolen oxen, the fisherman and the heifer

فدادين

The plural of faddān can refer to a measure of arable area or to the team that works the land. The stolen animals require the reading ‘teams of oxen’ here.

يتشغب

He provokes a quarrel or makes a commotion. The verb marks the public altercation preceding the request for arbitration.

العجلة

With the sense ‘heifer’, the word names the young female bovine that testifies about having been stolen. The same spelling allows other readings, including ‘haste’.

رابض

‘Lying down’, of a quadruped with its limbs folded beneath it. The term describes the lion’s posture before its encounter with Jesus.

المناصفة

A division into halves. The farmer presents his relationship with the Samaritan as an agreement for cultivation or sharing the produce, without specifying its terms.

08 · The patriarchs called to testify

السمرة

‘The Samaritans’. This form of the collective name distinguishes the Samaritans from the Jews in the list of listeners who accept the testimony.

حس

The ‘faculty of sensation’, which gives life to the image alongside spirit and speech. In this passage, ‘senses’ has a concrete, bodily meaning.

اهيا شراهيا

The formula transcribes in Arabic characters the name revealed to Moses in Exodus 3:14. In French, one may retain the transcribed formula or recall ‘I am who I am’.

يعنتوه

‘Put him in difficulty’, with the idea of trapping him by a question. The accusers’ words supply the meaning of this verb.

09 · The accused woman, the Samaritan woman and Simon

يخط

Tracing signs in the earth, possibly writing. The narrative quotes no word that Jesus might have written in this way.

بعل

‘Husband, spouse’. Alternates here with زوج
The husbands’ names are reproduced as readings of the manuscript;
their vocalisation remains uncertain.

رساتيق

The rustāq are predominantly rural districts. The narrative contrasts their dispersal with the crowd’s concentration in the city.

عقدتها

‘You have tied or bound them’. In this discourse, binding sins contrasts with the power to remit them, two aspects of the same authority.

بشير / مبشر

The ‘herald’, ‘messenger of good news’. In this narrative, the healed man becomes the one who himself proclaims Christ’s coming.

10 · The widow’s son, the flock and the harvests

النعش

The funeral bier upon which the bearers carry the deceased. ‘Coffin’ would wrongly suggest a closed container here.

عيد المظال

‘Feast of Tabernacles’, also called the ‘Feast of Booths’. The plural evokes the leafy shelters associated with Sukkot.

أعتقتكن

‘I have freed you’. Applied to animals, this verb, usually associated with freeing slaves, removes any ambiguity about the ownership rights that Jesus takes away from humans here.

سِبْط

A ‘tribe’ of Israel. The speakers ask whether Jesus’s ancestry gives him authority to act.

زكي

The old man recognises himself by this proper name. Literally, the word also means ‘pure’.

أَصْل

Here an individual olive tree, the unit used to count the trees.

قَضِيب

A branch that can be planted and take root, hence also ‘cutting’.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

11 · The mothers of Israel and the cucumber field

غَلَّة

‘Harvest’, or ‘income’ from land. Here the word recurs after the olive harvest.

أختها سارة

The narrative calls Sarah Rachel's 'sister'. This family relationship belongs to this version of the text.

ربقا

Rebekah joins Sarah and Rachel when Jesus calls them. Sarah's speech rereads several episodes of Genesis as appearances of Christ.

الصورة

'This figure', or 'this appearance'. The word recurs like a refrain to connect several manifestations.

مَقْثَاة

A 'cucumber field', more generally a crop of cucurbits.

البَرَد

The 'hail' that destroys the crop. Without the vowels, one could also read 'the cold'.

ناموس

The 'Law' of Moses. The prescription of stoning is reported as the woman's words in this apocryphal text.

المعمودية

'Baptism'. The man and his son are linked to the disciples in a local tradition associated with Ascalon.

12 · Healings, locusts and lions

الصبا

The copy writes ṣibā. The context (wild beasts, pastures, wilderness) suggests gazelles, ẓibā'.

خليلي

'My intimate friend'. Jesus describes Joseph in this way in reply to those who call him his father.

عَيْن سِلْوان

The spring of Siloam. The text mentions its pool and prescribes a threefold washing with a Trinitarian invocation.

وَصَب

'Affliction', in the sense of a persistent ailment or physical suffering.

تُعَشِّرون

'You take tithes', that is, a tenth of the produce. The text lists three aromatic plants.

رَأْس البِناء

Literally 'the head of the building' in this rendering of Psalm 118:22–23.

الجَراد / القَحْط

'Locusts' and 'drought'. The latter can also denote the resulting scarcity.

نيقاديموس

Nicodemus is the inhabitants' spokesman. His familiarity with Jesus explains the choice of this intermediary.

السَّبْت

The ‘Sabbath’. The dialogue reinterprets weekly rest in terms of preserving a life.

أحاب / إيزبل

Ahab and Jezebel are the rulers in Elijah’s story. The text connects the prophet’s flight and his forty days of walking to the question of the Sabbath.

اصطكاك الأسنان

The ‘gnashing’ or ‘chattering of teeth’. The expression follows the description of Nicodemus’s fear.

السِّباع

Dangerous wild animals, especially beasts of prey. The text broadens the term here with ‘of every kind’.

فادي العالم

‘Redeemer of the world’, literally ‘the one who gives the ransom for the world’.

سِبط

One of the twelve tribes of Israel, here associated with the twelve thrones promised to the disciples.

13 · The disciples, Gamaliel and Simon’s keys

العشّارون

‘Tax collectors’ or ‘publicans’. The name comes from collecting a tax.

قُرْبان

An ‘offering’ presented to God. The passage attributes to persecutors the conviction that their acts have this value. Historical identifications proposed for such a discourse must remain distinct from its translation.

الرَّوابي

The ‘hills’, in contrast to the higher mountains in the same clause.

بَرِّيَّة

‘Wilderness’, ‘uninhabited space’. Simon stresses the absence of lodging there for the night.

غملائيل

Gamaliel, here presented as a teacher of the Law and Nicodemus’s brother.

أَعْمِدَة

The ‘pillars’ of the house. The narrative shows them bending at Jesus’s arrival.

طور ثابور

‘Mount Tabor’ is the place named by this copy. In the narrative, it is from there that the disciples behold the Temple.

إِكْلِيل

A ‘crown’. The word may evoke victory or the reward of the martyr who perseveres under trial.

كهنوت

‘Priesthood’. Simon’s blessing grants him the priesthood of Aaron and Melchizedek.

طوباك

‘Blessed are you’. The repeated opening gives rhythm to the whole series of blessings addressed to Simon.

الدَّيْنُونَة

The final ‘judgement’. The term recurs in the dialogue about the authority of the Father and the Son.

تناولوا

‘They receive’ or ‘partake of’. With the mention of flesh and blood, the usage is Eucharistic.

14 · The Jordan, the wilderness and the wedding

خروف الله

Literally ‘the Lamb of God’. The text connects this Christological title to the signs of heat and the backward flow of the waters.

مِصْباح البَرِّيّة

‘Torch of the wilderness’, another name for John the Baptist in the series of luminous metaphors.

صورتي

‘My image’. The deliverance of God’s image here evokes Adam and humanity.

النبوّة / البنوّة

The copy allows the reading ‘prophecy’. The context of the baptism and the Father’s testimony also suggests ‘sonship’, distinguished by the order of the two consonants.

ذِراع

The ‘cubit’, an ancient measure based on the length of the forearm. The narrative puts the river’s retreat at forty cubits.

ما لك يا بحر

‘What ails you, sea?’ The question and the Jordan’s backward flow take up Psalm 114:5, numbered 113 in the Greek tradition.

رَفْرَفَ

‘He beat his wings’, or ‘hovered’. The verb describes the movement of the Spirit represented by a dove.

مَنْزُوع مِن لِباسِه

‘Stripped of his garments’. This detail accompanies Jesus’s entry into the Jordan’s waters.

جناح الهيكل

Literally ‘the wing of the Temple’, traditionally rendered in French as ‘the pinnacle of the Temple’.

تحويل الما شراب

‘Transformation of water into drink’. What follows identifies this drink as the wedding wine.

ابن عمي

Precisely ‘the son of my paternal uncle’, translated as ‘my cousin’.

عاز

‘Run out of’, ‘run short of’. This shortage prompts Mary’s request.

قانايل

A name of uncertain reading in this copy. In the parallel tradition of the Wedding at Cana, the bridegroom's cousin is Nathanael.

15 · Lazarus and the Mount of Olives

سقريوط

Scarioth, in the traditional name Judas Iscariot.

الحاجن

Storage vessels. 'Vats' or 'jars' suit the action of filling them and then drawing from them.

مرته

Spelling of the proper name Martha, who appears here alongside Mary. In another context, the spelling could suggest 'his wife'.

فاروق العالم

'Saviour of the world', a Christological title spoken by the two sisters.

خواتيمه

The seals affixed to the tomb, whose intact condition is meant to dispel suspicion of fraud.

انهَدّ ركنه

Literally 'his pillar collapsed'. The expression represents the collapse of the power of Death or the devil.

حزقيال

Ezekiel. The speech attributes to the prophet the resurrection of seventy thousand people, an elaboration upon the bones restored to life in Ezekiel 37.

القرابين المقبولة

‘Accepted offerings’. The devil’s speech twists sacrificial vocabulary.

طور

The mountain. الزيتون The complement identifies the Mount of Olives. The sentence places Jerusalem west of this mountain.

أخلف

‘I leave behind’, hence ‘I leave with you’. The reading of the following words is uncertain.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

16 · Farewell to the disciples and the signs of the times

البارقليط

Arabic transcription of Greek paraklētos. ‘Advocate’ stresses assistance, ‘Comforter’ consolation. The manuscript identifies him with the Holy Spirit.

حضني

‘My bosom’, an image of protective closeness. ‘Do not depart from me’ would convey the meaning without the image.

اعتمد

In this Christian usage, ‘be baptised’, with بالما والروح, ‘in water and the Spirit’. In other contexts, the same verb means ‘lean upon’ or ‘rely on’.

البيادر

Floors where grain is threshed. The concrete term has been retained despite the unusual sequence.

الزوان

Darnel, a weed separated from wheat at harvest. The text makes the angels the agents of this separation.

الختن

‘The bridegroom’, here the figure who arrives at night. The same kinship term can denote a son-in-law.

ديوانه

His register, like a register in which names are entered. ‘Book’ would be possible but would remove the administrative nuance.

أجنحتها

‘Their wings’. The possessive refers to the angels who carry the deceased towards Christ as judge.

الأراكنة

Dignitaries, a term related to Greek archōn (‘chief’, ‘ruler’).

ولد الخطيئة

‘The son of sin’. The manuscript introduces this figure in the speech’s political and religious prediction.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

17 · The peoples and kings in the vision of the end

قدس القدس

Literally ‘the holy of the holy’. The phrase here denotes the sacred place in Jerusalem.

بعلزبوب

A name transmitted as Beelzebub. The speech places him, with Iblīs, within a sacred and polemical geography.

حام بن نوح

Ham, son of Noah. This genealogy belongs to the polemical language of the apocalyptic narrative. The manuscript attributes it to Christ.

الخراج

A tribute or tax, often levied on land. The complement that would specify its scope here remains difficult to read.

سجود

Prostration is a precise gesture in the text’s comparison, distinct from the general term ‘prayer’.

يستحل

‘He deems lawful’, within a religious accusation. This description is the one constructed by the Christian narrator.

لجامها

‘Its bridle’. The sentence incorporates the nails of the crucifixion into the royal horse’s harness.

الكنة

The daughter-in-law. Alongside حماتها, ‘her mother-in-law’, the term gives a reciprocal form to the enumeration of family violence.

الأراكنة

A Christian term for princes or dignitaries, derived from archōn. Associated with rulers and powers in this vision of judgement, it denotes the authorities Christ says he will abolish.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

18 · The judgement, the beatitudes and the curses

خلعة

A robe of honour bestowed as a mark of favour. Here the garment represents the gift received from the Holy Spirit.

السواح

In everyday usage, ‘travellers’. In this passage, their journeys through the mountains extend the consecrated life of those dwelling in the wilderness, hence the choice of ‘itinerant ascetics’.

استشفع

Asking someone to intercede on one’s behalf. The text explicitly directs this request to Mary, then to those in whom it places a power of healing.

العشر

A tenth of one’s possessions, that is, the tithe. The place to which it is given, ‘my houses’, refers to the churches mentioned in the context.

ملشيسداق

A form of the name Melchizedek. The comparison of his offerings with the work of the hands connects a figure from Genesis with the liturgy described here.

الأوساق

Burdens or loads. Here the word refers to the religious burdens imposed on others in the reproach addressed to the teachers and Pharisees.

الختن

In this wedding narrative, the word denotes the bridegroom, the one whom the young women await with their lamps.

غير معتمدة

In this Christian text, iʿtamada means to receive baptism. The expression, in the feminine, therefore means ‘a woman who has not received baptism’.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

19 · The trials and the lament over Jerusalem

يفصح

‘Celebrate Passover’. The text distinguishes the Jewish feast from the Christian feast and sets out polemical prohibitions in this connection.

الناقوس

An instrument struck to announce the time of worship. Depending on the place and period, it may be a bell or a sounding board.

يوم قيامتي

The ‘day of my Resurrection’ here denotes the weekly day of Christian celebration, Sunday.

عمود الصلب

Literally ‘the stake of crucifixion’. The expression denotes the wood of the cross.

سلطان الأراكنة

‘Power of princes’ or ‘authority of the archons’.

جبروتي

‘My sovereign power’, conveying a sense of irresistible majesty.

الزوان

‘Darnel’, a weed sorted out after the harvest. The comparison with judgement takes up the image in Matthew 13.

المصاحف

Plural of muṣḥaf. Here, ‘bound volumes’ or ‘registers’, containing human deeds.

ابيضّت للحصاد

The fields that ‘grow white for harvest’ recall John 4:35.

الصيرة

The ‘enclosure’ or ‘sheepfold’ into which the sheep are brought back.

المسوح

Coarse sackcloth garments worn as a sign of penitence.

الحوت

A large fish, sometimes understood as a whale in the story of Jonah.

حمر القفار

‘Asses of the deserts’ or ‘onagers of desolate places’.

السميذ

Fine wheat flour or ‘finest flour’ used for the offering.

عصيرة الكرمة

Literally ‘juice pressed from the vine’. The author introduces the second eucharistic element.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

20 · Baptism, the messengers and the promise of return

الندّ

Nadd denotes a compound perfume, also used as incense.

يعتمد بالماء والروح

‘Be baptised in water and the Spirit’. The formula recurs like a litany.

بشارتي

‘My good news’, or ‘my Gospel’ in the sense of the proclamation of salvation.

جهنم

Gehenna, place of punishment. The copy reads جهنم

وليمة الختن

The ḥatan is here the bridegroom. His feast is an image of the blessedness to come.

قيذار

Kedar, the biblical name of a son of Ishmael and of a people. The epithet that follows belongs to the narrative’s polemical vision.

خفاف

Soft shoes or leather slippers.

ابن الهلاك

‘Son of perdition’, an expression associated with betrayal and rejection in early Christian vocabulary.

السحب

‘The clouds’. Here they serve as mounts for travelling long distances.

ألواح قلوبكم

‘The tablets of your hearts’. The image associates the disciples’ memory with an enduring inscription.

حساب النجوم

The calculation of the stars. In this enumeration of powers, the term evokes the practices of astrologers.

سابوع

A week or a period of seven units. The numbers in this prediction are difficult to read and interpret.

الصور

The trumpet whose sound accompanies the resurrection. The text explicitly names Michael in this role.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

21 · The Passover table, the washing of feet and the garden

قرية التينة

‘The village of the Fig Tree’. The narrative identifies it by the house of Lazarus.

علية صهيون

The upper room of Zion, a room on an upper floor. The description emphasises its furnishings prepared for the meal.

الصفا

The rock. Simon's epithet can be translated 'Peter', but 'the Rock' makes the text's image visible.

القرعة

The casting of lots. In this version of the Last Supper, Judas himself proposes it, and the lot falls on him three times.

الوصية الجديدة

'The new commandment' is the literal reading here. 'The new covenant' would recall a different liturgical formulation.

بأمانة

In this context, 'with faith', but the term also evokes faithfulness, loyalty and trust.

صورتك آدم

'Your image, Adam'. In the prayer, Adam's salvation gives meaning to Christ's consent.

اسخريوط الصغيرة

'The Little Iscariot'. The writer explains Judas's epithet by a birthplace named here.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

22 · Pilate’s standards · The martyrdom of Stephen

البنود

The standards or banners. The narrative attributes the act of prostration to the objects themselves.

الراعي

‘The shepherd’. The scattering of the flock provides an image for the scattering of the disciples.

ستين

Sixty men, divided into six groups of ten. The two tests involving the standards form a scene in their own right.

استشهد

In this context, ‘suffer martyrdom’. The meanings ‘bear witness’ and ‘call to witness’ belong to the same root.

Within the same two-page spread in view 120, the account of Pilate stops in the midst of his arrangements to test the standards. The facing page already speaks of Stephen. The intervening passage is missing here.

Review the Arabic · Review the translation

23 · The apostles’ writings, the end of the book and its inscriptions

السبعين

The ‘seventy’ disciples, whom the text distinguishes from the Twelve. Mark is numbered among the seventy.

ورق الدنيا

‘The paper of the world’. The narrator imagines the quantity of material needed to record all the signs.

السراير

‘The mysteries’ or ‘the secrets’. The title Book of Mysteries appears in the ownership inscription at the foot of f. 117v. Zaki showed from the colour image that the formula of forgiveness covers an erased line. The earlier wording is lost.

من آب

The twenty-ninth of āb, which here falls on a Thursday. The copy dates from 1196, and the Hijri numeral is read as 592. For the era of Alexander, Zaki reads 1506 and the Sinai Manuscripts Data Portal 1580. The tens and units remain unresolved in the transcription.

بني المعمودية

The ‘children of baptism’, that is, the baptised. The prayer extends from the scribe and his parents to his entire community.

استعار

‘He borrowed’. The note provides for the volume’s return to a priest named Sergius and threatens anyone who would keep it. It differs from the reworked ownership inscription on the preceding folio.

غطسات

‘Immersions’ or ‘dippings’. Below the loan note, another hand added a comparison between the eagle with renewed plumage and the three immersions of baptism.

Understanding the manuscript

The ‘I’ who speaks at the end of the narrative presents himself as John. This attribution forms part of the work. The tradition is also known through other Arabic manuscripts and an Ethiopic version. The Milan manuscript was edited with a Latin translation by Giovanni Galbiati in 1957.

The sequence of views has been preserved, including where the narrative moves from Cain to the appearances of the Risen One, and then from Pilate’s standards to the martyrdom of Stephen. The Ascension thus appears within the first few dozen folios. The two repeated photographs are transcribed only once. Ellipses may also mark the resumption of a sentence at a change of folio.

This translation follows the wording of the witness. Parts of the text remain difficult to establish from the microfilm, particularly in the apocalyptic discourse and the final notes. The proposed Arabic readings and translations of damaged passages constitute a working edition. Each ‘View’ reference leads to the photograph so that readers can check a name, a word or an omission.

The speeches attributed to Jesus contain collective accusations against the Jews and predictions hostile to Muslims. They belong to the Christian polemic of this medieval narrative. Comparisons with the Gospels illuminate both borrowed vocabulary and the distinctive departures in this copy.

Gustave Doré's engravings accompany the episodes they depict in the nineteenth-century biblical tradition. The pages photographed in black and white come from the Sinai witness. Below the loan note, another hand added a comparison between baptism and the eagle renewing its plumage. The legible beginning of this addition is distinguished from John's narrative. The other works in the collection are independent texts.

[...] عريانا أنا. فقال له الرب: [خالفت] وصيتي وأكلت من الثمرة التي أنهيتك عنها؟ [أحسدك] الإله كما أوعدك الشيطان أم حصلت على الموت كما قلت لك؟ فقال آدم: يا رب، المرأة التي أعطيتني هي التي دعتني وأطعمتني من الثمرة التي نهيتني عنها. فقال لحوا: لم خالفتِ الوصية؟ فقالت: يا رب، إن الحية أطعمتني.

فلعن الله الحية من ذلك الوقت وقال لها: ملعونة تكونين من بين ساير الحيوان التي على الأرض، وتكونين من الآن سعيك على بطنك ويكون التراب طعامك ساير أيام حياتك، والعداوة قايمة بين زرعك وبين زرع المرأة حتى يكونوا أولادها يرضّون راسك وأنت تلزعينهم في أعقاب أرجلهم.

ثم قال الله لحوا: من أجل أنك قررتِ في نفسك أن تكوني فوق آدم وهو يكون دونك، فبالأوجاع [...] تكونين. بعد ذلك ترجعين، وأنه مسلط عليك. ثم نظر إلى آدم وصورته فجرّد ذاته وقرّنه من برّه، مخبرا فقال له: ملعونة تكون الأرض من أجلك يا آدم،

والشوك والدردار تنبت لك، ومن عرق جبينك تأكل الخبز إلى أن ترجع إلى الأرض التي منها خلقت، فإنك من التراب خلقت وإلى التراب تعود.

وطرد آدم وحوا من الفردوس وأخرجهما عنه، وأغلق بابه في وجوههما ووكّل بباب الفردوس كروبي، في إيده حربة من نار موقدة على باب الفردوس، ليلا يدخل آدم ويأكل من شجرة الحياة المنصوبة فيه ويعيش بغير زوال. ولم يوقف الرب على باب الفردوس حذرا أن يحيى آدم ثانية، وإنما أقامه ليكون له حاجبا لأقنوم الكلمة ليلا ينظر آدم إلى صورته في أقنوم البنوة وينقطع

وكان سقوط آدم وحوا من فردوس عدن النعيم في طور راهبا المقدس وجبل الكنوز. وكان كلما استنشقا رايحة الفردوس من حيث لا يتهيأ لهما الوصول إليه، إذ كان الرب قد وكّل به ملاكا من

فقدما قربانيهما، فقبل الله قربان هابيل وأرذل قربان قاين. فلأجل ذلك حسد قاين لهابيل أخاه على ذلك واغتاله فقتله. فلما قتل قاين أخيه هابيل تجلى الله على قاين من غمامة وقال: قاين قاين، أين أخيك هابيل؟ فأجابه قاين بغلظ قلبه وقال له: ناطور كنت على هابيل حتى أقف على

وعسقلان وعان ومدينة نايين وأشباه ذلك في المدن. وأمر سيدنا المسيح في ذلك الوقت خلق عظيم من اليهود. وبعد الدفعة الأولى، وأجمع بعد الأرصصل الذي شرحت بعد قيامه لسيدنا المسيح من القبر، سمعان الصفا ويعقوب ويوحنا المطاهرون على سراير سيدنا المسيح، نظر به في غرفة، كانت هناك ليعقوب وليوحنا. قال سمعان ليعقوب وليوحنا: نمضي في هذه الليلة نصطاد من البحيرة سمك. فقال له يعقوب ويوحنا: نحن ناسا غيرك، ومحال أنتم معي. جلسوا في سفينة كانت لهم، فما موال ليلتهم إلى أن مضى في الليل ثلثة أرباعه، مجتهدون ولم يصطادون شي من السمك.

فلما كان الربع الأخير أتاهم سيدنا المسيح ماشيا على المياه. فلما رأوه قال بعضهم لبعض: أترى وهو الخيال الذي نراه على الما هو الرب؟ قال بعضهم: تخايل لي هو. وخاب سمعان عريانا

تناول ميزره فاتزر به وقال: يا رب إذا لي في الدنو منك؟ قال له الإله: ها أدنُ. فنزل من السفينة ومشى على الما، لم أنه يداخل قلبه شي من الشك في ذلك الوقت، مشارف للغرق فاستغاث وقال: يا ربّي نجّيني. فأعطاه سيدنا يده وقال: يا سمعان نداخلك تهالكت فيه الشك؟ فقال: نعم يا رب. والتفوا يعقوب ويوحنا راجعين إلى شط البحيرة وتراءى لهما سيدنا لتلاميذه في بحيرة طبرية، فإنهما قاموا ليلتهم هناك يلتمسون صيد السمك فلم يصيدوا في الليلة شيا.

فلما كان وجه الصبح أبصروا سيدنا واقفا على الما وصاح لهم وقال لهم: أيها الشباب، هل معكم شي من الطعام نناوله مما عسا شي نقطعه في هذا الوقت؟ فقال لهم: وبأي سبب فما لكم شي؟ فقالوا له: إننا منذ أول الليل مجتهدين بأن نصيد شيا. فقال لهم: تعال معي. سيدنا لم يقول سوا كلم، لم أحد يفوهها، فلم يتهيأ لهم أن ينتشلوها إلا بعد اجتهاد شديد. فلما أن أخرجوها من الما وجدوا عدد السمك الذي كان منها، وحيث لم يعلموا ما سيفعله المسيح، ماية وثلثة وخمسين سمكة عظاما. وكثر تعجبهم في ذلك ومن إمساك الشبكة بالسمك الذي كان فيها وحيث لم تمزق.

فإنهم نظروا إلى من قد أرسل الما إلى أن ألقوا الشبكة فيه، فوجدوا مائتين ذراعًا بذراع الملك. وصعد سيدنا يسوع المسيح من الما إلى شط البحيرة، وجمع التلاميذ إلى هناك، قال لهم: جرّوا الشبكة مع السمك الذي اصطدتّم إلى الأرض. فأعلموه أنهم ما يتهيأ لهم ذلك لثقل الشبكة. وبينا هم يكلّمونه في أمر الشبكة ومينا جنيسار صار هناك جمر نار ملتهب وعليه سمك وشقان فراش نوى في ناجية من النار.

[...] وخبز كثير وعدة قرص شهد. فبارك سيدنا عليهم وقسم لهم فيما بينهم. هذه الدفعة الثالثة من الدفعات التي ظهر المسيح لتلاميذه الأحد عشر بعد قيامته من القبر. لم يعدّ، لكن كان يتراءى للواحد وللاثنين والثلثة والأكثر والأقل وهم مفترقين. وتراءى منه لسمعان ويوحنا وقال لسمعان: يا سمعان بن يونان، تحبني؟ فقال: نعم يا رب إني أحبك. فقال له: ارع خرافي. قال له: يا سمعان بن يونان تحبني؟ فقال: نعم يا رب إني أحبك. قال له: ارع لي كباشي. ثم قال له ثالثة: يا سمعان بن يونان تحبني؟ فاغتم سمعان وحزن لتردد سيدنا المسألة في محبته، فقال له: إن علمك يا رب محيط بكل شي فأنت عالم بمحبتي لك. فقال سيدنا: ارع لي نعاجي.

ثم قال سيدنا لسمعان: اعلم يا سمعان أنك حيث كنت شاب كنت بيدك تتولى شدّ وسطك وتمضي حيث تشاء، ومن الآن عند شيبوختك يتولى غيرك يشدّ وسطك ويمضي بك حيث لا تريد. ثم قال له: تعال في أثري. فمضى سمعان معه والتفت وأبصر التلميذ الذي يحبه يسوع المسيح فكان يطلعه على سرايره، وهو يتبعهما. فقال سمعان لسيدنا: هذا أخيك يتبعنا. فقال له المسيح: ادعه يتبعنا وأني إن شئت يبقا هذا إلى إتياني الثاني لكان ذلك، ولا يعترض عليه. تعال في طلبي. ولم يقل هذا الرب لسمعان بكراهية لمكان يوحنا، وإنما لمحبته كان، لكونه معه حيث ما مضى سيدنا المسيح في اتباعه. وشاع ما قال سيدنا المسيح في يوحنا الحبيب بين التلاميذ.

وبعد ذلك في بعض المنازل كانوا مستترين من اليهود، إن كانوا يطلبونهم طلبا شديدا ليقتلوهم. فبينما هم التلاميذ جلوسا في ذلك المنزل وأبوابه مغلقة عليهم حتى نظروا إلى صورة إنسان قد دخل عليهم، وكثر تعجبهم من ذلك وقالوا فيما بينهم: تُرى دخل هذا والأبواب مغلقة

وكان ذلك اليوم الثامن من بعد قيامة سيدنا من القبر. وفزعوا من ذلك فزعا شديدا. فقال لهم: السلام عليكم. فقالوا له فيما بينهم:

من هذا المسلّم علينا؟ وقاموا بأجمعهم إلى الأبواب وجدوها مغلقة. فقال لهم ثانية: السلام عليكم، أنا المسيح لا تخافوا أنا هو، فلا تحزنوا ولا تجزعوا، بل مرّوا وانظروا وحسوا جسدي ولا تحسبوني من الأرواح المحسة، فإن الريحاني ليس له لحم ولا عظم. ثم تناول بيد توما وقال له: ادخل إصبعك في جنبي ووقع على موضع الطعنة التي طعنني فيها اليهود حين قد ركوني على الصلب، واجسس أيضا موضع المسامير من إيدي ورجلي. ولون توما ووقع يوما على وجهه ما أعلمه السيد وارتعدت يداه. قال له: أنت ربي وإلاهي. فقال له يسوع: أما أنت حيث وقعت على العلامات التي في جسدي، طوبا للذين يؤمنون بي وما أبصروني.

وإنما قال وانفعل سيدنا ذلك ومكّن توما من جس جسده لأنه كان بقيامته من القبر متشاككا، بل كانوا آمنوا لجسده. من لم يقبل ابنه يواقيم، فإنه كان من الأساعشر والتسعين قوم من الزنادقة الذين لا يؤمنون بالقيامة. وإن سيدنا المسيح قال لتوما وقت جسه لجسده: يا توما أطال الزندقة ولئن لي أنا القيامة وأنا الحياة، وأنا الذي أميت وأنا الذي أحيي، وهو المن أخلص الأحياء بي. والويل لمن كذبني، يا توما. فصدّق الآن بالقيامة واعلم أن الموتا ينامسون ويقومون من الموت عند القيامة. العازر وابنة

والعجايب أكثر مما تفعله التلاميذ كلهم. وهذا أجمع كان في اليوم الثامن من بعد قيامة سيدنا يسوع المسيح من القبر. فاذ ذكر ذلك سيدنا لمريم أم النور ولسمعان الصفا وليحنا الحبيب. ولما كان تمام الثلثين يوما من قيامة سيدنا المسيح من القبر ترايا سيدنا لمريم أم النور ولسمعان الصفا وليحنا الحبيب وسار بهم إلى طور زيتنا وكشف لهم السراير وشرح لهما من الابتداء وإلى القيامة، وخبر بما يكون من المؤمنين ومن الكفار بلاهوته بعد صعوده إلى السما بعد القيامة، فإنه أخبرهم بأحوال العالم الجديد وما يكون فيه وأحوال أورشليم العليا ومراتب الصديقين في العالم الآتي ومراتب الكفار والخطاة.

ولما كان بعد تمام أربعين يوما من قيامة سيدنا المسيح من القبر ترايا سيدنا لتلاميذه وقال لهم: اجتمعوا إلى طور زيتنا. فاجتمعوا إلى هناك وظهر لهم مثل واحد منهم، وقال لهم: إني صاعد إلى

سمي ومجدي وإلى أبي وأبيكم، إلى الموضع الذي لم أزل منه، لأني لم أبرح من هناك. ليخلع عليكم روح القدس، فإني إذا اطلعت إلى السما وجهت به إليكم ليوقفكم على السراير. فإنه يستخدم بي ويعطيكم إذا كان منّي لبس، وهو معي أيضا ومع الآب، وهو روح القدس. ويحل عليكم حلول الشمس على وجه الأرض. وإذا سكن فيكم وأعلمكم كل ما تحتاجون إليه وسكن فيكم وتكلمون الفراح العظيمة من غير أن ينفصل من الآب.

ثم رناهم الله ونفخ في وجوههم وقال لهم: اقبلوا روح القدس. على مثال هذه النفخة صارت في آدم نسمة الحياة. وإذا جاكم البارقليط الذي هو روح القدس الذي أنا مبعثه إليكم بعد صعودي إلى السما، تفرّقوا في ساير أقطار الأرض وبشّروا ابتيا مني واعمّدوا الناس باسم الآب والابن وروح القدس. من يؤمن بي ويعتمد عاش

ومن لم يؤمن بي ويعتمد فقد أهلك نفسه. فأما أنتم فإنكم باسمي تخرجون الشياطين وتتكلمون بألسن الأمم وتأخذون بأيديكم الأفاعي والحيات والأسود، وكما [...] ولتشربون سم الموت ولا

يأذيكم شي، وتضعون يديكم على المرضى ويستقون، وعلى أهل العاهات ويعافون.

فلما قال سيدنا هذا الكلام وكان جماعة التلاميذ مجتمعين، أحاطت بنا غمامة بهية عظيمة بالجبل كله، وأبصرنا سلّما من نار منصوبة من السما إلى الأرض، واثني عشر أجناد الملائكة، الحاروسم والسارافيم، حولها. وكان في إيدي بعضهم بحري شعبوات وبنوات من نور يبخّرون وأهلهم فيها، وارتفع ذلك الوقت من الجبل رايحة طيبة لم يكن مثالها على الأرض، كأنها كانت أذْفار من روايح المسك والعنبر والصبر أغلى. ونار وموكبة من نار وحولها وجوه من نار، وجميعهم طالعون إلى السما ونازلون إلى الأرض. ورأينا نور من الملائكة في أيديهم أماطريات بهذا [...] وعليها بخور أذكى من كل طيب. وأجنحة الملايكة تخفق بعضها لبعض.

ثم رأينا وجه الرب وقد ازداد نورا وصارت الشمس المنيرة فإنه كان أكثر نورا منها بألف ضعف. فلما رأوه التلاميذ ذلك وقعوا على وجوههم سجدا، وتداخلهم فزعة شديدة ومخافة هايلة، وبكوا إلى أكثر. فقال لهم سيدنا المسيح: انهضوا ولا تجزعوا فليس أخليكم يتامى، وأقيموا بأورشليم حتى تنقلوا القوة من العلا. ثم

تقدّم سيدنا المسيح وأخذ بيد سمعان ويعقوب ويوحنا وأقامهم على أقدامهم. وأعطى لسمعان مفتاح السما والأرض وقال له: أنت الصفا الذي عليه أبني كنيستي الذي أبواب الجحيم لا يتحلها ولا ينهبار ولها إلى وقت إتياني الثاني للدينونة. ثم قال في هذا الموضع: إن ناس منكم لا يذوقون

الموت إلى أن نوافي ثانية في العالم. واعلموا أن كل ما تربطونه في الأرض فأنا أربطه في السما، وكل ما حللتموه في الأرض أنا أحلّه في السما. ثم بسط لمسته الطاهرة على بطرس وجميع التلاميذ وقال لهم: قد أعطيتكم سلطانا على جميع العالم، حتى أنكم إن غفرتموا في الأرض لإنسان ذنوبه غفرها له، وإن لم تغفروها لم نغفر له. وخوّلتكم سلطانا وكهنوة هارون والسلم الجليل ملشيسداق، وسلطتكم على أنفس ساير المخلوقين المستروهم بملكوت السما. إذ هم ايتوا بي وأخبروا المؤمنين بي أن كل إنسان من المعمّدين أدخل إلى منزله واحد من كهنتي بعد كل أربعين يوم وقبله بأمانة، دخلت أنا معه إلى ذلك المنزل وغفرت لأهل المنزل جميع خطاياهم وباركت عليهم.

وأي إنسان لم يدخل كاهنا إلى منزله من بعد أربعين يوم ولم يباركوا الكهنة منزله في هذه المدة، لم أقبل له صلاة أربعين يوم،

واستخفّ بإيماني [؟] المنافقين، إذ كان في مدة أربعين يوم لم تريحك كاهن منزله. وذلك جعلت طلوعي إلى السما بعد أربعين يوم من قيامتي من القبر. وأي إنسان مدّ يده إلى كاهن من كهنتي أحرق يده بالنار الموقَدة، ولا يخالفوا أشيا من وصاياي والمحبة لبعضكم بعض، وكونوا أبدا متقين.

واعلموا أن روح القدس الذي أوعدتكم به يحل عليكم بعد عشرة أيام من طلوعي إلى السما. ثم بسط يمينه دفعة ثانية على الإحدى عشر وعلى السبعين تلميذا وبارك عليهم وأعطاهم سلطان ككهنوة هارون وخوّلهم قوة عظيمة. ولما فعل ذلك بالتلاميذ حلّق إلى السما على مركبة من نور وتزلزلت الأرض في ذلك العود للوقت واضطربت الجبال وأصلحت الرياح وأرعدت السحب وأبرقت الغيوم وارتفعت المركبة

التي حملته الملائكة وطارت معه الكاروبيم وقدست كراسية السارافيم وهلّلت القوات ومجّدت السلطان جميع السلاطين، وضجّ جبراييل ونفخ ميخاييل بالشاقوز وسبحت جميع الملائكة وارتجّت الأرض من تراييننا وجه سيدنا المسيح محلّقا إلى السما على أكتاف الكاروبيم وعلى أكتاف الرياح. وسمعنا صوت من السما يقول: مبارك هذا الرب من الآن وإلى دهر الداهرين، آمين.

وأصوات تقول: ارفعي أيتها الأبواب روسك وارتفعي أيتها الأبواب الدهرية، ليدخل ملك التسبيح والكرامة. وأصوات لهم قايلة: من هذا ملك المجد والكرامة؟ وأصوات قايلة: هو الرب القوي الجبّار.

ثم سمعنا صوت آخر يقول: ارفعي أيتها الأبواب الأبدية روسكم وارتفعي أيتها الأبواب الدهرية ليدخل ملك المجد. وإذا أصواتا تجيبهم أيضا وتقول: من هو هذا المجد والكرامة؟ فأجابتهم الأصوات الأولى: هو الرب القوي الجبار، هو الرب الملك الموقّر إلى الأبد. وسمعنا صوتا مثل الرعد العاصف قايلا: اطلع بالبوقات. طلع الرب بصوت القرن. وتمّت في ذلك القول نبوة داود النبي على هذا الصعود.

قالوا التلاميذ: إن سيدنا لما صعد إلى السما أقام في كل طبقة من مراتب الملائكة، وهي تسعة مراتب، يسبّحونه يوما يوما، يسجدونه ويهلّلونه ويقفون منه على ما كان من تأنسه. ولما أن كان في اليوم العاشر على ثلثة ساعات من يوم الأحد استوى جالسا على كرسي مجده. ولذلك حلّت روح القدس على التلاميذ في اليوم العاشر من صعود إلهنا إلى السما. فإنهم لما أن رأوه صاعدا من طور زيتنا ما زالوا وقوفا إلى أن غاب عن أعينهم.

ثم رجعوا إلى أورشليم وجلسوا في الهيكل قياما. ثم انتقلوا إلى غرفة صهيون، وأتا البارقليط الذي هو روح القدس كما أوعدهم بذلك سيدهم. فإنه انحط عليهم من السما كألسنة النار، ففتحوا أفواههم وقبلوه. فانطلق كل واحد من التلاميذ بلسان لسان يعرفه، ونزلوا من الغرفة إلى أورشليم وسمعوهم أهلها ومن بها في ذلك الوقت من الأعراب وهم يتكلمون بالألسنة غريبة وأنكروا اللغة منهم. وقالوا اليهود لبعضهم لبعض: هولا القوم سكارا قد شربوا خمرا وقد حملهم السكر على تخليط الكلام.

وإن التلاميذ لما دخلت عليهم روح القدس تكلم كل واحد منهم بألسنة الأمم كلها وأنارت في ذلك الوقت مدينة أورشليم، فإن علاها النور العظيم وكانت بها زلازل ورجفات كثيرة. وأكثر الناس فزعا من هذه الآيات، وآمن منهم خلق كثير من اليهود والأعراب. ولما أن كان وقت غياب الشمس في ذلك اليوم الذي جلّت فيه روح القدس على التلاميذ، امتلأت فيه صهيون نورا عظيما كالشمس وشعاع النار. وكانوا التلاميذ مجتمعين في الغرفة نياما فاستيقظوا من نومهم من الشعاع الذي علاهم، وسمعوا أصوات تهليل الرب وتقديسه من جميع النواحي.

وتراءى في ذلك الوقت سيدنا المسيح وقال لهم: تعزّوا وافرحوا وارتاحوا استباقا، فقد أعلمكم دفعات أن كل ما تسألونه فإني أعطيكم إياه. واعملوا على القرعة فيما بينكم على أقطار الأرض، وليمض كل واحد منكم إلى البلد الذي يقع سهمه، ويدعوا فيه لبشارتي. فلما كان في الغد حدّث

كل واحد منهم صاحبه بما رأى وسمع، واجتمعوا على الاقتراع على البلد، وكانوا المجتمعين على ذلك سمعان الصفا المسمّى بطرس، ويوحنا الحبيب وأندراوس ويعقوب بن زبدي وسمعان القناني ويهوذا. وصار في قسمه بطرس من البلدان رومية وأنطاكية والسواحل كلها، وقسم يوحنا مدينة أفسس، وفي قسم أندراوس وجوه الكلاب وترش الذي يأكلوا الناس، وفي قسم توما أرض الهند وهي الأرض التي حول الفردوس، وفي قسم فيلبس أرض الكوش وقرطاجنا، وفي قسم يعقوب بن يوسيف أورشليم، وفي قسم برثولوماوس مدينة بأرمينية وأرض الديلم، وفي قسم يعقوب بن زبدي أقصا المغرب عند مغيب الشمس، وفي قسم سمعان القناني قرية اليهود، وفي قسم يهوذا بارسينة، وفي قسم متيا الذي جُعل موضع يهوذا الهالك بلد سقليه وما حولها.

وقبل مسيرهم في البلدان كانوا يدعون الناس إلى الإيمان بالمسيح والتوبة في أرض أورشليم، ويظهرون العجايب المعجزة والآيات العظيمة. ورسموا سبعة شماسة، اختاروهم وجعلوهم محرّرين الهيكل. واستفانوس ريسهم وهو بن غمائيل. وكانوا هولا الشماسة يحررون التلاميذ ويتصرفون في خدمتهم وأمورهم. وكان استفانوس ينادي معهم بالبشارة بسيدنا المسيح ويدعون الناس إلى الإيمان به. فاغتاظ [قوم] وأقلبوا، وغمائيل والد استفانوس أحد من ألزمهم.

وكان يوسف الرامي صاحب خاتم بيلاطس، وكان البستان الذي دُفن فيه جسد المسيح ملك ليوسف بن تحاس بن عم غمائيل، وكان الجبّ الذي حمل تابوت العهد السفينة. فلما أن حُطّ جسد المسيح عند اليهود وكان الحجر الذي وضع على القبر هو كان الذي مع بني إسرائيل في وقت متاههم

في البرية، وفيه اثنا عشر عينا، وكان ينينك معهم. وكان نيقادموس يعلم الناموس بأورشليم، وأخوه أفلونيا يفسر الكتب وكان مسكنه عمواس. وإنما استخفوا هولا التلاميذ بسيدنا أن

يوسف الرامي تولى وضع جسد سيدنا في القبر واستوهبته من بيلاطس، ونيقادموس حمل من عنده الحنوط، وأفلونيا قبله بعمواس وجاء إلى منزله. ومع استفانوس بن غمائيل الطاهر، فإنهم لما أن ظهر إيمانه ودعا الناس إلى الإيمان رجمه اليهود بمدينة أورشليم بالحجارة حتى أسلم روحه وانسحق بصره. على النظر إلى سيدنا وقت رجم اليهود له أبصره جالسا لنا في مجده وسبحه في السما عن يمين الآب وشافهه ووقفه على سراير قد كتبت في كتاب السراير المعروف بالبحثان، وصار

فلما مضت هذه السنون منذ وقت خروج آدم أبينا من الفردوس اقترب خلاص جميع العالم واستنقاذهم من ذلّ الشيطان، لأنه فاز خبره عليهم حتى عبدوا الأصنام دون الله. فانتخب الرب من ساير خلقته مريم السيدة واصطفاها. ولم تزل في أصلاب الآباء الأطهار حتى ولدت من أبيها وأمها البارين من نسل داود المعدوم في الأنبياء بن إيشى. فلما نشأت السيدة مريم القديسة جعلها أبواها خادمة لهيكل الله، وكانت فيه في عزّ من عزيز وربا ونشو.

فلما كملت كمال النشو وسكنت مدينة الناصرة في الجليل، أمر الله جبراييل الملاك الذي انتخبه وجعله رئيس الملائكة، وكان في

معه من أجناس الملايكة، وقال له: امض إلى بتّ بواقيـم الساكنة لمدينة الناصرة وبشّرها باختياري إياها. فصار إليها جبراييل الملاك في أيام خلت من الشهر السادس من سنين العالم، يعني آذار. فوقف لها بحيث أبصرته وقال: السلام عليكِ، الرب معك، مباركة أنتِ في النسا ومبارك الذي يولد منك. ثم خبّرها بحلول كلمة الله فيها، وخبّرها أيضا بحال أليضابط نسيبتها العاقر وأنها تحبل وتلد يوحنا المعمدان. وكثر تعجب مريم من ذلك وقالت: كل ما يشا الرب يكون. ورجع جبراييل إلى مرتبته في السما العليا.

وبدأ بطن مريم يكبر منذ سمعت كلام جبراييل، وصار يزداد بنعمة الله. وخُبّر بحبلها في شعوب بني إسرائيل وشاع في جماعتهم أن مريم بنت يواقيـم قد زنت وحبلت، وعند ذلك أحبارهم فأنكروا ما أبطن لهم من هذا الأمر. وكان لهم ما التجربة والبحران الذي أوقف الله عليه موسى صفيّه، فإنه كان أي امرأة زنت في بني إسرائيل واستقت من ذلك الما انتفخ بطنها وأنتنت وهلكت. فأحضروا مشايخ بني إسرائيل وليوسف بن عمر من هو مؤتمن

عليها، وقالوا له: أحضر لنا خطيبتك وابنة عمك مريم لتعرف قدامنا من أحبلها وأفسد عذرتها.

فاستحيا لهم يوسف وأتى إلى مريم العذري الطاهرة وهو باكي حزين يريدها بالرفقة وشفقته عليها. وقال لها: يا ابنة اليهود، اعرفيني من أين حبلك وعرّفيني من الذي افترعك. فخبرته بشروح محنتها بما قد نواه الجماعة، وأعلمته حال جبراييل الملاك وسلامه عليها وما خاطبها به. فلم يقبل يوسف منها

ذلك الحديث بيدها، وسار بها إلى مشايخ بني إسرائيل وخبرهم بما قالت له. فانطلقوا بها إلى الجبل الذي كان يخرج منه ما البحران، فلما سقوها منه وشربته أنار وجهها حتى صار مثل ضو الشمس في إبانها، وكان يخرج من أسفل لباسها مثل البرق الذي يخطف الأبصار، فكان يغطي منه جميع الجبل. فلما أبصروا هذه الآية العظيمة من كان هناك من اليهود نكّسوا رؤسهم وسجدوا أمام مريم الطاهرة، وآمن منهم خلق عظيم بحلول الكلمة في مريم المقدسة. وسبّحوا إله إسرائيل الذي تعاهد شعبه وجعل له الخلاص، من أبينه داود كما قال في كتبه على ألسنة أنبياه.

وتمّ قول داود النبي: إن الأمياه نظرت إليك وفرعت يا رب. لما دنت مريم البتول إلى المكان ما التجربة خرج منه صوت عظيم حتى فزع من ذلك من كان هناك من اليهود. كان الذي ظهر في وقت شرب مريم ما البحران من الآيات. هذا أول عمله صنع يسوع المسيح وهو في بطن أمه.

فلما اقترب أوان مولد يسوع المسيح إلهنا ومخلصنا، خرج أمر من قيصر الملك بإحصا بني إسرائيل في مداينهم. فخرج يوسف النجار خطيب مريم من الناصرة وحمل مريم للمسير إلى بيت لحم مدينة داود ليكتب اسمه هناك، إذ كانت مريم ابنة عمه من نسل داود. وأخذ مريم المخاض الذي كان وأسرع بها يوسف المسير حتى أدخلها إلى بيت لحم. فاستندت مريم إلى مغارة كانت هناك لشدة المخاض الذي كان بها، فولدت ابنها

البكر مخلص العالمين. فذلك قول النبي الذي قال: وأنتِ يا بيت لحم يهوذا لست أنتِ بصغيرة في ملوكته، لستها إلا إنه منك يخرج راعي إسرائيل. وكان في المغارة التي ولدت بها مريم البتول في بيت لحم مغارة وفيها مذود صغير، فلفّت مريم المولود وجعلته بذلك المذود مهدا ودعت اسمه يسوع كما أوصاها ملاك الله قبل أن تحمله.

وكانت قابلته امرأة اجتازت في وقت دخول مريم بيت لحم بذلك الموضع يقال لها صالومي. وشاع الخبر في البلدان أن امرأة ولدت في بيت لحم غلاما، وأن بعد ولادتها لقيت عذرا. فلما سمعت صالوميا القابلة ذلك شكّت وقالت: هذه امرأة قد ولدت وزنت في بني إسرائيل وافتحت سمعها إلى اليهود. أَوَما بي ما أمتحن هذه المرأة وأضمر [؟] إن كانت بعد ولادتها بابنها يسوع كما قيل أم لا؟ فدخلت يدها في جسد مريم الطاهرة لتجسّ عذرتها. وعند ذلك أن صالومي يبست يدها من وقت مدّها إلى موضع الإبط وارتعدت فوقعت على وجهها واسترحمت.

وقالت: ارحميني أيتها السيدة، ارحميني يا والدة النور، ارحميني يا مسكن النور والروح، ارحميني يا والدة الإله. فقالت لها السيدة: اطلبي الرحمة ممن جدّفتِ عليه وشككتي فيه. فقالت صالومي: ائذني أيتها ابنة آبينا الشريفة المجرَّبة مني، ولكن ادنيني من ابنك كي أن تحقق عندي نبوة إشعيا النبي ابن أموص حيث قال إن البتول تحبل وتلد ابنا ويدعا اسمه عمانويل الذي تفسيره حاصل معنا [...].

رأس القصة الثالثة. وكان مولد يسوع سيدنا وإلهنا يسوع المسيح من الطاهرة مريم في خمسة وعشرين يوما من الشهر الرابع من سنين العالم وهو كانون الأول. وحاطت الملايكة في المغارة التي كانت ولادته فيها وشبّكت أجنحتها بعضها إلى بعض من السما إلى الأرض وصارت الأصنام تتساقط في جميع الدنيا، حتى أن إبليس لم يقدر يقيم

بحيله صنما حتى يسقط آخر، وأهرعت الشياطين إلى إبليس الأركون صاحبهم وقالوا له: يا سيدنا ما الداهية التي دهت سلطاننا؟ ومن هو هذا المولود في العالم الذي به قد تضعضعت قوتنا؟ قال لهم وهو يرعد: تخافنه، انتظروني قليلا حتى أجول أقطار الأرض وأفتش عن المولود وأنا آتيكم بخبره، فإن أمره ما يفوتني. وحلّق إبليس اللعين إلى الهوى منسّا إلى أسفل السما، فلبث ثم جال أقطار الأرض وبحث عن المولود فلم يقف على خبر ولا تحقق ولادة المسيح.

ورجع إلى أصحابه فوجدهم قد انكبوا على وجوههم خوفا، فلوّلهم وقال لهم: لا تخافون فإن ملكي لا يزول، ولا أنزع عنه إذ تلد العذرى غلاما الذي تنبأ عليه شعيا النبي، وقال إن العذرى تلد غلاما وتبقى بعد ولادتها عذرى بأورشليم، وإن المولود إذا وُلد ينزع عني ملكي وتسحق رياستي. فاغتظت عليه من نبوته هذه وقطّعت عليه بمنشى بن حزقيا فنشره بمنشار من خشب وأباده من الدنيا. فأنا قد حرقت ركنه قبل أن يأتي الذي أوعد به أن يهدر ركني.

إلا الأمر الذي نحن فيه في هذا الوقت من العجايب الكبار. قد وُلد في العالم أنبياء كثيرة ما نالنا من الوهن مثل الذي قد نالنا في وقتنا هذا. وقد طفنا أقطار الأرض وحلقت إلى الهوى وبلغت إلى الفلك وهطت البحار والأنهار، فلم أقف على خبر هذا المولود الذي ما نال ملكي وأجنادي من الوهن مثل الذي نالنا لولادته منذ الوقت الذي وُلد به موسى كليم الله وصفيه، الذي شق البحر بعصاته وصنع عشرة عجايب في أرض مصر.

فلما شارفوا وقربوا من المكان وجدوا الملائكة قد حاطت بالمغارة التي كان فيها المولود وسبلوا أجنحتهم من السماء إلى أسفل الأرض، فلم يستطع إبليس ولا أحد من جنوده أن يدنوا إلى بيت لحم أو إلى المغارة، فما هم لما دنوا من الملائكة حتى إليهم من أجنحتهم سهام من نار مثل البرق الخاطف. فطردوهم، فخسر الملعون ملك الأبالسة وجميع جنوده، وقال لها: اصبروا لي قليلاً حتى أمضي إلى برية بيت لحم وأسأل رعاتها عن هذا الخبر، فإنه عندهم صحيح. وكان هذا كله في اليوم الذي ولد فيه المسيح المخلص. فلما شارف إبليس رعاة البرية وكان عندهم أجناد الملائكة وهم جميعاً يقولون التسبيحة: في العلاء وعلى الأرض السلام

ذلك يوجب أن يكون المسيح مولود. فقال لهم نيقوديموس: قد علمتم أن سمعان الكاهن أعلمنا أنه لما أن شارفي وقت تفسيره مع آبائنا الكتب لبطليموس الملك ونقلها من لسان العبراني إلى اليوناني، فرأى إشعيا النبي أن العذرا تحبل وتلد ابنا ويدعى اسمه عمانويل، أتاه ملاك الله فقال له: إنك لا تذوق الموت ولا تزال أسيرا في هذه الدنيا أو تلد هذه العذرا وتراه بعيناك. فلما مضوا بنا حتى نسأل عن هذه القصة ونستقصي منه على أن عهدي لسمعان طويل فما منظور لنا نلتمسه. فإن وجدناه حيا فعلمنا أن المسيح لم يولد، وإن كان قد مات فقد ولد المسيح، فإنه كان قد أخبرنا عن الملاك الذي خاطبه في وقت شكه عن الحق. فانطلقوا أجمعهم إلى الهيكل فوجدوا سمعان حيا، فسلموا عليه وهو ساقط على الأرض من كبر سنه. فرد عليهم السلام وكان ضعيفا.

فقالوا له: أيها الشيخ المبارك، هل اقترب وقت مجي مخلص العالم الذي أنت تشتهيه وفي انتظاره وفي أسره؟ قال لهم سمعان فرحان: وقت ولادته ومجيه. فقالوا له: فكيف علمت بذلك؟ فقال: قد حسست بنشاط في بدني وتحلل من أوجاعي التي اكتسبتها بشكي في نبوة إشعيا على مخلص البشر، وقد خبرتني حنة أيضا النبية المقيمة معي في الهيكل بمثل هذا. ونال الشيطان واقفا مع القوم يسمع مسألتهم لسمعان وقوله لهم الجواب. فلما استمع قول المشايخ له وقوله لهم ازداد تحيرا في أموره ورجع إلى أجناده وأمرهم أن لا يبرحوا من جول بيت لحم لتزداد في ذلك التقصي عن أمر المخلص وميلاده. بعد ولاده بالجسد أربعين يوما صعدت مريم والدته ويوسف النجار على مطية إلى

الهيكل على رسم ناموس موسى بحمله وجعلا معه فرخي حمام وزوج يمام كما قال الناموس أن كل رجل يفتح عذره قدوسا لله يدعى فليفدوا عنه والديه فرخي حمام وزوج يمام. فلما دخلا الهيكل قام سمعان الكاهن الذي كان أسيرا في حياة الدنيا بشكه في نبوة إشعيا على مولد المسيح وإنه كان من كبر سنه منفصل الحواس كلها، وتنبأ الصبي ليصح قول النبي المغني بأنه إذا جا المخلص يثب الزمن كوثب الإيل. فتناول المسيح على يديه

وانفتحت عيناه حتى رآه وقال: من الآن أيها السيد تحل عبدك بسلام فقد رأت عيناه خلاصك الذي تهيت من أجله لسبب العالمين إذ كنت ضوا للشعوب وسبحا لآل إسرائيل. وقال ليوسف ولمريم وللجماعة ممن حضروا: هوذا الغلام محمد، وضع في صهيون لخلاص خلق وهلاك خلق، وكل من

وكل من يقع على هذا الحجر يترضض، وكل من يقع عليه يدقه، ويتم به آيات وعجايب كثرة تحيا بها القلوب، ويكون من أجله جروب كثيرة، ويظهر على يديه سراير عجيبة. وكان الشيطان في الهيكل في ذلك الوقت وسمع قول سمعان وحزن حزنا شديدا ورجع إلى أجناده فأخبرهم بما وقف عليه من خبر المولود، وقال لهم: اقصر في الحيلة عليه حتى أعرف إن كان من السما أو من الأنبياء الأبرار حتى أقتله وأبيد من الدنيا. حال في المجوس التي بيت لحم وأبصروا ملوك المجوس الذي كانوا في المشرق في السماء كوكبا نوره يشبه ضو الشمس، وكان ذلك النور ممدود من الكوكب كالعمود من السما إلى الأرض، وكان يحكي وسط الكوكب صورة جارية شابة حاملة غلاما صغيرا على رأسه تاج من نور. فلما نظروا المجوس إلى ذلك وكبره أبصروا في النجم

جسرا أحسبا فلم يجدوا كوكبا من الكواكب تغير عن مكانه. وحاروا الفلكانية على حاله، فقال بعضهم لبعض: قبيح لنا أن نرجع إلى صحف الوصايا التي خلفتها آباؤنا في خزاين الملك فإن وجدنا لهذا الكوكب فيها ذكر فالأمر مشكل. فأخرجوا من خزاين صحف الوصايا فوجدوا في وصية آدم إلى شيث ابنه أنه لا بد من تجسد الرب من الناس وحلوله في الأرض، فإذا حان ذلك ظهر كوكب في وسط السما إلى الأرض، ويكون في وسطه صورة جارية حاسنة على كرسي من نور وتحمل غلاما صبيا على راسه تاج من نور هابط بينه السما والأرض، إذ قال: ألا هو بالحالم، وإنه ينبغي أن يطلب الموضع الذي يولد فيه المولود الذي من أجله يطلع في ذلك الكوكب وأن يهدوا إليه الهدايا الذهب والمر واللبان

الذي كانوا الآباء حملوه من جبل الكنوز الذي كان انحط إليه آدم من الفردوس. فندب نفسه من ملوك الفرس قوم مجولون في طلب المولود، ثلاثة ملوك أخرجوا معهم ثلثين ألف رجل وحملوا معهم الذهب والمر واللبان الذي كان في الخزاين. وساروا نحو المغرب والكوكب يسير أمامهم ولقوا شدايد عظيمة في طريقهم لبعد المسافة، وإنهم وإنهم ساروا سنتين حتى أتوا أورشليم.

فدخل أهلها منهم روع شديد. وإذ كان ملك اليهود في زمان هروطس النبطي فوجهوا إلى ملوك الفرس رسلا ومعهم هدايا وفرغ منهم، وسألوا الرسل لملوك الفرس عن السبب الذي لوافاته إلى أرض فلسطين فقالوا لهم: رأينا وعلمنا من علو منازله قد ولد في المغرب ملك

جليل. وقد رشدنا كوكبه الطالع بأنه في بلادكم، وقد ولد فقصدنا لنسجد له. فلما فهم هرودس وقال لهم: إذ أوجدتم هذا الملك المولود وسجدتوا له فأجعلوا طريقكم علي وعرفوني أين موضعه حتى أصير أنا إليه وأسجد له. فضمنوا له ذلك ومضوا الملوك من أورشليم حتى وقفوا بمكان وقف الكوكب، فإنه وقف على مغارة بيت لحم. فدخلوا المغارة ووجدوا فيها جارية حامل طفلا ملفوفا بالخروق. فلما نظروا إليه سجدوا له وقربوا له القربان التي كانت معهم من الذهب والمر واللبان، وكذلك ليتم قول النبي داود حيث يقول إن ابنه الملك بالجسد قامت عن يمينك مشتملة باللباس الذهب المعدن. وقال أيضا داود بامر والمَيْعة والسليخة طيبت لباسك. فإن الذهب الذي أهدوا إليه المجوس إلى المخلص دليل على ثبات

ملكه، واللبان دليل على لاهوته والمر دليل على موت الجسد المأخوذ منا. ولما أن قربوا الملوك هداياهم للمولود سجدوا له وزودتهم رعاء من الخبز الشعير إذ لم يكن عندها سوى ذلك. وتراءى للملوك ملاك الرب وقال لهم: لا ترجعوا إلى هرودس واعدلوا في مسيركم من بيت لحم إلى بلدانكم عنه. فامتثلوا ما قال لهم الملاك الذي تراءى لهم. فلما أن تأخروا الملوك عن هرودس ووقف على مسيرهم على غير البلد الذي كان يسألهم، حمل ذلك على قلة عقله وقهر بما نالهم. وتداخله الشيطان وأحضر مشايخة اليهود بأورشليم وقال لهم: أين تخبروا في علمكم بمولد المسيح الذي سمعتكم يذكرونه يقولون

إنه سيولد في العالم ويخلص الناس من العبودية؟ فقالوا له مخدره: على ما قالت الأنبياء يولد في بيت لحم يهوذا، فإن بعض الأنبياء يقولون: وأنت يا بيت لحم يهوذا لست بتافهة من ملوك يهوذا إذ كان منك يخرج ملك يرعى شعب إسرائيل، وهذا الملك هو المسيح، وفي بيت لحم لا محالة يولد. وكان لما وجه هرودس لجمع اليهود لمسألتهم عن الموضع الذي يولد فيه المسيح تراءى ملاك الرب ليوسف النجار في نومه وقال: احمل الصبي وأمه وامض إلى مصر وأقم هاتك إلى الوقت الذي أتراءى إليك فيه

ثانية وآمرك بما تعمل به. حينئذ قام يوسف من نومه وحمل الصبي ومريم الطاهرة

إلى أرض مصر. فلما سمع هوردس ما قالوه المشايخة من جال ولادة المسيح أمر بقتل الأطفال الذي في بيت لحم من ابن سنتين وما دونها. ولم يزل يقتل حتى قتل من الأطفال خلق عظيم، وكان عدد الذي قتل من الأطفال أربعة عشر ألف طفلا. ولما حل سيدنا المسيح بمصر مع والدته حينئذ خربت بيوت تنيس ونفوس [...] الذي كانوا قد ابتنوها مدينته عين شمس لطغيان أهل مصر بآيات السحرة وانهذت الأوثان الخزفنة وتساقطت بيوتها وبادت أركانها. فأقام المسيح ليتم قول النبي الذي قال: من مصر دعوت ابني الحبيب. حال خروج السيد المسيح من مصر والمجيء مع اللص.

وتراءى ملاك الرب ليوسف بمصر بعد مدة وقال له: احمل الصبي وأمه وارجع إلى أرض فلسطين، فإن هرودس الملك الذي كان يطلبه قد هلك. فحمل يوسف المسيح ومريم وخرجوا من مصر. فلما أن وصلوا من طريقهم إلى الموضع المعروف بالعين الزاوقية كان في البقعة هناك لصوص يقطعون الطريق بنوبة، كانت تلحق كل واحد منهم في كل يوم. فعاينوا المسيح وأمه ويوسف من بعيد. فقالوا لأحدهم: هذا اليوم نوبتك، فانزل وحينا بهم. فنزل

ذلك اللص وأبصر سيدنا في حجر أمه على حمار فلحقه لمهادته ورحمة فتناول الصبي من حجر أمه وقبله على عينيه

وخديه وفمه وعانق يوسف وسلم عليه وجعل في حجر المسيح فضة كانت معه، فقال لمريم: قد وهب الله لكم جميع ما معكم. وقال لأصحابه: اجعلوا ما كان نصيبكم من هولاء القوم قرضه علي. فأسعفوه بما أراد. فسار يوسف بالصبي وأمه وذلك اللص ماشيا ما بين يدي المسيح كالمشيع لهم. ففيما هو يعدو لم يشعر إذ سقط على وجهه وأبرق سيفه ثلثة قطع. فقال له المسيح: اجمع سيفك يا طيطس وناولني إياه. فأخذ اللص الثلثة التي تكسرت من سيفه فناوله إياها فتناولها المسيح فعطفها على بعض، فرجع سيفه كما كان صحيحا. فلما نظر اللص إلى ما فعل المسيح بسيفه وإلى تسميته له وهو لا يعرفه أثر ذلك تعجبا وسجد له وسبح الله وقال للمسيح: يا رب اجعلني

ممن يكون معك ويتبع رضاك. فشكر يوسف ذلك اللص. وتناول كف المسيح وجعلها على راسه فسجد حينئذ القول له وقال: يا سيدي بارك علي. فقال له يسوع: حقا أقول لك إنك تسبق آدم إلى الفردوس وإليك أسلم مفاتيحه من عند الآب. وسمع هذا القول بعض أولادي اللصوص وخجل وجعل يستهزأ به ويقول: إن هذا

الغلام من أولاد الأنبياء، كيف يقول لمن سفك دهره الدما أنه يدخل إلى الفردوس ويتسلم مفاتيحه وأنه يسبق أبانا آدم إليه؟ فلما وقف يسوع على استهزائه وضحكه قال له: اعلم يا دومكس أنك غدا وأنت مع طيطس إن كنت لم تصدق كلام ربك وإلهك. فبهت ذاك اللص من قول يسوع له وتسميته إياه وهو لا يعرفه، فقال له في نفسه: كيف يطيق هذا الصبي أن يتكلم بالغيب وهذه

الأشيا، لست أشك إلا أنه من أولاد الأنبياء. فقال جمهور هولاء اللصوص: نحسبه لا محالة أنه المسيح مخلص العالم قد ولد وأنه هذا الصبي وهذه أمه العذرى. وافترقوا وسار يوسف بيسوع وأمه إلى مدينة الناصرة ليتم قول النبي الذي قال إنه إذا جا الإله العالي إلى الأرض فناصري يدعى. وقال النبي المصري أن الله يظهر من الناصرة في آخر الزمان وتجوز الملك والكهنوة والنبوة ويبدد بني إسرائيل في ساير أقطار العالم ولا يكون لهم اجتماع ولا رجعة. فلما سكن يسوع مدينة الناصرة ابتدأ يصنع العجايب. حال الأعجوبة الخامسة التي صنع في مدينة الناصرة في البقر المسروق.

وذلك ما ابتدى من العجايب أنه كان هناك رجل له نفوذ وكان كثير الصدقة والمعروف وهو ممن كان يترجى مجي المسيح وخلاص إسرائيل من الفساد وإلى غيره. فقوم لصوص من أهل القرية المعروفة بقدس العليا وسرقوا له ثلاث فدادين. وكان هذا الرجل اسمه ططينا، وكان في جوب البيت الذي كان ينزله يسوع وأمه بمدينة الناصرة. فلما اتصل خبره وذهاب فدنه شكر الله: يخلصك إله إسرائيل المنعم علي بغير استحقاق مني، الذي هو المعطي والآخذ. في قول أيوب

الصديق عند مصابه. فلقيه يوسف خطيب مريم فقال له يوسف: تعال معي إلى يسوع حتى يوقفك على من سرق فدنك. فمضى معه إلى المنزل الذي كان فيه يسوع. فلما رآه يسوع قال له من قبل يعرفه خبره: يا ططينا قد بلغني خبر شكرك لربك على مصابك، فلا تحزن فتعال معي حتى أوقفك على الذي سرقوا فدنك فإنهم في ظاهر طور ثابور الذي عليه أظهر مجدي. فمضى ططينا ويوسف مع يسوع. فلما وصلوا إلى ظاهر طور ثابور وجدوا اللصوص وقوفا هناك ما يتهيأ لهم سير وزمامهم

ولا يرجعون إلى ورائهم. فقال لهم يسوع: لماذا البقر بما لا يخل وخان ذمم الناخوذين؟ فقالوا له: يا سيدنا اغفر لنا الذي أتينا فقد أسينا وأخطينا. فقال لهم يسوع: قد غفرت لكم خطاياكم إن استمررتم في وشهدتم المسيح ومجده. وارتجع الرجل إليه فدادينه وأحسن إيمانه بالمسيح. حال الأعجوبة في السمك المسروق في بحيرة طبرية. وفي وقت مقام يسوع ووالدته ويوسف في الناصرة ساروا من الناصرة إلى مدينة طبرية لحاجة كانت ليوسف ومريم هناك. فلما دخلوا المدينة تركهم سيدنا ومضى إلى البحيرة التي بطبرية. فبينما هو كذلك واقف إذ دنت من الشط عددا من السفن الصيادين

وإذا واحد ممن كان فيها من الصيادين يتشغب ويقول أنه قد سرقوا أصحابه منه كلما اصطاده في ليلته من السمك وتركوه وعبروا. فقالوا: ندني أيدينا يدي عليهم. وقد أبصروا المسيح واقفا على البحيرة من حيث لم يعرفوه فقالوا: قد رضينا بما حكم به هذا الغلام بيننا وبينك. وخرجوا جميعا من سفنهم وقالوا: اسمع أيها الغلام، إن هذا الرجل رفيقا لنا وكان قد اصطاد سمك وهو رجل ضعيف وقد اتهم بعضنا فاحكم بيننا جميعا في ذلك بما تراه، فقد رضينا بك. فقال لهم يسوع: لست أحكم بينكم يا بني

المسيح لذلك الرجل: هل تنشط لحصاد حقلك هوذه؟ فقال له: نعم يا ربي ورب الأرض الذي لأمرك انقادت وتقدس بيديه. فقال له يسوع المسيح: ارفع راسك وانظر إلى حقلك كيف قد صار. ثم رفع راسه ونظر إلى الحقل فوجد السنبل وسبح الله كثيرا. فلما نظروا ذلك الجمع الذي كان هناك آمنوا بالسيد المسيح وقالوا من فم واحد: أنت المسيح ابن الله الذي عليه تنبت الأنبياء. وأراد صاحب الحقل يحدث أهل قريته فآمنوا به، فاستاذن يسوع صاحب الحقل في اتباعه فمنعه من ذلك وقال له: تمر على أمانتك ولا تجحد ما عاينت. وشهد هذا الرجل ليسوع بإرادته لنفسه ولبشره وخبر بعجايبه وآمن على يديه خلق كثير من اليهود والسمرة وأهل فلسطين. حال أعجوبة في الصورة. ودخل يسوع يوما الهيكل الذي

بأورشلم ومعه جماعة من اليهود وكهنتهم. وجعلوا اليهود يتعجبون من بنا الهيكل وعظمه وإتقانه، ثم قالوا ليسوع: أيها المعلم ما ترى إلى بناء هذا الهيكل ما أشرفه وأرتبه؟ فقال لهم يسوع: متى وقفتم على إني أعمل أعمالا لا تشاكل فلا تؤمنون؟ ثم رام التطلع إلى الهيكل فرأى فيه صورة مربعة جرت مثال التي هي مركبة محلها إنسان وأسد ونسر وثور. فقال فقال لليهود: ما هذه الصورة المربعة التي تجري مثال البني التي أصور؟ فقال لهم: ألستم تعلمون أنها صورة معبودة له بأنواع الأشياء؟ فقالوا له: نحن نعلم ذلك. قال لهم: أنا أمرت هذا التماثيل والصور أن يصيروا حيوانا ناطقا تؤمنون إني ابن البشر مسلط على كل شي وإن سلطاني بغيره؟ فقالوا له اليهود: الآن علمنا أن عقلك قد ذهب وطاش وهلك وأنك ابن يوسف

النجار. فقال لهم يسوع: إن لم أنا أصنع ما قلت لكم وأمر هذه الصورة بتكلم فاعلموا يقينا إني ابن يوسف النجار كما ذكرتم. فقالوا له: هات كما قلت حتى نراك نعلن ذلك علنا أنك المسيح بن الله المتوقع لخلاص العالم. فالتفت سيدنا إلى تلك الصورة المربعة فقال لك: أقول أيتها الصورة المذهبة العتيقة ليصر فيك روح وليكن لكي حس وتحطي من مكانك إلى الأرض التي نحن

عليها. ثم نزلت الصورة وقالت: أنت هو المسيح بن الله إله السماوات والأرض. ثم قال: تسيروا إلى المغيرة التي فيها الآنبا إبرهيم وإسحق ويعقوب ومن دفن معهم من أبائهم من زمان طويل. فقولوا لهم إن الله الجالس الأزلي يأمركم أن تسيروا إلى الهيكل ليكون يتعلم موسى أحد أولادكم الذي كان عارفا بسرايري وخبر بمحاسن

ومجي إلى العالم حتى تعرفوا أجمعا من أنا ومن أين جيت وإلى أين أذهب. فلما أن قال سيدنا المسيح هذا القول الذي خاطب تلك الصورة فصارت على الأرض بأورشليم ظلمة عظيمة وكانت زلزلة شديدة وبرق خاطف وريح عاصف لم يقومنح لك ساير أهل أورشليم على وجوههم، ثم انكسفت الظلمة وأبصروا الناس الصورة قد صارت حيوانا ناطقة وانحطت على الأرض. ثم بادر منها الإنسان والأسد والثور والنسر إلى قبور الآباء هم مع إبرهيم شا عين سرا، ومضى النسر إلى قبر موسى. ودعوهم جميعا إلى الهيكل كما أمر إلهنا يسوع المسيح فحضروا في لحظة حتى أبصرهم جميع من كان هناك من إسرائيل فإنهم أبصروا إبرهيم بشيبته وإسحق بآثاره الذي كان يرى بألفه قبل موته ويعقوب وفيه العلامة التي جعل

فيه ملاك الله في الموضع المعروف دارام التي هي بقعة حران. وأبصروا موسى وبه اللثقة. وابتدى الأب إبرهيم وقال: يا معشر اليهود أنا أبوكم إبرهيم، وهذان أولادي إسحق ويعقوب، وهذا موسى النبي العظيم الذي نرتحطنا مع الآباء اللذين ترون معنا بتذكرة هذا الذي تجحدتم لاهوته، فإياه طيعوا والأمر اقبلوا. ثم أمر موسى فخاطبهم وقال لهم: يا إخوتي بني إسرائيل أنا موسى الذي أخرجتكم من بين أهل مصر باليد القوية، وأنا الذي ضربت بعشرة ضربات بمصر، وأنا الذي فلقت البحر وأخرجت أبوكم منه وغرقت فرعون وأجناده. وكلما عملته من الآيات فبقوة هذا الذي بينكم. وأومى بيده إلى السيد المسيح وقال: هذا الذي كلمني من العلو، هذا الذي أنزل عليكم المن والسلوى في البرية، هذا الذي أخرج لكم الما من الصخرة اليابسة، هذا الذي أظلكم الغمام الذي تستكنوها بعمود النار، هذا

الذي عرفني اسمه على طور سينا: اهيا شراهيا. هذا هو اصباووث رب الجنود. هذا هو الذي تنبت على مجيئه وقلت لكم إن ربا إخوتكم يقوم الرب الأرباب فشاكلني. هذا الذي قال إرميا النبي وقال إن إلوه يأتي ويظهر بينكم. هذا هو الذي جار في مغارة العلو، هذا الذي في ابتداء الأيام بيده جبل آدم وجعله على

صورته، فإنه جا إلى العالم ليخلص آدم من عقوبته. يا أولاد إسرائيل فاسمعوا له وطيعوا، وأنا وكل نفس لا تطيعه تهلك من الحياة. فلما سمعوا وفرغ موسى من كلامه هذا تهلل وجهه الذي هو سيدنا يسوع المسيح وأضاء نوره وصار كالشمس. ونظروا بني إسرائيل اللذين كانوا هناك إلى ذلك الضوء وسقطوا على وجوههم. وصاروا من ذلك العجايب الذي أبصروا وإقا الأموات حفادا قد ابؤسهم. وقال لهم: تشكوا الآن في أني إله إسرائيل مع شهادة هؤلاء الآباء بما شهدوا لي به؟ فلم يتهيأ لهم أن يردوا عليه

شيا وآمن به أكثرهم. ثم قال: لا تفتخروا بأن إبرهيم أباكم فإني أنا ذو اقتدار لكم من هذا الحجارة بنين لإبرهيم، وأنا قابر إبرهيم وموسى وساير الآباء اللذي قاموا من قبورهم. فلندبأ أنكم بلاد أورشليم تدعون الناس إلى الإيمان بالمسيح، وستدفنهم فلم يقبلوا اليهود منهم ولم يؤمنوا بآبائهم الآباء، وكانوا يرجمون الآباء بالحجارة ويقولون لهم: إنكم السحرة أصحاب يسوع، إن كان بشي ممن سحره بمصر يعملون أكثر من هذه الأشياء التي يفعلها بن النجار. فقال لهم يسوع: إن كنتم تساحموا هؤلاء الآباء الفضلاء الأطهار وتجرمون إني آتيكم بأقبح مما علمتم ومراسيل لكم يوم القيامة، يوم الذي أنا المجري وأجنادي الملائكة

المطهرين. فلما سمعوا اليهود كلامه هذا رجموه بالحجارة. فمن بعد ذلك حملته سحابة وصار إلى نهر الأردن وشاهد الجمع الذي كان تقدم من يحنا. وشار إلى سيدنا يسوع إلى محال الأردن لآباء اللذين قاموا من قبورهم وقالوا: قد نظرنا بأسرنا إلى مجدك فماذا

تأمرنا؟ فقال لهم سيدنا المسيح: ارجعوا إلى مواضعكم بسلام. فرجعوا الآباء إلى مواضعهم وهم يسبحون الرب ويدو والله إله الأربعة صورا اللواتي الذي صاروا أحيوا أن سجدت له في البرية فقال لهم: أيتها الصور ارجعي كما كنتم إلى مواضعكم في الهيكل. فرجعت تلك الصور كما كانت. حال العجيبة في المرأة الزانية. فينما يسوع في أورشليم يوما اجتمع إليه روس اليهود وكبراؤهم وأحبارهم وقالوا له: نحن عالمين إنك من الله انبعثت وأن كل شي تفعله بإذن الله، هو وهذه امرأة قد زنت وشهر عليها، فأحكم أنت من الناموس ما يجب إذ كنت حاكم في آل إسرائيل. فلما سمع يسوع ذلك منهم نظر إلى المرأة التي أحضروا بها وعلموا أنه لو حكم عليها بحكم التوراة وأنهم أرادوا يعنتوه ويردادون يحكموا

إلى المدينة وحدثت الناس بقصتها وأدخلت من الناس أمن لسيدنا المسيح وسبحوا الله كثيرا. حال العجيبة التي كانت من أجل الأمرأة السامرية. وسار سيدنا المسيح بأرض السمرة إلى زيارة قبور الآبا إبرهيم وإسحق ويعقوب، وأبصر امرأة واقفة على بير تستقي منه ما، فدنا إليها وقال لها: اسقيني من هذا الما الذي

تستقين. فقالت له الأمرأة: كيف أسقيك وأنت رجل من اليهود وأنا امرأة سامرية؟ فإنه لا يتهيأ للسامري أن يعاشروا اليهود لكن يطهرونهم ويستقذرهم. فقال لها سيدنا يسوع المسيح: لو علمتي من أنا المتمايلني أسقيك ما الحياة. فقالت له: أنا أسلك أين كان ما الحياة فاسقيني منه حتى أستغني عن هذا الاستقا من هذا الجب العميق. فقال لها يسوع: فأحضري أو ادعوي رجلك. فقالت الأمرأة: ما لي زوج. فقال لها يسوع: فإن الزوج الذي أحضرتيه

إلا المسيح الذي نحن نتوقعه، فنحن نقول إذا جاء المسيح إلى العالم إنه عالم الأشياء كلها ويعلمها لمن يتبعه. فقال لها المسيح: إن الذي يخاطبك أيتها الأمرأة هو المسيح الذي تترجاه الأمم. فقالت الأمرأة: إن معاشر السمرة يقولون إنه إذا جاء المسيح يعبدوه الناس ويسجدوا له في هذا الجبل، واليهود يقولون إنه يعبد ويسجد له بأورشليم. قال لها يسوع: حقا أقول لك أيتها الأمرأة إنه سيأتي زمان لا يسجدون فيه الناس لله لا في هذا الجبل ولا بأورشليم، العلى الأب والروح. فلما سمعت السامرية كلامه وكان اسمها يرمتينا وفهمت بمخاطبانه إله خالق، انطلقت إلى المدينة السمرة فقالت لأهلها: تعالوا معي حتى أريكم رجلا يعلم الغيب، فإنه قد خبرني في كل ما عملته ولكنه

المسيح منهم جماعة كثيرة. جا ولو أنهم زهدهم فمنعهم من اتباعه وردهم إلى منازلهم، إلا أن جماعة منهم خرجوا من غير أن يستأذنوا سيدنا المسيح إلى أرض فلسطين ورساتيق السامرية، ونشروا اسمه ودعوا الناس إلى الإيمان به فأمن على أيديهم خلق

لا يحصى من نواحي فلسطين ومن بلد السامرية وأرض يهوذا وبلد أورشليم ونواحي دنيرس ومدين تدمر. حال اجتيازه في مدينة الجول. واجتاز ربنا وإلهنا يسوع المسيح بمدينة الجول التي تسميه طبرية، نظر هناك إلى سمعان على شاطي البحيرة وأندراوس معه وهما في سفينة يصيدان سمك. فصاح سمعان من خوفه. فقال له يسوع: أقبل إلي حتى أجعلك من اليوم تصطاد الناس غير السمك. فعجب سمعان من دعا سيدنا باسمه ولم يكن يعرفه. فقال له: لا تعجب يا سمعان ابن يونان حيث دعوتك باسمك وأنت لم تعرفني، فإن أفضل من هذه الآية تبصر واعلم أنك تكون صفي ورييس تلاميذي. فسجد له حينئذ سمعان وقال له: حقا أنك مخلص العالم. فقال له سيدنا المسيح

طوباك يا سمعان بن يونان، فإن لحما ودما لم يكشف لك السر بل ربك الذي في السما كشف لك ذلك. وأبصر في ذلك الوقت سمعان أبواب السما مفتوحة وصوت منها مستمع يقول: أنت ابني

الحبيب الذي به ارتضيت، فاسمعوا له وطيعوا واسجدوا. فوقع سمعان على وجهه فأقامه سيدنا المسيح وأخذ بيده وبيد أندراوس أخيه وسار بهما إلى الأردن. فلما وقفا هناك قال لسمعان: اعلم يا سمعان أنك لا تستطيع أن تكون لي تلميذا ولا ترث ملكوت السما أو تعتمد بالما والروح. فقال له سمعان: لتصنع المولا بعبده ما أحب. فاعمده سيدنا ولأخيه أندراوس في نهر الأردن المقدس وجماعة الملائكة قبلتها من المعمودية على أجنحتهم. وأبصر سمعان وأندراوس هناك مجد الرب وخرج سمعان من الأردن وقد تعلقت في أسفل قدميه تمرة والتزقت بها. فقال سيدنا

يسوع المسيح في ذلك الوقت: اعلم يا سمعان أنك ترعى من الآن نحو التي عملها التي كنيستي التي ترعيها أقفال الجحيم، ولك أعطي مفاتيح السما والأرض. حتى يكون إن غفرت لأحد خطايا غفرت له وكانت مغفورة في السما، وإن عقدتها كانت معقودة في السما. واعلم أن لك أعطيت السلطنة في السما والأرض، وأمرك نافذ فيها وإن السما والأرض يطيعك، وإن أمرت السما تمطر على أحد رحمة أمطرت، وإن أمرتها أن تمطر نارا وكبريتا أمطرت كما فعل بسدوم وعامور. وإن أمرت الأرض تنبت نعما لمن ترضى عنه

أنبتت، وإن أمرتها أن تخيس على الذين يبغضوك وتفتح فاها وتبتلعهم كما ابتلعت داثان وبيا وأويرام. لك يا سمعان أعطي الكهنوة التي كانت لهارون وعليك يحل روح القدس وأنت تتولى أعماد المؤمنين باسم الأب

وقال لهم: حطوا عواتقكم هذا الميت الذي معكم من أولاد الأنبياء، ولا بد أن تظهر قدرتي في هذا البلد. فوضعوا الجمع الميت على الأرض فدنا يسوع إلى الميت وقال: يا يونان بن سالم استفيق، قد بطلت عنك الموت والخطية. فقعد ذلك الميت جالسا على النعش ولم يرجع إلى بيته وفيح فاه وقال: بك آمنت يا يسوع بن الله الحي الأزلي

سيدنا المسيح في أورشليم والبهائم الذي تسبح له. وسار سيدنا المسيح إلى أورشليم ليشهد عيد المظال فأبصر رجل يصرخ وينتحب لسبب أخ له قد مات في ذلك اليوم، وكان كل وجهته يسرخ إلى الله ويقول: ابعث يا رب الذي أنت باعثه إلينا لخلاصنا فإنا نحن نموت بخطايانا، وهذا إسرائيل قد مات في الخطية فارحمه يا إله إسرائيل. فقال يسوع له: تؤمن بمن يحيي أخوك؟ فقال اليهودي: إن الذي أتوقع مجيه لخلاصنا المسيح وهو إله إسرائيل ومخلصه فإذا جا آمنت به. قال له يسوع: أنا المخلص المسيح، أنا دون العالم، أنا ابن الله البشر الذي بصر إليه دانيال النبي على سحب السما، أنا نازع عتيق الأيام الذي اشتملت أورشليم في برنحين فأضوعدوها. ثم قال للرجل: إن أنا أقمت أخوك من الموت أتؤمن

بأني المسيح المخلص؟ فقال له: قد آمنت الآن بأنك المسيح ابن الله فارزق آدم وذريته. فقال له المسيح: امض بنا إلى منزلك. فلما وصلا إلى منزله خرجت منه عنز كثيرة تريد الراعي، فلما رأت يسوع مقبلا نطقت بلسان فصيح وقالت: أهلا لك يا ابن داود بالجسد، ولإلها الضابط كل من كانوا أهله. أخرجوه ليدفنوه. فلما أبصر المسيح صاح أيضا بصوت عالي ولسان فصيح وقال: يا ابن

داود ما [...] القول ولا تبلغها الأدهار، ارحمني وخلصني. فقال له يسوع: اذهب وتكون جبوا للآخر أبرأ ما بي الأمر وتكون لي من الشهود على هذه الأمة الغليظة. فانطلق ذاك الثور إلى البراري ولم يعاينوه أصحابه من بعد يومه ذلك. وقال أيضا سيدنا يسوع المسيح لتلك العنزة واشترائها الغنم لأجل أنهم شهروا أن سخي

قد أعتقتكن من الرق وإن لا ينهيا لإنسان الملكة عليكن من اليوم إلى مجيي الثاني، فسيروا وانموا واملوا القفار نسلكن وكونوا من البينة على هذه الأمة الصعبة. ودخل سيدنا إلى منزله وأبصر ذلك الميت الذي خاطبه أخوه من أجله، وكان اسمه بلغنسان. فصاح سيدنا يسوع المسيح في الميت وقال له: يا إسرائيل انهض من الموت. فقام إسرائيل من موته كرجل يستيقظ من نومه ووقع على رجلي يسوع وسجد له وقال له: أنت المسيح بن الله الحي الأزلي. وتبعه ولم يفارقه. ونظروا اليهود والسمرة إلى الثلاث عجايب التي صنعها يسوع في لحظة وأعجزه وكثر تعجبهم منها وقالوا فيما بينهم: إن كان هو المسيح بن الله الذي نترجاه أو تشعوف فإن أمره يثبت إلى الأبد وشاء الله الأمر كما أنبأ يعقوب أبونا ودانيال وشعيا، فإنهم قالوا لا زوال لملكه ولا

انتقضا إذ كان لا أند له لأنه قبل الابتدا، وإن كان رجل ساحر يعمل هذه الآيات سحره فإنه سيبطل سحره كما بطل سحر ينيس ويمريس من بين يدي فرعون وموسى ولم يكون لهم ثبات. ومنهم من قال إن هذا هو بن الله المخلص الذي تنبت عليه الأنبياء، ولولا أنه كذلك ما تهيا له أن يقيم الموتى وتطعه الحيوان وتنطق بألسنة فصحة بإذنه وتنتهي لأمره. فما سمعت أن بهيمة نطقت منذ زمان بلعام الذي جرح بلعَن بني إسرائيل فإن أتانه كلمته. وصار بين هؤلاء القوم شك من أجل المسيح. وجماعة منهم باتر إلى أورشليم وخبروا الكهنة والأحبار ما شاهدوه من العجايب التي صنعها سيدنا المسيح في إسرائيل الذي أقامه من الموت، وتقدموا إلى الجماعة وقالوا لهم: إذا رأيتموه بأورشليم أعلمونا خبره. فلما دخل يسوع المسيح إلى أورشليم وسمعوا الكهنة

اجتمعوا إليه وهو في الهيكل وتلاميذه معه وقالوا له أيها المعلم الصالح قد علمنا أنك من الله انبعثت وأنه ما يستطيع أحد أن يفعل هذه الآيات والأمثال عجايبك التي صنعتها فيما بيننا فأعلمنا بأي سلطان تفعل هذه الآيات ومن أبوك ومن أمك ومن أي سبط أنت فإن كنت من أسباط النبوة فلك أن تصنع ذلك العجايب.

فقال لهم يسوع إن الآيات التي أصنعها أنا بسلطان أبي الذي في السما أعملها. فلما سمعوا قوله ثاروا بالحجارة ليرجموه. فقال لهم يسوع أي شيء عملت من ردي حتى أستأهل الرجم. ثم قال لهم يا معشر اليهود اعلموا أني رجل الأمر الذي كانت تتوقعه ومن الآن أبعث رسلي إلى الأمم الغريبة ليدعوهم إلى الإيمان وهم يسجدون لرسلي ولي مع أبي وروح القدس إلى دهر الداهرين ويذلون إلى استعباد ولكم حال [الخيبة؟].

وسار يوما ربنا وإلهنا يسوع المسيح في بلد الأحداث الذي من أرض أورشليم ومعه سمعان وأندراوس ويعقوب ويوحنا. فأبصر هناك رجلا شيخا يبكي ويقول يا رب ارزقني ما أقضي به ديني. فقال له المسيح ما شأنك يا شيخ وما دينك. فقال له الشيخ ما ينفعني إن قلت لك ذلك. فقال له المسيح منتفع يا زكي من شكوى حالك إلي فإني صاحب الغنا والفقر ومن قصدني لا يفتقر أبدا إذ كنت أنا الداعي. فلما سمع الشيخ أن المسيح يسميه باسمه من غير أن يعرفه بادر إليه وسجد له وقال له ارحمني يا رب وخلصني من ديني فإنه كان لي سحر زيتون في

عدد شجر الزيتون الذي في حقلك. فقال زكي ماية وأربعين أصل زيتون في حقل واحدة. فقال له يسوع ايتني بقضيب من الزيتون. فجاه زكي بقضيب من بعض تلك الأشجار التي كانت يبست له فتناوله يسوع وبارك عليه وقال انصرف أيها الشيخ حتى تنصبه في وسط حقلك فإن منه يكون غناك. واعلم أن هذا القضيب سيكون شجرة مثلك إلا غصان ولإبنا [الألحفاف؟] ما بقي الدهر ويكون فيه مخزنا للزيت الذي تبارك به الشعوب [...] من أقطار الأرض ويكون لهم فيه فرح كثير وكل من يأخذ من خشب هذا القضيب وورقه ويجعله في

وكان حمل ذلك القضيب سبب الغنا لزكي وصار زكي بعد تحصيله الزيتون الذي خرج من القضيب إلى المسيح وقال له أشكرك يا إلهي وسيدي على كل ما أعطيتني. أشكرك على فضايلك الذي مننت بها علي. وخبره بما استغله من القضيب وقال له يا سيدي ما أكثر ما أعطيتني. فقال له المسيح اعلم أن هذا القضيب يعطيك في كل سنة من الغلة مثل الذي أعطاك في هذه السنة. حال العجيبة التي صنعها عند قبر راحيل. ومضا يسوع يوما من أورشليم يريد بيت لحم لزيارة قبور الأطفال الذي قتلهم هردوش. فأبصر في طريقه جماعة من رؤسا الكهنة والكتاب فقال لهم يسوع إلى أين تمضون يا بني إسرائيل. فقالوا له نريد بيت لحم. فقال لهم فلماذا

بيت لحم تقصدون يا شجرة الكذب ولكم إلى قبر راحيل تريدون. ثم سار بمسيرهم حتى أتوا موضع قبر راحيل وهو معهم. فقال لهم أنا دعوت راحيل التيامنت بيوسف وقامت من الموت

وخرجت إلى باب قبرها لتؤمنون بي. قالوا له اليهود إنا نعلم أنك تهذي هذيانا فافعل ما قلت حتى نبصر فإن فعلت ذلك أيقنا أنك مبعوث من الله وأنك مسيحه ومخلص إسرائيل. فقال لهم المسيح يا أولاد الأفاعي يا أمة السوء من الذي علمكم من الهرب من الرجز الآتي من الآن اعملوا من أعمالا تثمر لكم التوبة. فإذا فعلتم ذلك وجب لكم طلب الآيات. والآن فاعلموا أن ساير أنبياكم يشهدون عليكم بطغيانكم. ثم قال لهم أما أقيم من القبور مع راحيل أختها سارة امرأة إبراهيم. فلما سمعوا هذا القول

الأمهات القديسات من النور الذي كان يعلوها. وقامت سارة وخاطبتهم وقالت يا أولاد بني يعقوب لما كفرتم وجحدتم

فرجعوا من كلمته إلى قبورهم وعملوا هذه العجيبة العظيمة ولم يؤمنوا به. حال العجيبة في المقثاة بلد قيسارية. وسار سيدنا يسوع المسيح يوما في بلد قيسارية فلسطين تتبعه جماعة تلاميذه فأبصر هناك رجلا واقفا في مقثاة يبكي ويندب ويلطم رأسه ووجهه. فقال له سيدنا المسيح ما شأنك أيها الرجل وما يبكيك. فقال له أنا رجل ضعيف مديون ولي هذه المقثاة وقد رغبت وتلفت علي. فقال له يسوع وبأي شي تلفت عليك. فقال له بالبرد ولا حق إذ وفي إسرائيل إن كان يسلم منها إلا ثلثة أصول فقط

عندي أربعة ألف درهم وقد أتيت بها فماذا تأمرني أصنع بها. فقال له امض اصرف بها على المساكين حتى لم يبق منها عندك درهما واحد. قد مضيت وصنعت بمثلك يا رب. قال له يسوع نعم ما صنعت. فاتبعني فتبعه وصار تلميذا له وابنه واحد من السبعين. وآمن على يده خلق عظيم من بني إسرائيل وغيرهم وقبلوا المعمودية وكان أول من آمن على يد هذا التلميذ أهل عسقلان. حال المرة التي دنت من ثياب المسيح. وسار سيدنا في أرض الجليل ومعه تلاميذه في جمع كثير من التلاميذ وهو يخاطبهم ويقول لهم قد دنت ملكوت السما منكم فاقبلوها. فأبصرته مرة من آل إسرائيل من بني إبراهيم الخليل يقال لها يوسفنا وكان بها نزف الدم منذ اثنا عشر سنة فقالت في نفسها ما ينبغي لي الدخول بين

الجموع أسأل المعلم أن يشفيني إذ كان ناموس موسى يقول أي امرأة دخلت بين الجماعة وهي طمثة فالواجب ترجم بالحجارة حتى تموت. لكن أريد أحتال في الدخول وأدنو منه وأمس على أي ساعة دنيت منه بريت من علتي هذه الصعبة. فاحتالت المرة

حتى دنت منه ومسكت بيدها طرف ثيابه الذي كانت عليه وإنها بريت من ساعتها وانقطع عنها الدم الذي كانت تنزف. فقال سيدنا المسيح للجمع الذي كانوا حواليه من الذي دنا مني. فقال له سمعان الصفى أما ترى هذا الجمع كله نعل ويستحلون بك ليسمعوا كلامك الفاضل وتقول من دنا مني. فلما سمعت تلك المرة قول سيدنا يسوع المسيح دنت منه المرة [...]

بعيد وسجدت بين يديه وقالت له ارحمني يا ابن إله إسرائيل فإني أنا الذي دنوت منك فبريت من علة كانت معي من اثنا عشر سنة. فقال سيدنا المسيح للجماعة إني لم أصب في بني إسرائيل مثل إيمان هذه المرة. ثم قال للمرة قد غفرت لك خطاياك لمضاعف هذه الدفعة ولا تزول. فقال بعضهم لبعض من هذا الذي يغفر الخطايا إلا إله إسرائيل أليس هو هذا ابن مريم الذي أبوه يوسف النجار وأخوته من إخوتنا. فوقف يسوع على قولهم وقال لهم يا معاشر اليهود أنا الذي هوي مني منكم وأخوتي إخواتكم. فأما يوسف فليس هو لي بأب بل هو خليلي. ثم أومى إلى الصخرة وإذ فيها أصنام أفرع فقال لها لك أقول أيتها الوحوش

تعالي إلى هاهنا وخبري هذا الجمع من أين أنا ومن أين جئت إلى هذا العالم

وإلى أين أمضي منه. فأقبلت تلك الصبا سرعة حتى سجدت بين يديه الذي هو مخلص العالم فتعجبوا الناس منها وفتحت أفواهها ونطقت بلسان فصيح مثل ألسنة الناس وقالت أنت إله إسرائيل أنت خالق السماوات والأرض أنت الناطق على ألسنة الأنبياء. وكثر تعجب ذلك الجمع وكان مبلغ ذلك الجمع سبعة ألف وأربعماية واثنين وتمانين رجل سوى النسا والصبيان. وتحيروا من ذلك وآمنوا بسيدنا يسوع المسيح وقالوا مرة واحدة نعم هذا هو ابن الله إله إسرائيل هذا هو المسيح المبعوث من الآن لخلاص الأمم هذا هو الذي تنبأ عليه موسى حيث قال إن الله يقيم في آخر الزمان رجلا منا لتجمع إليه الشعوب. فقال سيدنا لتلك الصبى اطلعي وارجعي إلى مرعاكن فإني لا سبيل لأحد عليكن. ورجعت تلك الصبا إلى القفار من وقتها وساعتها.

حال العجيبة التي صنعها المسيح في المحدود والأخرس في بلد الجزاز وبينا يسوع يوما في أرض الجزار أبصر إنسان مجذوما أخرس ينتحب وقد رفع يده إلى السما. فقال له يسوع ما الذي يبكيك يا أيها الإنسان مع مجي مخلصك. فأومأه ليسوع إليه.

فوضع يده على لسانه فتكلم من ساعته وسجد بين يديه وقال له أنت المسيح ابن الله. وقال له ماذا تريد الآن فانطلق بسلام. فقال له الإنسان يا ربي وإلهي ارحمني فإني عبرة في بني إسرائيل لا أجد منهم يطعمني خبز بل ينهروني إذا رأوني ويقنفروني إذ لست من الحزام بعيدين. فقال له سيدنا امضي إلى بحيرة عين سلوان وارهص جسدك من ماها تلثة دفعات وقول في كل دفعة بسم الأب آمين وباسم الابن آمين وباسم روح القدس

آمين الحياة الدايمة الذي هو خالق كل شي إلى الدهر فإنك إذا فعلت ذلك بريت من وصبك. فمضا ذاك الإنسان من ساعته إلى عين سلوان وامتثل ما أمره فيه سيدنا المسيح فبري من وقته. وخرج إلى مجامع اليهود فقالوا له من أبراك. فقال لهم أبرأني المسيح نور في العالم. فقالوا له متى أبراك. فقال لهم يوم السبت. فقالوا بعضهم لبعض هذا قد حل السبت وبطل الناموس وقد وجب عليه بذلك القتل. فهلموا بنا نطلبه. فعمد رؤسا الكهنة والأحبار إلى الشعب وقالوا لهم إذا جا إلى أورشليم أعلمونا فيه. فقال لهم المجذوم اعلمكم إني أنا أقول بأني كنت مجذوما أصم أخرس وشفاني هذا الإنسان ولولا أن له قدرة قوية ما تهيأ له أن

التي فعل بأمذا. فقالوا الأحبار والكتاب لمن حضرهم ما يتبع هذا الرجل إلا أعوام الناس الذين لا عقول لهم ولا معرفة بالناموس. فوافاهم سيدنا المسيح وهم في هذا الكلام فقال لهم حقا أقول لكم إنكم لو علمتم من أنا لما كانت لكم خطية وإنما صارت لكم الخطية لأنكم لم تعرفوني. يا أولاد الأفاعي ما سمعتم نبوة داود حيث يقول بروح القدس إن الحجر الذي رذلته البناؤون هو صار رأس البنا. من الله كانت هذه الكلمة وهذه العجيبة في أعيننا. يا أولاد الأفاعي أنتم تقولون إن العقوبة غير واجبة لمن يسب أخاه أنا أقول إن لمن قال لأخيه يا أحمق استوجب نار جهنم. يا أولاد الأفاعي أنتم تغسلون الكأس وتنقونها وتعتزلون عن شرايع الناموس وتقيمون الصلاة في الأسواق وتعرضوا أخام ثيابكم

وتطيلون رداتكم احتيالا لأخذ أموال اليتاما والأرامل وتعشرون النعنع والكمون والشبت وتحلون وصايا الله فإنكم لا تدخلون ملكوت السما والذين يحاولون دخولها تمنعوه منها. يا أولاد الحيات اجتهدوا أن تفعلوا أعمالا تثمر لكم ملكوت السما. الويل لكم أيها الأحبار والكهنة المبطلة المخفون. فمجد ثم المسيح مع

حدتهم في محبته وقال لهم من هو هذا ومن أبوه. فقالوا له اليهود إن المسيح إذا جا أمنا به وعلمنا أنه ابن داوود الذي قال بروح القدس قال الرب لربي اجلس عن يميني حتى أضع أعداك تحت موطا قدميك. فلما أن سمع اليهود هذا الكلام صار بينهم انشقاق كثير ولم يتهيأ لأحد منهم تحسبه على ذلك. وقال بعضهم لبعض ما الجنس الذي تترجونه يفعل أكثر من هذه الآيات التي يعملها هذا ومع ذلك فقالوا له

عليه خطا ولا تكلم بشي من الردي. وآمن خلق كثير في ذلك الوقت. حال العجيبة التي صنعها سيدنا يسوع المسيح في سبب الجراد في أرض الجليل وأرض يهودا. وقام سيدنا في ذلك الحدود وأهلهم أقاموا أهل الجليل وأهل يهودا أربعة سنين ونصف يزرعون ويجتهدون يأتي الجراد يرعاها إذ أموت الجحاد وجرى على الناس في تلك البلاد شدة عظيمة نوع وجوع عظيم حتى ماتوا أكثر من أهلها. فلما تم عليهم في ذلك الوقت أربعة سنين ونصف اجتمعوا جماعة من بني إسرائيل وقالوا فيما بينهم إن كان هذا الإنسان الذي نرا أنه المسيح ابن الله فإنه قادر يرفع عنا هذه البلية. فهلموا بنا إليه نقصده. فقال لهم نيقاديموس ما بينها لإحد أن يفعل مثل هذا الفعل الذي يفعله هذا الرجل إلا من

الله وحبله. فقالوا لنيقوديموس نحن نسالك أن تمضي إليه وتحدث معه فإنه صديقك وتسأله أن يرفع عنا هذه البلية. فمضى نيقاديموس إلى سيدنا وقال له أيها المعلم الصالح أنا أعلم أنك من الله ابتعثت إلى العالم وأنك كلمة الله وقوته وإن هذه البلاد الذي فيها قد نزلت علينا مها بلية من القحط والجراد لمسك وتحطك علينا. فتحنن على جماعتنا وارفع غضب رجزك عنا فقد هلكنا وقد هلك به من لم يستحقه. فقال له سيدنا المسيح لو نادوا بني إسرائيل من أعمالهم السوء لما نالهم رجزي فكم من مرة أردت أجمعهم إلى طاعتي كما تجمع الدجاجة فراخها فلم يرضوا بحكمي. قال نيقاديموس أنا أهل لما سال عنه. فقال له نيقاديموس فمر بذلك أيها المعلم الصالح. فقال له سيدنا المسيح إذا كان يوم السبت أمرت هذه البلية

والسخط فتزال عنهم. فقال له نمادموس هل يصلح أن يفعل يوم السبت عملا. فقال له يسوع المسيح أيما أصلح عندك الحياة نفس يوم السبت أم تموت. فقال له نماديوس الحياة يا سيدي. فقال له المسيح إن صاحب السبت ما شأ يفعل به عمل. يا نمادموس إن يوم السبت من أجل الإنسان خلق لم يخلق الإنسان من أجل السبت وإن لابن الإنسان السلطان في السما وفي الأرض وهو

مخلص أنفسا كثيرة ليوم السبت. أما تعلم يا نماديوس أني أمرت إيليا النبي الهرب من يدي إيزبل الملكة فامتثل لأني أمرته أن يسير أربعين يوما وأربعين ليلة وأنه لاشتغاله لأمري ونصحه للسبت خلصته من أحاب الملك ومن إيزبل الملكة. فلما سمع نماديوس هذا القول من سيدنا اشتد العجب في نفسه وقال ليس كلام هذا الإنسان فينا كلام الناس ولا كأيامه مثل كلام ابن عشرين سنة لأن

كان لسيدنا في ذلك الوقت عشرين سنة مذ ولد من العذرا مريم الطاهرة القديسة بالجسد. فعلم سيدنا بما حدث به نماديوس في نفسه فقال له المسيح لماذا حدثت نفسك يا نقاديوس بالشك. فلما نماديوس لحظ سيدنا المسيح إذ أبصر وجهه بذضا الذي هو مخلص العالم وصار عليه نور يفوق نور الشمس سبعة أضعاف وأبصر غمامة قد حاطت به وملايكة قد أحطن منها. وسجد بين يديه وقال له يا من كرسيه لا يخلوا منه ويا من الأرض كلها تحت قدميه ويا من لا تسعه السماء والأرض ويا من هو السيد المحب وابن الله الأزلي فماذا تأمرني أفعل. فقال له السيد المسيح إذا كان يوم السبت فأرفع قضب الرجز من أرض يهودا. فلما انصرف نماديوس إلى ذكر لهله فرع شديد واستكنت

أسنانه وارتعدت ركبته فقال له السيد المسيح من بصرك يا نماديوس إلى ملاك وأجر مع هذا الفزع كله فكيف لو أبصرت ابن البشر إذا أنا في مجده وفخره مع ساير ملايكته ليدين الأحياء والأموات فإنه في ذا الوقت يكون البكا العظيم واصطكاك الأسنان. فجثا حينئذ نيقاديموس كساير برا وقال آمنت بك يا إله إسرائيل ارحمني. فقال له المسيح اعلم يا نقاديوس إنه ما يستطيع أحد يدخل ملكوت السما أو يولد من الما وروح القدس. امض الآن إلى بني إسرائيل وقل لهم يا غلاظ القلوب حتى متى أصبر عليكم وأمرهم أن يعملوا أعمالا تكون مرضيا للتوبة واعلم يا نماديوس إني قد جعلتك لي تلميذا ومبشرا. فامضى إليهم فضا نماديوس إلى بني إسرائيل وخبره بما أبصر من العجايب من سيدنا المخلص

وآمن أكثرهم على يده وارتفعت نقمة الجراد عن أهل الجليل وأهل يهودا في يوم السبت وأبصر نقاديوس الفاضل بعينه ملاك الرب الذي كان ساجد لسيدنا المسيح وهو قضب الجراد بجناحه ويده. حال العجيبة التي صنعها سيدنا المسيح بالسباع في أرض عسقلان. وكانت السباع من كل جنس قد نظلت على أرض عسقلان حتى ما كان أحد يقدر يخرج من باب منزله بعد غروب

الشمس. وساروا أهل عسقلان إلى سيدنا المسيح وقالوا له أيها المعلم الصالح إن الله ابتعثك مخلص إلى إسرائيل فارحمنا فإنا غير مستاهلين وارفع عنا عادية هذه السباع التي قد علت علينا وعلى بلدنا فإنا نعلم أنها تستمع منك وتطيعك. فقال لهم سيدنا المسيح قد رحمتكم لكثرة طلبتكم فارجعوا إلى بلدكم وقولوا في نواحيه التي يجتمع إليها السباع اسمع

المسيح بن الله يأمركن أيها السباع أن لا تأذوا ولا تفسدوا في هذه البلاد شيئا. ورجعوا أهل عسقلان إلى بلادهم ورجل منهم يقال له ناثانائيل الذي من قانا الجليل وقال في نواحي البلد كما أمره المسيح. فلما قال ناثانايل ذلك اجتمع إليه من السباع عدد لا يحصى ومد يده إليها ومسحها عليهم وقال لهم انصرفوا عن هذا البلد كما أمركم يسوع المسيح فادي العالم فإنه تبارك اسمه لا يخيبكم من رزقه. فنطاطوا جميع ذلك السباع روسهم من بعد سجودهم لناثانايل لأنه كان أحد التلاميذ وانطلقوا الإسراع عن ذلك البلد. ولما أبصروا أهل عسقلان هذه العجيبة قويت أمانتهم بالمسيح وعاينوا مجد الرب. مخاطبة سيدنا المسيح لتلاميذه في بلد ريحا. فلما سار سيدنا المسيح إلى ريحا جمع تلاميذه وقال لهم إنكم سويتموات

ودخل ومعه باقي التلاميذ إلى أورشليم وفي ذلك الوقت عند قول المسيح له وتحز بالغروب من أورشليم وكانوا بالقرب من ريحا وكثر تعجبهم من ذلك وقال بعضهم لبعض أليس الساعة كنا في برية ريحا كيف وصلنا في ساعة واحدة إلى مدينة أورشليم. وسبحوا الله الذي يلوه كل شي. وعند دخولهم المدينة تلقاهم رجلا كان عالم بالناموس يقال له غملائيل ومعه خردق فأعلمه سمعان ما حمله إليه من يسوع فأجابه وجاره معمر كان معه من التلاميذ إلى منزله وفرش في مجلسا وأشعل نصبا وقال لهم هذا الموضع يصلح لمعلمكم. وخرج ليلقا يسوع فوجده جالسا على جبل الزيتون وسأله أن يسير معه إلى منزله وقال له ادخل أيها السيد فإني متوقع لتسلاك

سيدنا امتثل ما آمرك به فإن ذلك واجب عليك أن تفعله. فنزل المسيح إلى الأردن منزوع من لباسه ووقف بين أمواجه وكان هناك خلق من الناس يعمدون من يحنا. ودعا المسيح يحنا وقال له افعل ما أمرتك به. فتقدم يحنا وهو فزعان فوضع يده على رأسه ورفع عينيه إلى السما فأبصر السماوات مفتحة وروح القدس نازل منها شبه حمامة حتى وقف على رأس سيدنا المسيح ورفرف عليه فسمع صوتا ينادي ويقول هذا ابني الحبيب الذي به سررت هذا ابني الذي به ارتضيت وفيه خلقت السماوات والأرض. هذا ابني الحبيب المولود قبل كل الدهور والأزمنة هذا ابني الذي هو غير مفارقي ولا بزايل عني هذا ابني هو الحق مثلي. فلما سمعوا التلاميذ هذا الصوت من

السماء ازدادت أمانتهم وقويت. وسمع هذا الصوت سوا يحنا المعمدان والتلاميذ جماعة كانوا هناك وآمنوا بسيدنا المسيح. فقال يحنا وشهد وشهادته محقة بأني نظرت إلى روح القدس وقد نزلت على يسوع من السما وسمعت صوت الأب ما أتناه ولايته. فلما خرج يسوع من الأردن بعد استمامه المعمودية

لحظت ملايكة السما فقبلته على أجنحتها من المعمودية وسجدت له جميعا. ومضا يسوع من الأردن ومعه تلاميذه حتى دخلوا برية بلد أورشليم ومن هناك [...] تلاميذه إلى بلد عمان ومآب ليدعوا الناس إلى الإيمان به وشع مقال يحنا وشهادته على يسوع بن الله وقصد المسيح إلى البرية وقد تفرقوا تلاميذه [...] فأما إبليس الملعون فلما رآه سيدنا علم ما يلتمسه منه فاعتزل الشيطان

إلى جبل كان هناك رفيع نحو السما، ثم صار سيدنا سابقه إلى هناك. وإن إبليس قال لسيدنا المسيح على رأس الجبل: أبصر إلى ساير ممالك العالم فإنها اليوم في قبضي، ومتى ما تسجد لي خوّلتك إياها. فقال له المسيح: مكتوب إنه للرب وحده فاسجد ومن الرب خاف. ورجع المسيح إلى البرية، وكان قضي عليه أن الشيطان سيمتحنه بالجوع، فأجوع نفسه ولم يأكل شيا.

ثم سار إليه الشيطان إلى البرية، قال له: إن كنت ابن الله فقول للحجارة تكون خبز فإني أعلم أنك جايع. فقال له السيد: إنه مكتوب ليس بالخبز وحده يعيش الإنسان. وظنّ أيضا [ساطان] في علم المسيح أنه يريد محنته على هيكل أورشليم، فسبقه المسيح إلى هناك. وصعد الشيطان إلى موضع جناح الهيكل وقال له: إن كنت ابن الله كما شهد عليك يحنا بن زكريا فارمِ بنفسك من

فوق هذا الهيكل إلى أسفل، فإنه مكتوب إن ملايكته يحفظوك حتى لا تعثر بحجر رجلك ويحوطوك في جميع أمورك، يدوس التنين وطا الأسد وتذلّ الثعبان.

فازدرى سيدنا في ذلك الوقت بمجد [؟] وقال له: مكتوب لا تجرّب الرب إلهك. وإنه مكتوب أيضا لنفسك. في ذلك الساعة هرب منه إبليس ونزلت عليه ملايكته وصارت تخدمه. وبعد امتحان الشيطان لسيدنا سار إلى بلد الجليل وأقام هناك نبوة النبي الذي قال: شعب الجليل أمة كانت في الظلمة وصارت في الضيا المُسِرّ. حال العجيبة في تحويل الما شراب. وكان في الضيعة المعروفة بناايين وهي قانا من أرض القاناطنة

عرس لقرابة قانايل. واجتمع إليه أهل العرس وسألوه أن يسأل سيدنا المسيح أن يحضر وليمتهم ويبارك عليها. وكان اسم العريس دكيما بن يوحان. وسار قانايل إلى المسيح وقال له: يا سيدي أنا أسألك أن تصير معي إلى عرس دكيما بن يوحان بن عمي وتبارك في منزله. فأسعفته طلبته وسار معه إلى هناك. فلما دخل العرس وجّه أهل العرس إلى مريم السيدة وإلى يوسف النجار فسألهما الحضور، فحضروا وأقدموا العازر، وقدم لهم الطعام وجلس المسيح على أجلّ مائدة.

وكان هنالك، وأجلس بطرس عن يمينه وأندراوس عن يساره. وكان هناك جماعة من الأحبار ورؤسا الكهنة من اليهود وجماعة تلاميذ المسيح الذي كانوا معه في ذلك الوقت. وفرغوا من الغدى ورفعت الموايد ووضع الشراب، وأخذوا الناس فيه حتى ثمل أكثرهم. وعاز صاحب العرس شرابا لأن شرابه فرغ، وبقي حاير يدخل ويخرج ويبكي من اغتمامه لفراغ شرابه حياء من حضر دعوته.

فأبصرته السيدة وهو حزين فرحمته، وتقدمت إلى سيدنا المسيح وقالت له: صاحب هذا العرس قد عاز الشراب

وهو من أجل ذلك حزين. فقال لها سيدنا المسيح: ما لي ولكِ أيتها المرأة؟ راه قد وجب سؤالك وتنالين ما تلتمسيه. وأراد سيدنا يسوع المسيح حضور يهوذا الذي من سقريوط لأنه لم يكون في ذلك الوقت حاضر. وسيدنا أراد حضوره لينظر هذه العجيبة في الشراب بين يديه ويبصر ذلك فلعلّه أن يقلع حزمه الذي ورثه التلله [؟]. فلما أن حضر قال سيدنا لصاحب العرس: املا الحاجن ما ولا تخلي عندك شي فارغ. فلما ملئت الأوعية قال سيدنا

للخدام: اسقوا الناس شراب من الحاجن. فقدّموا من تلك الحاجن المملوة ما وقدموها للناس كما أمرهم يسوع.

فلما شربوا رؤسا الكهنة من ذلك فإذا هو شراب لم يكن في زمانهم كله مثله. فقالوا للمتولي الشراب: واجب أن يسقون أصدقاهم في أول المجلس أجود الشراب، فإذا أخذ منهم النبيذ جزءا قدّم لهم ما يكون دونه، وأنت فإنك قدمت الشراب الردي بالأول فلما سكرنا قدمت لنا الجيد. وإنهم قالوا يا أخيينش [؟] مزحيث [؟] لم يقفوا على السيد قد حوّل ما شراب لذيذ، فإن الذي وقف على هذه الآية السيدة والتلاميذ دكيما بن بوحان لا غيره ومن تولى الخدمة. فلما شاع هذا الأمر بين الجموع الذي كانت في ذلك المكان أمر لوقته سيدنا يسوع المسيح وصاروا من حوزته.

وقال لتلاميذه قبل دخوله المدينة: إن صديقنا العازر قد مات وفرحت أني لم أحضر موته من أجلكم، فإنكم سترون من البشر ومن ملكوتي إيمانكم. فقال بعضهم لبعض: إن كان العازر قد مات

فإن المعلّم سيقيمه من الموتى، لأنه من تهيأ له يفعل ذلك الآخر [؟] فهو يتهيأ له أن يقيم ميت. وقال أيضا سيدنا لتلاميذه ثانية: اعلموا أن العازر صديقنا قد مات. فقالوا له: يا سيدنا إن كان قد مات فاستسقط [؟]، وأنه إن كان مات فإنه سيقوم من الموتى في الآخر.

وبينما هم في ذلك الكلام إذ وصلوا إلى حيّ العازر، وخرجت مريم ومرته من منزلهما باكيين، فتلقّوا المسيح وقالوا له: قد مات العازر أخونا ولو كنت عندنا ما مات. فقال لهم: أنا القيامة وأنا الحياة، ومن آمن بي لا يموت إلا يحيا أبدا، أتؤمنون بهذا؟ فقالت مريم ومرته: نؤمن بأنك المسيح ابن الله الحي الأزلي فاروق العالم.

وتقدم سيدنا إلى من كان هناك من اليهود وقال لهم: أين وضعتموه؟ انظروا في مكانه وتقدموا إلى ما هناك وأبصروا الحجر الذي جعلتموه على رأس القبر وارجعوا أخبروني بصحة ذلك القول. فتعجبوا اليهود من ذلك ولم يدروا أيّه، وإنما أراد سيدنا بقوله لهم هذا القول ليلا يداخلهم الشك عند قيامة العازر من الموت ويقولون بغلظ قلوبهم إن هذه حيلة وقعت على القبر. فمضوا جماعة إلى مكان القبر فوجدوه على

الحال الذي عاهدوه، ووجد خواتيمه بحاله، ورجعوا خبّروا السيد المسيح بذلك أنهم لم يجدوا فيه شك. فقال لهم سيدنا ثانية: يا غلاظ القلوب، أبحقائكم صحّح استنفضوا من الحجر الذي على قبر العازر ليلا يكون قد وقعت عليكم حيلة. فأعلوا القول عليه أن قد استنفضوا فوجدوا القبر على حاله. فكان سيدنا يخاطبهم ودموعه نازلة على خديه. فقالوا اليهود فيما بينهم: انظروا إلى حزنه على موت العازر، إنه كان محبه جدا.

فتقدم المسيح إلى مكان القبر فصاح في الموت فانهَدّ ركنه، وصاح بالجحيم فأبطل سلطانه، وصاح بصوت عالي عظيم: يا عازر، يا عازر، اخرج من قبرك إليّ ها هنا. فإنه لو كان صاح بالموت أن تخرج إليه من كان في الجحيم لكان فعل ذلك، ولكنه لم يصح إلا بالعازر وحده، وإلا كانوا أقاموا الجميع الموتى.

فلما سمع الشيطان الأركون صوت السيد وشاهد هذه القدرة منته على قبر العازر انهَدّ ركنه وفزع فزعا شديدا، وأبصروا عفاريته وجنده منكسرًا حزينا، وقالوا: يا سيدهم ما الذي نرى بك، وما جرى عليك؟ فقال: صوت سمعته اليوم من بن يوسف النجار. فإنه لما سمعت صوته كنت أنا والموت والجحيم مجتمعين، فرأيت

شكّ في هذا الرجل الذي ولدته مريم البتول، هو الذي يحطني عن مرتبتي ويخرب سلطاني. فقالوا له أصحابه: لا تفزع يا أيها السيد، فإن الذي شاهدته ينقضي بسرعة، فليس ابن مريم أجلّ من حزقيال النبي الذي أقامه الله بالنبوة التي تنبأها على الأموات، سبعين ألف إنسان أقام من الموت. ولا هو أجلّ من إيليا ولا من موسى ولا من اليشع الذي عملوا الآيات العظيمة.

فقال لهم الشيطان: إن أقام هذا الرجل وهذه القدرة التي عاينت منه لا أخدع نفر من أهل العالم حتى يصلبوه على خشبة ويسلمونه إلى الموت، فيكون حظه بعد ذلك إلى الجحيم ونفرح بهلاكه ونخلص من سطوته. وإن قوي سلطانه ومال إليه أمة من الناس وتبعه بعض ملا [؟] أجعلهم يكفرون به وأجعلهم يشكّون بذخيرته، فإذا أهلكته ألقيت بين تلاميذه والشعب الذي له ألقي بينهم بعضهم بعضا، وعزلاؤه، وأجعل بينهم بدلا المحبة وأحذّرهم عن ما أمرهم به من محبته، وأطرح بينهم محاسدة والبغي والمجادلة.

[آ]يتين أذكر فيها في كتبي الأوقات. نرجع خبر العازر. ولما صاح به سيدنا يا العازر اخرج من قبرك إلى هاهنا، خرج من قبره من حيث لم يفسد فيه شيء من الأسباب إلا الأكفان، فإنه كانت عليه مربوط، وكان منذ مات ودفن أربعة أيام. فقال سيدنا لمن كان هناك من الجمع إن من يتقدم فينزع عنه الأكفان والرباطات ويتأمله ويختبره إن كان العازر الذي مات ودفنتموه أم لا؟ فجاء القوم فنزعوا عنه الأكفان عن العازر وكشفوا عن وجهه ونظروا إليه، وكان هنالك من اليهود زايدة عن سبعة آلاف وأربعمائة رجل سوى النساء والصبيان. وكان العازر من أشراف اليهود ورؤساهم. فآمن لكثر ذلك الجمع في سيدنا يسوع المسيح، ولنام سيدنا وتلاميذه في يومهم ذلك وباتوا في منزل العازر وإخوته.

هذه وصية سيدنا المسيح لتلاميذه على جبل الزيتون. وانصرف سيدنا يسوع المسيح من منزل العازر ومعه الاثنا عشر تلميذ، وساروا إلى طور الزيتون الذي أورشليم عن غربيه. وجلس سيدنا عليه وتلاميذه حوله، وقال لهم يا إخوتي احفظوا وصاياي واعلموا أني أريد أن أحفظكم من شر. فاعلموا أن جميعكم أنقياء سوى واحد منكم فإنه شيطان، وكلكم طاهرين ما خلاه. فليحفظ بعضكم بعضا، ولا يكون بينكم انشقاق ولا بغضا، بل يكون المحبة ثابتة فيكم، فإني أعطيكم سلامي وحسن ذكري إياه، وسلامي إنما أخلف عندكم. فلا يخزي عوار [ستر؟] كونوا معي كما أنا معكم، واستعملوا التواضع وكونوا أخيارا، ولا تغتموا أن يبغضكم العالم فإن قبلكم لي بغضوا. واعلموا أنكم لو كنتم من أهل العالم لحبوكم أهله، ولكن ليس أنتم من العالم ولذلك يبغضكم أهله. فيجب عليكم أن تحبوا أنتم

فلما قال سيدنا المسيح هذا القول التفت إلى أورشليم ونظر إليها وأعاد ما يقول له قوله في هذا الكتاب بأنه قال: يا أيتها أورشليم، يا قاتلة الأنبياء وراجمة المرسلين إليها، كم مرة أردت أجمع أولادك كما تجمع الدجاجة فراخها ولم تطيعيني. فإنه لو كان في سدوم وعامور مثل الآيات التي كانت بك لتابوا أهلها ولبسوا المسوح. بل أقول إن أهل نينو المدينة وجبابرتها يقومون يوم المرسلة [؟] مع هذه الأمة المرذولة فيخزنوها، إذ كانوا تابوا واقتلعوا عن خطاياهم لموعظة يونان النبي الذي أقام في بطن الحوت ثلث أيام وثلث ليال.

ثم أومأ إلى أورشليم وقال: يا أورشليم يا قاتلة الأنبياء، اعلمي أن بيوتك تُخرب ولا سيادتك، حجر على حجر، وبعد ذلك فإني أجعلكِ مأوى لحمير الوحش التي ذُكرت حال حرج جام القفر [؟]، فإنها تسكن بك بلبنان يوم أصعدنا، وإن لم تسمعي في ذلك الزمان ومحلي ما أنكره من مريه [؟] جعلتك يا أورشليم بعد ستة أحمر الوحش، كل المدة التي جعلتها [أجعلك] يا أورشليم مأوى للبوم والصدى.

وصار بينهم في ذلك اشتقاق كثير. فعلم سيدنا المسيح ما قالوا بينهم فقال لهم يا إخوتي لا تشكوا فيما قلته لكم فإني ما كشفت لكم سرا من الأمور إلا ما علمت أن عقولكم تطيقه. وإن علموا أن الروح مطمئنة والجسم ضعيف على الآلام، وإن كثير من الأشياء ينبغي أن أقولها لكم

الأجناد وقالوا ليهوذا امض معهم ثم إلى من مول[ع]م في العيد فعد فواحيره لأن كلهم وأحبارهم كانوا قد اجتمعوا على قتله. فلما نازعشينا الفصح دخل سيدنا مع تلاميذه إلى علية صهيون التي أعدوا فيها الفصح واجتمعوا تلاميذه الاثنا عشر حوله وقرّبوا الميدة وعليها الخبز وخروف مشوي وسمك مقلي. فلما بصر يهوذا الإسخريوطي إلى الكرامة التي أكرم بها سيدنا المسيح في تلك العلية حسد حسدا وانطلق مسرعا إلى اليهود وقال لهم ماذا تعطوني حتى أسلم إليكم إيسوع المتسم الطاغي. قالوا له

فأعطوه تلاتين درهما ليتم قول الذي تنبأ على ذلك أن الكريم باع بثلاثين درهما. ولما خرج يهوذا من العلية التي كان المسيح وتلاميذه فيها مجتمعين على مايدة الفصح، تناول سيدنا المسيح من الخبز وخبز وقال خذوا جسدي الذي من أجلكم كسر فخذه وكلوا فإن كل من يأكل منه بأمانة غفرت خطاياه وذنوبه. ثم تناول كأس ملي خمرا وقال اشربوا من هذا الكأس جميعا فإنه دمي الذي يهراق من أجلكم وبه إنما تعطا المغفرة لكل من تناول منه إذ كان هو الوصية الجديدة. ثم قال لسمع هذه حلضنت ما أبقاه من هذه الساعة. ثم قال لتلاميذه اسهروا فقد دنا الوقت الذي أسلم فيه على جميعكم تخلا عني في هذه الليلة ويهرب.

فقال له سمعان الصفا إن خلوك الكل جميعا فليس أنا بتاركك ولا مفارقك. فنظر إليه

المسيح نظرة متعجبا وقال له حقا أقول لك يا سمعان إنك توال أنك تنكرني في هذه الليلة قبله يصيح الديك تلثة دفعات. ثم قال لتلاميذه قوموا بنا نخرج من هذه العلية. فخرجوا جميعهم منها وساروا إلى البستان التي كان ينفردون فيه. فلما جلسوا هناك قال يسوع ثم اقترب منا الذي سلمه. قوموا بنا نصلي واسهروا معي ساعة واحدة. ورفع زرعه على التلاميذ ومد عينه إلى السما وقال يا أبتاه إن لحست أن تجيز عني هذا الكاس فليجوز وإلا فليش مرضاي. ثم إنه رجع إلى تلاميذه فوجدهم نيام لأن أعينهم ثقلت من الأحزان التي دخلت قلوبهم فأيقظهم وقال لهم اسهروا صلوا لئلا تدخلوا في تجربة هذا المحارب. أما استحق منكم أن تسهروا معي ساعة واحدة. ثم قال لهم بعد ساعة ارقدوا الآن واستريحوا. ثم رجع إلى الموضع الذي صلى فيه. وكان يعرق

ذلك الوقت مع مقالتهم هذه إلى ورايهم وسقطوا على وجوههم مما أبصروا من النور التي كان على وجهه. بقولهم يسوع وقال لهم ثانية من تطلبوا ما أوله يسوع الذي

فلما رآهم جذبه من غمده وضرب خادم ريس الكهنة فقطع أذنه. فتناولوا اليهود السيوف أما يرى إليه يرث. قال يسوع يا سمعان رد السيف إلى غمدة فإنه مكتوب من قتل بالسيف فبالسيف يموت. ووضع يده على الأذن المقطوعة فرجعت إلى حالها. ومضوا بالمسيح إلى دار بلاطس الجاير الذي كان في ذلك الوقت بأورشليم. وكان على بابه رجال جبابرة حاملين سورد هايلة. فلما أشرف يسوع من بعيد عليها سجدن له تلك البنود بين يدي حاملوها. فأبصروا اليهود ذلك، قالوا لبلاطس إن رجالك الذين يحملون هذه البنود راهنوا وارشوهم أصحاب يسوع حتى أحنوا البنود من بين يديهم أمام يسوع. فقال لهم بلاطس كم هي البنود التي سجدت لإيسوع. فقالوا له اليهود هي ستة. فقال لهم كم رجل يحملها. قالوا ستة رجال لكل بند.

فقال لهم بلاطس اختاروا لكل بند رجالا من ثقاتكم واجعلوا على كل بند عشرة منكم، حتى إذا فعلتم ذلك أخرجنا يسوع إلى خارج البنود لتكون الحقيقة. فما قدمتم إن الرجال منا. ففعلوا اليهود ما قال لهم بلاطس واختاروا وأمر رجالا لهم بالأمانات ستين ودفعوا إلى كل عشرة بندا. وأمر بلاطس بأخرج يسوع كما هناك. فلما أشرف على البنود سجدت بين يديه. فلما أبصروا اليهود ذلك

محوا عهده سريره وقالوا لم ير أحد ساحر مثل هذا الإنسان. قال لهم من قال معاكم إن أردتم أن اسحوه مخرجة من اليهود فاسحروا أنتم هذا الإنسان واعلموا إن كان كما تقولون. قالوا اليهود ما نقوى على سحره. قال لهم بلاطس أعطوا أقل بند من ذلك إلى خمسة عشر رجلا من الروم لا سترا وسطرا قل يدعوها.
